Dear Colleagues and Guests:

I am pleased to welcome you to the 146th Annual Meeting of the American Psychiatric Association. The theme of this meeting is "Patient Care for the 21st Century: Asserting Professional Values Within Economic Constraints." Health care in the coming century is being debated with renewed vigor and there is an intensified focus on the reform of the health care system.

This year's Annual Meeting, in its enormous diversity and energy, contains many sessions related to the overall theme, highlighted by the Presidential Symposium on "American Health Policy in the 21st Century: Impact on Psychiatric Care," scheduled for Wednesday, May 26, at 2:00 p.m.

Helping plan this meeting has been stimulating and enjoyable. I often wonder how many of us simply take for granted our Annual Meeting, the world's major psychiatric gathering. Rich in scientific and social content, this meeting would not be possible without the efforts of many APA members and staff. I hope you will join me at the Opening Session on Sunday, May 23, from 5:00 p.m.-7:00 p.m., and at the Convocation of Fellows on Monday, May 24, from 8:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Congratulations to the Annual Meeting staff, the Scientific Program and the Local Arrangements Committees for this stupendous conclusion to a complex and exciting year for the APA.

Welcome and Best Wishes,

Jøseph T. English, M.D.

146th Annual Meeting San Francisco, California May 22–27, 1993

PATIENT CARE FOR THE 21ST CENTURY: ASSERTING PROFESSIONAL VALUES WITHIN ECONOMIC CONSTRAINTS

May 22, 1993

Dear APA Members and Guests:

Welcome to San Francisco and the 146th Annual Meeting of the American Psychiatric Association. This exciting city, with its vibrancy, diversity and excitement provides a fitting setting for the presentations we have planned for you this year. As you read through the Program Book, you will notice we have a number of sessions related to the theme, "Patient Care for the 21st Century: Asserting Professional Values Within Economic Constraints," chosen by our President, Dr. Joseph T. English, for this year's Annual Meeting. I would especially draw your attention to the Presidential Forum scheduled for Tuesday at noon and the Presidential Symposium scheduled on Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 p.m.

The Local Arrangements Committee, under the guidance of its Chairperson, Dr. Lawrence Lurie, has developed a wide array of programs that will help you take advantage of San Francisco and the surrounding area. You will notice that a number of activities are designed especially for families and children.

Registration, the Publishers' Bookfair and the APA Resource Center will open at 12 noon on Saturday, May 22. The Opening Session will be held on Sunday evening, May 23, from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. Exhibits will be open until 6:00 p.m., Sunday through Wednesday. Scientific sessions will begin on Monday morning. The Business Meeting will be held on Sunday from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. The Annual Meeting will end at 5:00 p.m., Thursday, May 27.

The Advances in Research Session, entitled "Research Advances in Psychiatry: An Update for the Clinician," will be held on Monday morning from 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. This session highlights the latest research findings in psychiatry and summarizes their relevance to clinical practice. This has become an excellent way to start off the Annual Meeting's research programs, in conjunction with the Young Investigators' Poster Session, on Monday morning. In addition, you will find an expanded number of small group sessions, which include the Discussion Groups and Clinical and Research Consultations with selected experts in the field.

This year, our Round Table Discussion, entitled "Surviving Regulation: A Clinician's Guide," will be held on Tuesday from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. I know that you will not want to miss what has become an exciting tradition at our Annual Meetings. You will also note in the Program Book that we are expanding our noon Forums this year, after last year's successful reinstitution. This format allows us to schedule sessions that may not fit in the usual formats or that may focus on late-breaking topics of importance to the field.

I strongly encourage you to fill out and return the evaluation forms for this meeting. The members of the Scientific Program Committee are interested in the opinions of the members regarding the quality and content of the Annual Meeting, and the information provided is used to plan next year's program. I would also be happy to hear from you individually and would welcome your suggestions.

Once again, welcome to San Francisco. I look forward to sharing a week of exciting and professionally rewarding activities with you.

Sincerely,

The M Clochan my John M. Oldham, M.D.

Chairperson

Scientific Program Committee

EXHIBITS

Commercial and educational exhibits are located in Exhibit Halls B/C, Exhibit Level, Moscone Center, along with the Publishers' Bookfair and the APA Resource Center. As a convenience to registrants, the Publishers' Bookfair will open on Saturday, May 22, at 12 noon. Hours for commercial and educational exhibits are Sunday, May 23, 12 noon-6:00 p.m. and Monday, May 24, through Wednesday, May 26, 10:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m. All exhibits will close on Wednesday, May 26, at 6:00 p.m. Please refer to the APA Exhibits Guide for additional information on participating companies.

INFORMATION/LOCATOR CENTER

Located in the South Lobby, Moscone Center and staffed during registration hours. Meeting participants can obtain up-to-date general information about the program, component meetings, the local area, and the locations of various activities and events. Meeting participants also can find out where colleagues and friends who are registered for the meeting are staying.

MESSAGE CENTER

Located in the South Lobby, Moscone Center and staffed during registration hours. Messages can be left and picked up at the Message Center. Message monitors will be strategically located in the Exhibit Hall and elsewhere at the Moscone Center. Registrants whose names appear on these monitors have a message that can be picked up at the Message Center.

APA RESOURCE CENTER

Located in Exhibit Halls B/C, Exhibit Level, Moscone Center. Hours of operation: Saturday, May 22, 12 noon-6:00 p.m.; and Sunday, May 23, through Wednesday, May 26, 7:30 a.m.-6:00 p.m. See the back cover of this book for further information on the APA Resource Center.

APA PLACEMENT CENTER

The On-Site Job Bank and Psychiatric Placement Service are located in the APA Resource Center. The On-Site Job Bank contains up-to-date listings of hundreds of job openings available to psychiatrists throughout the country, as well as profiles of psychiatrists seeking new positions. The Job Bank is available to all mental health professionals and employers. Job Bank listings are accepted on-site. Employers needing to recruit psychiatrists are encouraged to visit the Psychiatric Placement Service (PPS) booth. The PPS, a professional resource of the APA, offers employers a service dedicated solely to psychiatric physician recruitment. Psychiatrists seeking new career opportunities are also encouraged to visit the PPS booth to discuss the variety of opportunities available.

PRESS ROOM

Located in Rooms 236/238, East Mezzanine, Moscone Center. Hours of operation: Saturday, May 22, 12 noon-5:00 p.m.; Sunday, May 23, 9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.; Monday, May 24, through Wednesday, May 26, 8:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m.; and Thursday, May 27, 8:00 a.m.-2:30 p.m. This room is for the use of registered press only. All Annual Meeting sessions are open to the press except CME Courses, the Business Meeting, and Clinical and Continuous Clinical Case Conferences.

DAILY BULLETIN/NEWSLINE

Located in Room 214, East Mezzanine, Moscone Center. Hours of operation: Friday, May 21, through Wednesday, May 26, 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Contact Mark Baechtel there about Daily Bulletin matters. Messages for Lynn Schultz-Writsel regarding APA Newsline may also be dropped off in Room 214.

GUIDE TO THE PROGRAM BOOK

Below, you will find the table of contents for ease in locating information about this meeting. A topic index is included to assist you with finding sessions of interest. The individual program for each day's sessions is listed by start time with the formats listed alphabetically under those times. NOTE: To make it easier for you to plan your day, we have prepared a separate "Days-at-a-Glance," which is no longer in the Program Book, but is now included as a separate brochure that you will find in your registration packet. Each format is listed alphabetically by day.

If you have any questions about this book or the scientific sessions, please feel free to stop by the Scientific Program Office in the Moscone Center, and we will be glad to help you. Also, all central office APA staff members will be wearing green ribbons on their badges. Please feel free to direct your questions to them.

APA ARTS ASSOCIATION

Located in the APA Resource Center and staffed during the Resource Center's hours. The exhibit includes paintings, photography, ceramics and crafts done by APA members and/or their spouses. Winners of the poster contest for children of APA members will also be exhibited. Please stop by the exhibit for information on joining the APA Arts Association.

APA AUXILIARY BOOTH

Located in the South Lobby, Moscone Center. Hours of operation: Saturday, May 22, through Wednesday, May 26, 9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. Stop by the booth to obtain information on the Auxiliary's program schedule and information on membership in the APA Auxiliary.

APA PERIODICALS

The American Journal of Psychiatry and Hospital and Community Psychiatry will be located in the APA Periodicals Exhibit in the APA Resource Center. Hours of operation: Saturday, May 22, 12 noon-6:00 p.m.; and Sunday, May 23, through Wednesday, May 26, 7:30 a.m.-6:00 p.m. Staff of both journals will be available to answer authors' questions and to receive papers submitted for publication. Each journal publishes only original material not published elsewhere in any form and not being considered for publication elsewhere. Five copies are required.

Psychiatric News will not have an office at the meeting. Persons who wish to contact editors or reporters should inquire at the APA Staff Office, located in Room 206, Moscone Center, where an editor can be paged. They may also leave written announcements, suggestions for articles, or letters to the editor for the newspaper's consideration.

CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION CREDIT

The American Psychiatric Association is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians. The APA designates this continuing medical education activity for up to 66 credit hours in Category I of the Physician's Recognition Award of the American Medical Association and for the CME requirement of the APA.

The content of CME is that body of knowledge and skills generally recognized and accepted by the profession as within the basic medical sciences, the discipline of clinical medicine, and the provision of health care to the public. Sessions not meeting the definition of CME are not eligible for CME credit.

The scientific sessions of the official Annual Meeting program, with some exceptions, meet the criteria for Category I CME credit. Sessions in the following program formats are designated as Category I: Advances in Research, Clinical Case and Continuous Clinical Case Conferences, CME Courses, Debate, Films, Forums, Industry Sponsored Symposia, Lectures, Medical Updates, New Research Oral/Slide Sessions, Paper Sessions, Presidential Symposium, Review of Psychiatry, Round Table Discussion, Symposia, Videotapes, and Workshops. Other sessions are designated as Category II; these include Clinical and Research Consultations With, Discussion Groups, New Research Poster Sessions, Public Forum, Video Production Clinics, and some Films, Videotapes, Lectures, and Workshops.

To document CME credit earned at the Annual Meeting, participants should record the sessions attended on the back page of the Certificate of Attendance found in the front of the 1993 Annual Meeting CME Syllabus & Proceedings Summary Book. Credit is earned on an hour-for-hour basis. Please note: APA members are required to maintain their own record of CME hours throughout the three-year reporting cycle. Reporting of CME credit is on an honor basis. APA members should report their CME activities once they have accumulated 150 hours (with a minimum of 60 hours in Category I) in a three-year reporting period. CME report forms may be obtained from the Office of Education at the APA. The Certificate of Attendance (or copy) may be forwarded to other organizations requiring verification of participation in the APA Annual Meeting. Staff will be available in the Office of Education booth at the APA Resource Center to answer any of your questions about CME.

ANNUAL MEETING EVALUATION

The Annual Meeting Scientific Program Committee needs your recommendations and evaluations to plan next year's Annual Meeting. A participant evaluation form was included in your registration packet. BEFORE YOU LEAVE THE MEETING, PLEASE COMPLETE YOUR FORM AND DROP IT IN ONE OF THE EVALUATION BOXES LOCATED THROUGHOUT THE MEETING SITES. You can receive a certificate of attendance at the Annual Meeting by returning a completed form to the APA Staff or Scientific Program Offices, the Information/Locator Center or the APA Resource Center, all located in the Moscone Center.

TAPE RECORDING POLICY

Audiotape recording is only permitted for personal use. Registrants are welcome to use their own small, portable audiotape recorders to record any session except the Clinical Case Conferences and the Continuous Clinical Case Conferences, or unless prohibited by the presenters. Larger professional tape recorders, however, are not permitted other than those carried by personnel representing the professional taping firm authorized by APA to audiotape sessions. The badges of personnel representing this firm will clearly identify them. Registrants are not permitted to videotape any session because the intrusive nature of the recording may disrupt the session.

SMOKING POLICY

There will be NO SMOKING in scientific sessions or in the exhibit hall. Smoking will be permitted only in designated areas throughout the meeting sites.

CHILD CARE SERVICE

For the convenience of meeting registrants and their families, the APA, with assistance from the Local Arrangements Committee, has made arrangements for child care during the meeting. The service, operated by AmeriKids, will be located in the Marriott. Hours of operation: Saturday, May 22, 11:00 a.m.-11:00 p.m.; Sunday, May 23, through Tuesday, May 25, 8:00 a.m.-11:00 p.m.; and Wednesday, May 26, through Thursday, May 27, 8:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m. The cost for each child, 3 weeks to 5 years of age, is $7.00 per hour; and for each child, 5 to 16 years of age, $6.00 per hour. A 50% discount will be allowed for additional children of the same family.

AMERICAN PSYCHIATRIC ASSOCIATION CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION POLICY ON FULL DISCLOSURE

The American Psychiatric Association requires disclosure of the existence of any significant financial interest or other relationship a presenter has with the manufacture(s) of any commercial product(s) discussed in an educational presentation. The existence of such relationships does not necessarily constitute a conflict of interest, but the prospective audience must be informed of the presenter's affiliation with a commercial sponsor by way of an acknowledgement in this printed Program Book. This policy is intended to openly identify any potential conflict so that the audience in an educational activity is able to form their own judgements about the presentation.

The following presenters on this year's scientific program have indicated a significant financial relationship with the manufacturer(s) of a commercial product(s). The presenter's name, the manufacturer's name, and the page number(s) the presenter appears on in this Program Book are listed below:

GUIDE TO USING THE TOPIC INDIX

Use this index to find sessions of interest to you. There are three overall topics Disorders, Practice and Subspecialty Areas, and Treatments. Under each overall topic, you will find subtopics listed in alphabetical order with the formats (type of session) listed alphabetically underneath. Within each format you will find the title of the individual session listed by number. The listing will show the day the session is on and the time it starts. You should refer to the day and start time in this Program Book to obtain further details about the session.

Psychiatry at Risk: Prevention of Boundary Violations and Other Treatment Vulnerabilities

Chp.: W. Walter Menninger, M.D. Co-Chp.: Irwin N. Perr, M.D.

In their joint presentations, Robert I. Simon, M.D., and Robert L. Sadoff, M.D., will discuss how forensic psychiatry enhances general psychiatric practice by analyzing boundary violations in cases of therapist-patient sex and claritying psychiatrists' vulnerability to malpractice litigation. Dr. Simon will use a composite clinical vignette to illustrate ethical and clinical principles underlying boundary violations in cases of therapist-patient sex. He will critically examine specific boundary variables such as therapist neutrality, confidentiality, informed consent, fee policy, and time and length of sessions. Dr. Sadoff will discuss clinical situations in which the practicing psychiatrist may be at legal risk, including cases involving competency of the patient, involuntary commitment, treatment of children or adolescents who do not wish their parents to be involved, treatment of patients who have accused former therapists of sexual abuse, cases involving duty to warn, and discharge of a potentially violent or self-destructive patient from the hospital. Dr. Simon is Director of the Program in Psychiatry and Law at Georgetown University School, of Medicine in Washington, D.C., and Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Maryland, Lie is also in full-time private practice in Bethesda, serves as a clinical consultant to Georgetown University Law Center in Washington, D.C., and serves on the Advisory Board of the Federal Bureau of Investigation National Center for the Analysis of Violent Crime Dr. Simon is the author of numerous articles and several books, including Clinical Psychiatry and the Law and Psychiatric Malpractice: Cases and Comments for Clinicians, co-authored with Dr. Sadolf, He is a consulting editor to Psychiatric Annals, associate editor of Bulletin of the American Academy of Psychiatry and the Law, and editor of the American Psychiatric Press series, Review of Clinical Psychiatry and the Law. Dr. Simon is a member and former chair of the Committee on Private Practice of the American Academy of Psychiatry and the law He graduated from Tufts University School of Medicine in Boston and completed his residency in psychiatry at Jackson Memorial Hospital and the University of Miami School of Medicine in Florida. Dr. Sadoff is Clinical Professor of Psychiatry and Director of the Center for Studies in Social-Legal Psychiatry at the University of Pennsylvania In Philadelphia, A pioneer in the development of organized forensic psychiatry in the United States, Dr. Sadoff is a founder and Past President (1971-73) of the American Academy of Psychiatry and the Law and an initiating member and Past President of the American Board of Forensic Psychiatry. He is the author of more than 85 articles, 25 book chapters and six books, including Forensic Psychiatry: A Practical Guide for Lawyers and Psychiatrists, now in its second edition. A former chairperson of APA's Manfred 5. Guttmacher Award Board, Dr. Sadoff is listed in Best Doctors in America, He received his medical degree from the University of Minnesota School of Medicine and completed his psychiatric training at the University of California at Los Angeles ERICA (AS CONTAINE A DOICHAPED)

F1 The Prince of Tides

(131 minutes) 1991

Director:

Barbra Streisand

Distributor: Films Incorporated

5547 North Ravenswood Avenue

Chicago, IL 60640-4222

During the past few years, a rash of films have featured psychotherapists of various persuasions. The current wave of "shrink" movies is but the latest of a subgenre which has been surfacing periodically since the silent era. Dr. Greenberg's presentation analyzes the Hollywood therapist's questionable persona, specifically zooming in on three big shrink hits of 1991 which re-invent every benevolent or evil Tinseltown misperception of our profession: Silence of the Lambs, What About Bob?, and arguably the most controversial, The Prince of Tides. The first two films will be shown as a series of clips, the last shown in its entirety. The Prince of Tides, directed by Barbra Streisand and adapted by Pat Conroy from his own novel, traces the history of an extravagantly dysfunctional South Carolina family through the eyes of Tom Wingo (Nick Nolte), a failed teacher and football coach, as told to Dr. Susan Lowenstein (Barbra Streisand), the Manhattan psychiatrist of Tom's twin sister, Savannah. A major poetess in the Sylvia Plath mode, Savannah has been hospitalized, catatonic, after her latest suicide attempt. Tom quits his floundering marriage and journeys to New York. Under the guise of helping Savannah's therapy with the anamnesis she is unable to provide, Tom undertakes the mending of his own mid-life crisis in the consulting room and eventually the bedroom of the elegant Lowenstein, herself a wounded healer unhappily wed to a despicable virtuoso.

INDUSTRY SPONSORED SYMPOSIUM IS14 Sunday, May 23, 7:30 p.m.-10:30 p.m. Buena Vista/Sea Cliff Rooms, Level 3B, Marriott

Management of the Difficult Depressed Patient

This symposium considers diagnosis and treatment of those depressed patients who pose problems for clinical management, as well as the usefulness of various classes of pharmacologic agents in these patient populations. Practical approaches to the management of the depressed patient with co-morbid panic or other anxiety disorders will be discussed, and clinical strategies are presented for the management of the adolescent and the elderly depressed patient. Guidelines will be provided for length of treatment in the patient with recurrent major depression.

Understanding Alzheimer's Disease in the Era of Molecular Biology

Chp.: Jeffrey L. Cummings, M.D. Co-Chp.: Hilary Blumberg, M.D.

Progressive brain dysfunction in Alzheimer's Disease is accompanied by formation of intraneuronal and extra-cellular protein filaments. These amyloid fibrils accumulate in walls of blood vessels and in spherical deposits called senile plaques. The protein subunit of the fibrils is amyloid 8-protein (AB), Largely nonfibrillar deposits of AB (so-called diffuse or preamyloid plaques) precede the development of fibrillary amyloid and other pathological changes in Alzheimer's Disease. As is a 40.43 amino acid fragment of the 6-amyloid procursor protein (BAPP) whose gene on chromosome 21 encodes a membrane-spanning protein that contains As near its carboxyl terminus. The clearest evidence that processing of BAPP into A8 fragments can actually eause Alzheimer's Disease has come from identifying DNA mutations in the GAPP geng of members of families affected by the disease. Dennis J. Selkoe, M.D., will describe his discovery of direct evidence that 8APP is normally reinternalized from the cell surface and targeted to lysosomes, where Att-bearing fragments are generated. A& plaques arise during normal aging, and Dr. Selkoe has shown that AR is continuously produced as a soluble peptide and released into the media of normal cultured cells. Moreover, All has been detected in cerebrospinal fluid and blood. Dr. Selkoe will discuss therapeutic approaches that might result from deciphering RAPP processing and AR formation. Dr. Selkoe is Professor of Neurology and Neuroscience at Harvard Medical School, where he has been on the faculty since 1973. In 1978, he founded an independent research laboratory dedicated to investigating Alzheimer's Disease and related basic neurobiological questions. Since 1982, when Dr. Selkne and colleagues isolated the abnormal neurofibrillary tangles that are a hallmark of Alzheimer's Disease, they have continued to probe deeper into the nature of B-amyloid plaques. These plaques, now believed to be one of the earliest changes occurring in Alzheimer's Disease and Down's Syndrome, are felt to be crucial to understanding the disease. Among other honors, Dr. Selkoe has received the Metropolitan Life Foundation Award for Medical Research, the Potamkin Prize from the American Academy of Neurology and the Leadership and Excellence in Alzheimer's Disease (LEAD) Award from the National Institutes of Health. He and Howard L. Weiner, M.D., co-direct the Center for Neurologic Diseases at Brigham and Women's Hospital and Harvard Medical School: Dr. Selkoe serves on the Editorial Boards of Neuron, Neurodegeneration, Alzheimer's Disease and Neurobiology of Aging. He received his medical degree from the University of Virginia School of Medicine and completed his residency in neurology at the Harvard/Longwood Neurology Program. Cesula Bellugi, Ph.D.

Language, Spallal Cognition and Neuronal Plasticity

Chp.: Andrew E. Skodol, M.D. Co-Chp.: Stewart L. Adelson, M.D.

Until recently, nearly all that was known about language had come from the study of spoken languages. Ursula Bellugi, Ed.D., will describe recent research on linguistic organization in signed languages which considerably broadens the perspective on the neural foundations of language and spatial cognition. Analysis of the breakdown of signed language in deaf signing individuals with left or right focal lesions of the brain suggests that although lexicon and grammar are spatially organized in sign language, and the right hemisphere is dominant in spatial cognition, the left hemisphere is dominant for sign language, as for spoken language. This capacity for brain systems to subserve language, whether spoken or signed, is a striking demonstration of neuronal plasticity. Dr. Bellugi also will describe her recent research involving children with Williams Syndrome, a genetic neurodevelopmental disorder in which linguistic abilities are selectively preserved in the setting of severe cognitive impairment. Neuroanatomic and neurophysiologic studies have uncovered distinctive patterns of brain organization associated with this neurocognitive profile. Dr. Bellugi is Professor and Director of the Laboratory for Cognitive Neuroscience at the Salk Institute for Biological Studies in La Jolla, California, and Adjunct Professor in Psychology at the University of California, San Diego. Her pioneering research on the links between cognitive functions and brain organization has been recognized by awards, including the Distinguished Scientific Contribution Award from the American Psychological Association, the IPSEN Prize in Neuronal Plasticity, and the Javits Neuroscience Investigator Award, affiliated with the National Institutes of Health. She is the author of more than 100 papers and several books, including The Signs of Language, which received an award for Most Outstanding Book in the Behavioral Sciences from the Association of American Publishers. An Elected Associate of the Neurosciences Research Program at Rockefeller University, Dr. Bellugl is a Pellow of the American Psychological Association and the American Psychological Society, and a member of the Advisory Council of the National Institute on Deafness and Communication Disorders, She also sits on the Editorial Boards of several journals, including Journal of Applied Linguistics and International Journal of Human Communication. Dr. Bellugi received her doctorate from Harvard University.

FILM SESSION 2 9:00 a.m.-12 noon Imperial Ballroom A, Ballroom Level, Hilton

COPYCAT SUICIDE

Chp.: David W. Preven, M.D.

F2 Dream Deceivers (60 minutes) 1991

Director: David Van Taylor Distributor: First Run Features

153 Waverly Place, 6th Floor

New York, NY 10014

Dream Deceivers and The Red Bridge demonstrate the powerful influence of imitation on suicide. Dream Deceivers documents a lawsuit in which two sets of parents accuse a singing group, Judas Priest, of causing their son's suicide by "a message played backwards and subliminally" on the group's tape. The film reveals how the media and the public often attribute suicide to trivial causes. Produced and directed by David Van Taylor, this 60-minute color film has won acclaim from many film critics.

F3 The Red Bridge

(21 minutes) 1992

Director: Genevieve Mersch Distributor: First Run Features

153 Waverly Place, 6th Floor

New York, NY 10014

The Red Bridge, directed by Genevieve Mersch, takes an utterly calm view of an equally bleak situation, that of a village whose citizens must habitually look upward to make sure no one is jumping off the bridge overhead. A road sign, picturing a bridge and a falling person, attests to the seriousness of the problem. But the residents, seen at communal dances and flanked by dishes and doll collections, have learned to speak matter-of-factly about the unspeakable things they see. "I saw one who fell like a ball," says a child. "Even if they look all right," says an older resident, "inside there is always something broken."

Discussants: David W. Preven, M.D., David Shaffer, M.D.

EDUCATING THE PUBLIC ABOUT PSYCHIATRY

Chp.: Kenneth Paul Rosenberg, M.D.

V4 The World of Abnormal Psychology (Excerpts) (90 minutes)

Producer: Christopher Lukas

Distributor: The Annenberg CPB Collection

P.O. Box 2345

South Burlington, VT 05407

This session will look at five segments from The World of Abnormal Psychology, a 13-hour television series now running on PBS stations. The series is designed as a college-level telecourse. Dr. Carl Eisdorfer, Chairman of the Department of Psychiatry at the University of Miami, and senior producer, Christopher Lukas will discuss the creation of the series and its utilization as a teaching tool. Segment one presents part of an interview with a severely depressed Hispanic woman who has recently given birth to a baby and is hearing voices commanding her to kill it. Segment two shows an interview with a bipolar patient who reports on a 100 mph ride down a highway in his automobile and his belief that he was "the second coming of Christ." Dr. Jan Fawcett, of the Rush-Presbyterian Medical Center in Chicago, discusses the case. Segment three, at Bridgewater State Prison in Massachusetts, shows interviews with two murderers, with comments from psychiatrist James Gilligan and psychologist Wesley Profitt. In segment four, a variety of autistic children are seen, including a comparative study of two, two-year-olds. Comments are made by Dr. Ann Donnellen, of the University of Wisconsin. In segment five, a multidisciplinary team at Duke University Hospital talk about the progress and nature of Alzheimer's Disease and its effect on family members.

Loss, Mourning and Recovery in the Life and Art of Edvard Munch

Chp.: Milton Viederman, M.D. Co-Chp.: Deborah B. Dickstein, M.D.

The Norwegian artist lidvard Munch was one of the great Expressionist painters of the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Several psychoanalysts have written about the impact of early, traumatic losses on Munch's life and art. His mother digd when he was five, and his sister when he was 14, both of hemorrhagic tuberculosis. His masterpoices of the 1890s and early 1900s reflect his terment over these losses, which was also manifested in his increasingly disturbed relationships with women and his progressive abuse of alcohol. However, after a psychotic breakdown in 1908 and an eight-month hospitalization under the care of Dr. Daniel Jacobsen, Munch experienced a dramatic shift in his life and art. He became celibate and abstained from alcohol. He moved away from "individual man's sorrow seen at close quarters" to focus instead on "the great eternal powers" in this lecture, Richard C. Simons, M.D., will discuss the issues of loss, mourning and recovery in these two phases of Munch's life and art. Dr. Simons is Professor of Psychiatry at the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center. He is a past Director of the Denver Institute for Psychoanalysis and Past President of the American Psychoanalytic Association (1986-88), He was co-editor (with Herbert Pardes, M.D.) of the first two editions of Understanding Human Behavior in Health and Illness and editor of the third edition. The APA recognized Dr. Simons' contributions to undergraduate and postgraduate medical education in 1985 with the Seymour D. Vestermark Award, and in 1992 with the Nancy C.A. Roeske Certificate of Recognition. He has written numerous articles and has spoken widely on medical student education, psychoanalysis, incest and its adult sequelae, and the relationship of loss to creativity. Dr. Simons received his medical degree from Northwestern University Medical School in Chicago, He completed his psychiatric residency at the Meminger School of Psychiatry and his psychoanalytic training at the Downstate Medical Center in Brocklyn, New York,

Why Health Care Administratura Should Be Physicians

Chp.: Michael J. Vergare, M.D. Co-Chp.: Gerald H. Flamm, M.D.

Half a century ago, almost all hospital administrators were physicians. Today only a small number of hospital directors have medical degrees; although some of the nation's most prestigious teaching hospitals are directed by physicians, they constitute a minority. Health care administration is now dominated by professional managers with master's degrees in hospital or public administration. These professionals do not consider a medical background necessary to manage hospitals or other health care facilities. In psychiatry, this trend is especially noticeable because many states have enacted legislation opening the position of Commissioner of Mental Health or Mental Flospital Superintendent to other professions, including professional managers: Professional managers are more familiar with the concept of cost containment than with quality of care. In this lecture, Donald G. Langsley, M.D., will review the importance of a medical background to the health care administrator. His observations derive from a survey of hospital and health care facility directors who are physicians, Dr. Langsley is Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Northwestern University Medical School and Chief of the Psychiatry Service at Lakeside VA Medical Center, From 1981-91, he was Executive Vice President of the American Board of Medical Specialties, the parent organization of all 24 medical specialty loards. Dr. Langsley is Past President of the American Psychiatric Association (1980-81), and also served as Director of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology Under President Carter, he sat on the Mental Health Manpower Task Panel of the President's Commission on Mental Health, Dr. Languley has received the APA's Hofheimer Award for Outstanding Research in Psychiatry and a Special Award for Contributions to Certification from the American Board of Medical Specialties. He has written or edited 13 books and has published almost 200 papers and book chapters on such topics as family crisis therapy and aspects of medical specialty certification and recertification. He received his medical degree at the University of Rochester in New York and completed his residency in psychiatry at the Langley Porter Clinic and University of California at San Francisco, He completed psychoanalytic training at the San Francisco and Chicago Institutes for Psychologis,

(104 minutes) 1988

Director:

George Sluizer Distributor: Tara Releasing

124 Belvedere

San Rafael, CA 94901

The Vanishing is a movie about second chances, love stronger than death, and the power of ideas: the ideas that motivate its villain and the love that dominates his targets. At the end, it powerfully demonstrates how rationality divorced from compassion can spawn evil of the cruelest sort. The face of Lemorne, a mild-mannered experimenter obsessed with crossing the barriers of human conduct, and the appalling, horrific climax of The Vanishing will haunt your mind long after this film is over. A real nail biter.

Color Adjustment is an extraordinary documentary that traces 40 years of race relations in prime-time television, scrutinizing racial stereotypes. Narrated by Ruby Dee, this documentary revisits popular shows including Amos 'n' Andy, The Nat King Cole Show, I Spy, Julia, Good Times, Roots, Frank's Place, and The Cosby Show. The narrator tells us how African-Americans were allowed into prime time only if their presence did not challenge the mythology of "the American Dream." Clips are interwoven with the parallel story of the Civil Rights movement. Esther Rolle, Dianne Carroll, Tim Reid and other performers discuss the meaning and impact of the roles they played. The documentary features cultural critics such as Henry Louis Gates, Jr., Herman Gray, Pat Turner, and psychiatrist Alvin Poussaint.

Producer: Pauline Duffy

Distributor: Filmakers Library

124 East 40th Street New York, NY 10016

In our health conscious age, regular exercise is considered a key component to physical fitness. Yet there are many people who exercise in excess. Their craving for the high that exercise brings is so great that it rules their lives, interferes with work and relationships, and ultimately causes bodily harm. In Body Addicts, we hear that addiction to exercise can be as strong as addiction to drugs or alcohol.

Genes, Synapses and Declarative Forms of Memory

Chp.: John M. Oldham, M.D., on Neuroscience and the Decade of the Brain Co-Chps.: Larry Hoffheimer, on the National Foundation for Brain Research and the Decade of the Brain, Frederick K. Goodwin, M.D., on NIMH During the Decade of the Brain.

Clinical studies of humans and experimental studies involving animals indicate that the hippocampus is essential for the transfer of certain types of memory from short-term to long-term storage. These studies suggest that synaptic connections in the hippocampus can change their strength in response to altered patterns of activity. Eric R. Kandel, M.D., will describe the molecular mechanisms for activity dependent changes in the hippocampus and discuss how synaptic mechanisms contribute to memory storage. Dr. Kandel is University Professor at the Center for Neurobiology and Behavior at the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University in New York City and a Senior Investigator at the Howard Hughes Medical Institute at Columbia University For the past two decades he has worked on elucidating cellular and molecular mechanisms of behavior and learning, in particular, basic processes of habituation, sensitization and classical conditioning. He found that learning produces changes in behavior by modulating the strength of specific neural connections rather than by altering basic neural circuits. Dr. Kandel has found that short-term memory depends on covalent modifications of preexisting proteins, whereas long-term memory demands synthesis of proteins and mRNA not required for short-term memory. His publications include more than 200 articles and several books, including Cellular Basis of Behavior

ii aniinued on next pagri and A Cell-Biological Approach to Learning. He is coeditor of the award-winning textbook Principles of Neural Science, now in its third edition. Dr. Kandel has received the lean-Louis Signoret Prize on Memory from the Poundation losen in Paris, was awarded the National Medal of Science by President Reagan, and has garnered several awards from the American Psychiatric Association including a Special Presidential Commendation. He is a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and a member of the National Academy of Science and the National Institute of Medicine. Dr. Kandel received his medical degree from the New York University School of Medicine and completed his residency in psychiatry at the Massachusetts Mental Health Cener in Breton strip, examines the role cartoonists play in commenting on

Funny Ladies reveals lively and intimate portraits of the cartoonists behind America's best-loved comic strips by women: Brenda Starr, Cathy, and Sylvia and Ernie Pook's Comeek. This film examines the process of creating a comic society, and celebrates the contributions of women to cartoon art since the turn of the century.

F6 Wisecracks

(90 minutes) 1991

Director: Gail Singer

Distributor: New Yorker Films 16 West 61st Street New York, NY 10023

Radical femmes wisecracking about feminine napkins, premature ejaculation, married men, PMS, raging hormones and the "fat century?" Wisecracks sounds dicey and potentially vicious, but this comedy documentary featuring America's top stand-up female comediennes is downright hilarious. At its Cannes premiere, the audience was in stitches watching the boldest, funniest women transform taboo subjects into socially poignant material. Wisecracks isn't a one-issue documentary, and it doesn't adhere to a single point of view. Jenny Lecoat implicitly criticizes those women who hide behind personae, while Deborah Theaker, performing in the guise of a strangled-voiced basket case, brings down the house when she does a bit about Emily Bronte on a visit to the doctor. The director has a sure sense of balance, she knows that what sounds portentous in theory can be hilarious in practice. If Robin Tyler tends to be messianic when she talks to the interviewer, she's a hoot when she talks dirty to a plant. Wisecracks succeeds as investigation because it also succeeds as entertainment.

In the first portion of this videotape, a patient describes erotic feelings as they emerged in her previous attempt at obtaining psychotherapy. The audience will note how closely her response corresponds to Freud's clinical description in "Observations on Transference Love." Unfortunately, her feelings were exploited by the previous therapist with whom she became involved in a sexual relationship. A six-month follow-up visit reveals how certain previously unexpressed feelings within the therapy were processed.

This program, organized into six segments, is based on a series of candid interviews with four cancer patients, their families, friends and medical professionals. individuals share their own feelings and experiences to give the viewer a first-hand sense of what dealing with cancer is like. A variety of coping styles, each emerging from differing personality structures and family dynamics, are observed. This videotape was produced as an educational service by Cerenex Pharmaceuticals, a Division of Glaxo Inc., in cooperation with The American Cancer Society.

Discussants: Diane Dreher, M.A., Steve Baum

Mary Elizabeth "Tipper" Gore

Mrs. Tipper Gore is the wife of Vice President Al Gore. She is a well-known child advocate and has a long standing commitment to alleviating the plight of the homeless and removing the stigma associated with mental illness. Mrs. Gore currently serves as a mental health advisor to the President's task force on national health care reform. She advises the task force on how mental health can be incorporated into fundamental reforms in the nation's health care system. She is committed to assisting the task force develop a system which can include quality and affordable mental health care. Mrs. Core serves as Chair of Tennessee Voices for Children, a coalition to promote the development of services for children and youth with serious behavioral, emotional, substance abuse or other mental health problems. She also is Co Chair of the Child Mental Health Interest Group, a non-partisan group of spouses of current and former members of Congress and the Administration established by the National Mental Health Association (NMHA). The group's objective is to increase support for children with mental and emotional disorders and their families. Last year, the National Mental Health Association presented Mrs. Core with its first Remember the Children Award for her years of work on behalf of America's children.

Professor David Rosand

A Generation Drawing by Leonardo da Vinci

Chp.: John C. Markowitz, M.D. Co-Chp.: Karen A. Abrams, M.D.

A single large folio filled with drawings (Windsor Castle 12276) is one of the rare sheets by Leonardo da Vinci to survive in full format, uncut and unedited. Its recto is dominated by a rough study for a Madonna and nursing child with an approaching figure of the infant John the Baptist, Filling the margins of this side and the entire verso are elegantly delineated heads in profile; although mostly human, they also include lions and a dragon. In the sheer density and rich range of its motifs. Windsor 12276 offers a revealing document of the young Leonardo. David Rosand, Ph.D., will discuss the dialectics of the sheet, elucidating its motivic and thematic network--Madonna and Child, youth and age, beauty and agliness, scranity and violenceelements that prefigure Leonardo's subsequent creative achievement. Beyond attesting to his powers as a draftsman, Windsor 12276 records the mechanism of Leonardo's imagination. Professor Rosand will draw attention to the phenomenology of the drawing in hopes of opening new perspectives on the dynamics of Leonardo's creativity. David Rosand is Professor of Art History and Chairman of the Department of Art History and Archaeology at Columbia University, where he has been on the faculty since 1964. His research has focused on the art of the Italian Renaissance, especially in Venice, and the history and criticism of the graphic arts. Among his books are Titim and the

Venetian Woodcut (1976) (with Michelangelo Muraro); The Meaning of the Mark: Leonardo and Titian (1988); and Places of Delight: The Pastoral Landscape (1988) (with Robert Cafritz and Lawrence Cowing). He is currently completing a book on the phenomenology of drawing, On Drawing: Critical and Historical Studies, and working on another, Than's Venus Professor Rosand has received fellowships from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the John S. Gene Transfer in the Central Nervous System

Chp.: Robert M. Post, M.D.

Co-Chp.: Richard A. Friedman, M.D.

Ongoing developments in molecular biology have made possible the efficient transfer of genetic material to the manuralian nervous system. Fred H. Gage, Ph.D., will discuss use of gene transfer technology to investigate mechanisms of brain function and to develop new strategies of therapy and repair of the nervous system. Therapeutic strategies include replacement or augmentation of neurotransmitter systems, delivery of neurotropic factors, and reconstruction of damaged neuronal circuits. Genetic material can be transferred through direct injection of DNA or RNA, delivery of DNA in a carrier system such as a disabled virus, or transplantation of cells genetically modified as one intracepebral grafting has emerged independently as a useful experimental. and potentially therapeutic technique. Combining techniques intracerebral grafting with genetically modified cells may offer new answers to neurobiological research questions and restore function to the damaged or diseased central nervous system. Dr. Gaze is Professor of Neurosciences and Director of the Graduate Program in Neuroscience at the University of California, San Diego, in La Jolla, He has received numerous awards for his ploneeting work in neurobiology, including the Bristol-Myers Squibb Neuroscience Research Award and the IPSEN Prize in Neuronal Plasticity. He is a Core Committee Member of the Frontiers in Neurosciences program in the Office of Technological Assessment of the U.S. Congress and a member of the Scientific Advisory Boards of several organizations, including the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Association, the American Paralysis Association, and the Hereditary Disease Foundation, Author of more than 200 articles and book chapters and the editor of two books, Dr. Gage is a member of the Editorial Boards of Experimental Neurology and Journal of Neuroscience, among others. He received his doctorate from Johns Hopkins University.

The Radical Change in Health Care: How Will Psychiatry, Medicine and Academic Medicine Survive?

Chp.: Robert E. Hales, M.D. Co-Chp.: Stuart C. Yudofsky, M.D

Herbert Pardes, M.D., brings his extensive experience in psychiatry, academic medicine and gryemment leadership in mental health to bear on an analysis of the profound changes currently affecting the U.S. health care system. Growing attention to managed care, group practice, thirdparty scruting and other types of oversight, and discussion of overall caps for health spending suggest that medicine in general, and psychiatry in particular, will face increasing challenges in delivering high-quality care. Other issues include whether rationing of health care will be widely adopted and whether mental health care will be reimbursed equitably with care for acute nonpsychiatric illnesses. Medical education must cope with the system changes, along with the enormous increase in medical knowledge. The continued growth of that knowledge is threatened by the leveling of support for biomedical research, including psychiatric research. Dr. Pardes will discuss strategies for coping with what is likely to be the very changed nature of medicine and psychiatry in the 21st century. Dr. Pardes is Vice President for Health Sciences, Dean of the Faculty of Medicine, and Chairman of the Department of Psychiatry at the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University in New York City. A Past President of the American Psychiatric Association, Dr. Pardes is currently Chairperson of the APA's Council on Research, a member of the Council of Deans Administrative Board of the Association of American Medical Colleges and a member of the Institute of Medicine. He serves as President of the Scientific Board of the National Alliance for Research on Schizophrenia and Depression and is a regular advisor to the National Alliance for the Mentally III. As Director of the National Institute of Mental Health in the late 1970s and early 1980s, Dr. Pardes focused on expanding support for psychiatric research, developing the first neuroscience branch and enhancing reimbursement for mental health services. His extensive national advocacy activities have included testifying before congressional committees and consulting to the Congressional Office of Technology Assessment, His numerous awards in recognition of his leadership in mental health include the Distinguished Service Award of the Mental Health Association, APA's Founders Award, and the Distinguished Service Award of the U.S. Public Health Service, Dr. Pardes has written more than 100 articles and book chapters, and sits on the editorial boards of several journals. He graduated from the State University of New York College of Medicine in Brooklyn and completed his residency in psychiatry at Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn. He received his psychoanalytic training at the New York Psychoanalytic institute.

V13 Gay Youth (40 minutes)

Producer: Pam Walton Distributor: Filmakers Library

124 East 40th Street New York, NY 10016

This videotape explores the emotional strain placed on gay youth. Adolescence is typically a time of conformity when one needs to feel secure in a peer group; but lesbian and gay youths become acutely aware of their differences. This isolation frequently leads them to drug and alcohol abuse, violence, homelessness and even suicide. Gay Youth contrasts the suicide death of 20-year-old Bobby Griffith with the remarkable and courageous life of 17-year-old Gina Gutierrez.

Producer: H. James Lurie, M.D.

Distributor: Washington Institute for Mental

Illness Research and Training

Western State Hospital Steilacoom, WA 98388

Dealing with Sexual Behavior of Adolescents in Psychiatric Residential Settings is a videotape designed to be used in the training of both psychiatric and child care staff in psychiatric residential settings. Based on specific situations which have arisen in residential treatment settings, the tape addresses attitudes of caregivers, countertransference reactions, limit setting, and establishment of strategies which might be effective with adolescents using sexually provocative language and actions. The tape uses a combination of actors and mental health professionals, and is effective both as a vehicle for discussion, as well as for individual self-education.

ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION 9:00 a.m.-11:00 a.m. Room 308, Esplanade Level, Moscone Center

SURVIVING REGULATION: A CLINICIAN'S GUIDE

Moderator: Richard C. Surles, Ph.D. Participants: Francine Cournos, M.D., Sandy Forquer, Ph.D., Kenneth A. Kessler, M.D., Joel I. Klein, Esq., Peter D. Kramer, M.D., Steven S. Sharfstein, M.D., Robert L. Trachtenberg

This format is designed to establish a dialogue between psychiatrists and other citizens about controversial issues of special interest to our profession. The moderator, Richard C. Surles, Ph.D., will present a panel of experts with hypothetical scenarios that highlight the complex issues surrounding regulation ("regulation" is broadly defined here to include managed care as well as state and federal regulations). These scenarios will highlight how regulations are developed, from the articulation of their purpose to their implementation. Panelists will be asked to respond to the scenarios from the vantage points of their professional roles. The panel includes representatives of both state and federal governments, professionals involved in managed care, and practitioners in both the public and private sectors. The goal of the Round Table is to make psychiatrists aware of the impact that regulations will have on their practices and their patients, and how impending health insurance reform is likely to affect clinicians in a variety of settings. The panel will suggest strategies for practicing effectively in the face of these ever-increasing external influences.

(23 minutes)

Producers: Stephen Brady, Ph.D. and

Rita Martin, B.S.N.

Distributor: Fanlight Productions

47 Halifax Street Boston, MA 02130

Over the past several years, clinicians at the Dr. Solomon Carter Fuller Mental Health Center in Boston have been offering their clients the opportunity to learn what AIDS is and how to avoid contracting it. In weekly sessions known as "The Drop-In Group," clients meet with staff in an informal and supportive environment to learn about AIDS/HIV and to practice skills to reduce their risk of becoming ill. This tape is a training program which provides guidelines for preparing and facilitating one-hour drop-in group sessions on AIDS risk and prevention. Although the program is especially designed for clinicians who work with the mentally ill, the model shown can be utilized in a variety of settings serving special populations who are at risk for AIDS. The video includes a discussion on the importance of providing AIDS education to the mentally ill; interviews with mentally ill persons about their participation in the drop-in group, and an overview of typical drop-in group sessions.

The Future of Community Mental Health

Chp.: Jonathan F. Borus, M.D. Co-Chp.: Gurmeet S. Kanwal, M.D.

The dominant interest in American psychiatry has periodically shifted from organizing services to control mental disorders in the entire population to a more restricted approach focused on diagnosis and treatment of individual patients. This change in focus has reflected initial public support favoring treatment of the large numbers of mentally ill persons in the community, followed by distillusignment with these approaches when service programs have failed to achieve promised results. Gerald Caplan, M.D., will attribute these failures to ideological oversimplifications, to not gearing centrally planned programs to local situations, and to not giving line workers the additional professional tools needed to master complications of community practice. He will discuss new conceptual models and population-oriented methods that may be used to build future service programs and that may be applicable to community settings beyond the community mental health center. These new developments include a conceptual model of primary prevention, new techniques for crisis intervention, promotion of psychosocial support systems, and a model for organizing primary prevention programs that focus on circumscribed populations. Dr. Caplan is Professor Emeritus of Child Psychiatry at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and Scientific Director of the Jerusalem Institute for the Study of Psychological Stress. In the 1960s and 1970s he was Senior Psychiatric Consultant for the U.S. Peace Corps and Director of the Laboratory of Community Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School. He is the author of more than 100 articles on child psychiatry and community mental health, and has written and edited several books, including Principles of Preventive Psychiatry, Theory and Practice of Mental Health Consultation, Support Systems and Community Mental Health, and Population-Oriented Psychiatry, Dr. Caplan is Honorary President of the International Association of Child Psychiatry and Allied Professions and a Fellow of the Royal College of Psychiatrists. He received his medical training at Manchester in England, additional training at the Royal Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons and Birmingham University, and his psychoanalytic training at the Institute of Psychoanalysis in London and the Boston Psychoanalytic Institute.

Pompano Beach, FL 33064

Menopause and Beyond is hosted by Dr. Judy Seifer, a Fellow of the Masters & Johnson Institute and President-Elect of the American Association of Sex Educators, Counselors and Therapists. Dr. Seifer explains the sexual health issues that affect all women in the second half of their lives, the pros and cons of hormone therapy, and what you can do today to minimize the effects of osteoporosis and the loss of desire it causes. She will also discuss the effects of diet on health, and solutions for urinary incontinence. She interviews menopausal women and their partners who discuss their own feelings about menopause.

My Own Private Idaho

(102 minutes) 1991

Director:

Gus Van Sant

Distributor: Films Incorporated

5547 North Ravenswood Avenue

Chicago, IL 60640-4222

Gus Van Sant (Drugstore Cowboy, Mala Noche) charts a new terrain with the wrenching story of two alienated teen-age prostitutes. River Phoenix and Keanu Reeves give standout performances as the young hustlers searching for love and acceptance in the streets of Portland, Seattle, Idaho and Rome. Mysterious, poetic and profound, My Own Private Idaho is one of the most powerful films of this, or any, year.

V18 Closet Land

(90 minutes)

Producer/

Distributor: Radha Bharadwaj

P.O. Box 2655

Redondo Beach, CA 90278

Set in a nameless country in an unspecified time, Closet Land is a feature film that explores the evolving relationship between a man who is the state's interrogator, and a female writer of children's fiction who has been arrested and brought in for interrogation on the grounds that her stories are deemed politically subversive. The film explores the links between large-scale state tyranny and the violence inherent in intimate relationships, with a specific analogy between a fascist state and child abuse. In the words of its Indian-born writer-director, Radha Bharadwaj, "there exists a peculiar and haunting similarity between fascism and child abuse -- both in the psychology of the oppressors, and in the nature of the damage inflicted upon the victims."

V19 Khush

(24 minutes)

Producer:

Pratibha Parmar Distributor: Women Make Movies

224 Lafayette Street, Suite 207

New York, NY 10012

"Khush" means ecstatic pleasure in Urdu. For South-Asian lesbians and gay men in Britain, North America and India (where homosexuality is still illegal), the term captures the erotic bliss of being queer. The producer tells us about the gay experience through dance segments and dream sequences to convey the exhilaration of gay sex.

V20 Fighting in Southwest Louisiana: Gay Life in Rural America

(27 minutes)

Producers: Peter Friedman and Jean-Francois Brunet

Distributor: Filmakers Library

124 East 40th Street New York, NY 10016

This tape explains how, far from the sophistication and relative tolerance of urban centers, gay people are beginning to lead integrated lives in small towns throughout rural America. Danny Cooper has been upfront about his homosexuality since his teens, now he lives openly with his lover. As the local mailman in a small Louisiana town, he has come to be accepted in a friendly and courteous manner by his neighbors. Although Danny has been through fights in school, was once fired from his job, and even evicted from his home, he has never failed to stand up for his right to be himself. In the end, he is changing the face of anti-gay prejudice in his town. Today, Danny is fighting his hardest battle-against HIV.

APA'S ADOLT MEYER LECTURE

C. Robert Cloninger, M.D.

A Psychobiological Model of Personality

Chp.: John M. Oldham, M.D. Co-Chp.: Bonnie T. Zima, M.D.

In this lecture, C. Robert Cloninger, M.D., will describe the development and testing of a psychobiological model of personality. The initial model comprised three dimensions of temperament-novelty seeking, harm avoidance and reward dependence—that were postulated to be genetically independent and based on individual differences in associative learning. Twin studies confirmed that these dimensions were independent, and that reward dependence consisted of two independently inherited components, persistence and attachment. The dimensions of temperament were found to distinguish subtypes of personality disorder, to explain differential comorbidity between personality and psychopathology, and to predict neurobiological phenomena Recently, the temperament model has been expanded to include three character dimensions defined in terms of self-concepts. Disturbances in these dimensions account for personality disorders. Dr. Cloninger will discuss this model of personality in terms of its underlying psychobiology, inheritance and development, and in relation to diagnosis and treatment. Dr. Cloninger is Professor and Head of the Department of Psychiatry at Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis, Professor of Genetics and of Psychology at the University, and Psychiatrist-in-Chief at Barnes Hospital. He is a Commissioner on the Missouri Mental Health Commission and a consultant to numerous organizations, including the World Health Organization and the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism. He is President of the American Psychopathological Association and serves on the Board of Directors of the International Society for Study of Personality Disorders. The author of nearly 200 articles, Dr. Cloninger has co-edited two books: Genetics and Biology of Alcoholism (1991) and Comorbidity in Anxiety and Mood Disorders (1990); Personality and Psychopathology: Neuroadaptive Processes is in preparation. Recipient of many honors and awards, including an Honorary Doctorate in Medicine from the University of Umea in Sweden (1983), he was elected to membership in the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences in 1989. Dr. Cloninger received his medical degree from Washington University in St. Louis, where he also completed his psychiatric residency training. THIS SESSION WILL BE AUDIOTAPED.

Creating Adult Erotica That Presents Positive Sexual Role Modeling and a Female Point of View

Chp.: Irving Schneider, M.D. Co-Chp.: Michelle O. Clark, M.D.

The advent of home video in the early 1980s brought many changes to American culture. Women who would have been too embarrassed to view sexually explicit films at a public theater could now bring them home for a curious peek. As Candida Royalle, producer and director of erotic films, will point out, most women didn't like what they saw and neither did she. The films ignored or misrepresented women's sexuality. Humiliation and dagradation were common themes. Ms. Royalle will describe how she entered the maledominated sex film industry and, in 1984, established Femme Productions, Inc., to create sensual adult movies that would appeal to women. She will discuss the controversy surrounding familiam, the antipomography movement, and issues of consorship in American culture while she presents clips and outtakes from her videos. Ms. Royalle's Femme line of videos has received several critics' awards and extensive media attention, She has appeared on numerous relevision talk shows and has been profiled by HBO and in many mass circulation periodicals. In 1991 she presented her work at the Smithsonian Institute as part of a film sories entitled Four Faces of Women and at Princeton University as part of a series on Women in Film. She was the first erotic filmmaker to become a member of the American Association of Sex Educators, Counselors and Therapists. In 1987 she established her own distribution unit which now distributes her films internationally. Ms. Royalic attended the Parson's School of Design and the City University of Now York, where she majored in art and psychology. Having trained extensively in voice and various types of dance, she became a professional jazz singer in San Francisco, creating and producing avant-garde musicals. Subsequently, for several years she appeared in adult films, including Blue Magic, which she also wrote and which won two critics' awards. In 1983 she helped organize a support group for adult film actresses, including industry stars such as Gloria Leonard and Annie.

Sprinkle. The success of her company has proven there is a market for adult films that incorporate integrity, compassion and respect and that convey a message of sexual wellness and pride. Helen Singer Kaplan, M.D., is Clinical Professor of Psychiatry and Director of the Human Sexuality Program at Comell University Medical College, and Attending Psychiatrist at the Payne Whitney Clinic. She founded and now directs a diagnostic and treatment center in New York City for patients and couples with sexual disorders. Dr. Kaplan has published more than 100 articles, book chapters and books on issues in human sexuality including The New Sex Therapy (translated into seven languages) and The Englustion of Sexual Disorders, Dr. Kapian is a member of numerous professional societies, including the American Academy of Psychoanalysis, the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy and the American Association of Sex Educators, Counselors and Therapists, which recognized her contributions with the Award for Outstanding Professional Contribution to the Field of Sexuality (1983), She is a fellow of the New York Academy of Medicina, in 1990 she received the Dr. Lucie L. Rudd Memorial Award from the Women's Medical Association, Dr. Kaplan received a Ph.D. in psychology from Columbia University and her medical degree and psychoanalytic training from New York Medical College.

The Criminalization of the Mentally III

Chp.: Henry C. Weinstein, M.D. Co-Chp.: Reverly J. Stoute, M.D.

Robert T.M. Phillipa, M.D., Ph.D., will address America's neglect of its social responsibility to those who are largely disenfranchised and unable to speak on their own behalf children, the mentally ill, and the poor He will discuss the inhumane results of shortsighted government policies and of society's resigned conclusion that the problems of the urban poor are intractable. He will point out that society has opted to create a vast network of prisons instead of investing in solutions to the social problems that plague American communities—in particular, communities in which

African-Americans reside. The U.S. has doubled its prison population in recent years, quiefly creating a new generation of prisoners, fronically, the government provides these prisoners scrvices which, had they been available in the community, might have deterred them from crime. Dr. Phillips will discuss psychiatrists' duty to advocate community-based services and programs that might address the social problems in urban communities, helping young people to become productive citizens, rather than inmates. Dr. Phillips sees mental health care and prevention programs not as a drain on national economic resources, but as an investment in the future. Since 1986, Dr. Phillips has been Assistant Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at Yale University School of Medicine's Law and Psychiatry Division. He is also Adjunct Clinical Professor of Correctional Mental Health at the New York Medical College Graduate School of Health Sciences, In 1986 Dr. Phillips became Director of Forensic Services for the Connecticut Department of Mental Health and Chief Executive Officer of the Whiting Forensic Institute, the state's maximum security hospital. He has considerable experience in forensic consultation and the provision of expert civil and criminal testimony, including capital sentencing proceedings at the trial and appellate level. Currently a member of the Working Party on Prison Health Care of the United Nations Alliance on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice, and Secretary of the United Nations Working Party on Crime Prevention Among Juveniles, Dr. Phillips is Chairperson of the American Psychiatric Association's Committee of Black Psychiatrists and is Representative to the APA's Board of Trustees. Dr. Phillips serves on the Editorial Advisory Board of Lifetime Medical Television and is a consultant on minority psychiatric issues to the National Institute of Mental Health. In June 1992 he appeared on the television program CBS This Morning in a town meeting with Presidential candidate Bill Clinton. Dr. Phillips completed advanced graduate studies in medical sciences at Tufts University, received a Ph.D. in Science Education from the Science Education Center of the University of lows, and his medical degree from Mayo Medical School. He completed his residency in psychiatry at the Yale University Schmidt of Medicine

JAZZ AND ADDICTION

F9 Let's Get Lost (119 minutes) 1989

Director: Bruce Weber

Distributor: Zeitbeist Films, Ltd.

247 Centre Street, 2nd Floor

New York, NY 10013

Internationally renowned photographer/filmmaker Bruce Weber has created a second stunning feature with Let's Get Lost, his Academy Award nominated film about the late jazz great Chet Baker. Let's Get Lost has been a sensation theatrically and at many international film festivals, including the 1989 "New York Directors/New Films" series at the Museum of Modern Art in New York, and at the Venice Film Festival, where it won the Prestigious Critics' Prize. Let's Get Lost, also the name of a long out-of-print Baker tune, aptly describes the driving force of this man and his music. His James Dean looks and cool sound set Baker apart from the other musicians of his time and gave a generation of jazz fans a doomed youth of their very own. Chet Baker's life plays out like a Kerouac creation, as did his death (he fell out of an Amsterdam hotel window one Friday the 13th last year, age 58), but out of this life noir came some of the most lyrical trumpet playing and jazz vocals ever heard. Let's Get Lost doesn't merely document the life of a musical genius. It stands on its own as a work of art, reflecting both the director's imagination and the essence of the music.

V21 People Say I'm Crazy (56 minutes)

Producer/

Distributor: Jean Campbell, Ph.D.

The Well-Being Program Inc.

17 Maxwell Road Chapel Hill, NC 27514

In 1987 a ground-breaking survey was conducted by mental health care consumers in California to determine what factors promote or impede the well-being of people diagnosed with mental illness. The results of that study became the basis for this award-winning video, which affirms the personhood of mental health care consumers. In a world of stigma, their voices illuminate the value of self-help, creativity, meaningful work, dignity, and respect.

Discussant: Leonard Kaplan

V22 The Therapeutic Theater (38 minutes)

Producer/

Distributor: Ferruccio A. DiCori, M.D. 120 Central Park West New York, NY 10019

This videotape documents one of the programs in New York City which offers a rehabilitation program in an inner city setting. Through the use of dramatic techniques, this video suggests that new levels of understanding are achieved. During subsequent scenes, the patients discuss the relevance of this "therapeutic theater" experience to their personal lives. In the final segment, Dr. Ferruccio A. DiCori and Dr. Ian E. Alger discuss the theoretical relevance of these methods to therapeutic change and rehabilitation.

Discussant: Ferruccio A. DiCori, M.D.

V23 Laughing Matters (22 minutes)

Producer/

Distributor: Rebecca C. Hantin, M.A. 1558 Curran Street, Apt. A Los Angeles, CA 90026

Laughing Matters documents the work of the Project Return Players, an improvisational comedy group whose goal is to eliminate the stigma experienced by the mentally ill. Members of the group themselves suffer from schizophrenia, bipolar disorder and depression. In their performances the Players use humor to make their audiences re-examine their basic assumptions and fears about mental illness. During the past 10 years, the Players have performed for professional groups (including the APA), parent groups, consumers, and civic groups in over 30 states. In their shows the Players represent themselves not as victims, but as competent performers with an important message to convey. The video introduces the viewer to three individual Players and to the performance techniques they use to accomplish their goal. It also follows the group from rehearsals to a performance on the road for a parents' group in Illinois.

Discussants: Rebecca C. Hantin, M.A., Carrie Bray

MARLON RIGGS: FILMMAKER EXTRAORDINAIRE

Chp.: Francis G. Lu, M.D.

V24 Creative Mind: Marlon Riggs (55 minutes)

Producer:

Lonnie Porro Distributor: Regina Isenberg

KOED

2601 Mariposa Street San Francisco, CA 94103

This conversation with Marlon Riggs is part of a KQED public TV series entitled, The Creative Mind. By examining Riggs' identity as an HIV-positive, African-American, gay male artist, the video eloquently addresses themes like reconciliation with mortality, multiculturalism, and the importance of speaking out against racism and heterosexism. Riggs reveals his journey from Harvard College to graduate school at the University of California at Berkeley, where he majored in journalism and documentary video making. The video shows clips from his master's thesis, Long Train Running: The Story of the Oakland Blues, and from Ethnic Notions, the Emmy Awardwinning documentary that traces deeply rooted anti-black stereotypes which continue to fuel racism. Riggs defends his most well known work, Tongues Untied, an innovative personal vision which affirms the lives and dignity of gay Black men. The program became a symbol of moral decay for Jesse Helms and Patrick Buchanan, who used clips in TV commercials.

Discussant: Donald E. Tarver II, M.D.

V25 Anthem

(8 minutes)

Producer:

Marlon Riggs Distributor: Frameline

P.O. Box 14792

San Francisco, CA 94114

The cross, a rose, a cock ring... a jar of vaseline, a sea of candles, a Black man's lavender lips... "America the Beautiful," Funk. Rhythms and shouts from Zulu: such sights and sounds collide in Anthem's relentless kaleidoscope of Black gay expression, exclaiming a vision of America that simultaneously celebrates Africa, and African-American and gay liberation. This experimental video politicizes the erotic, specifically the homoeroticism of African-American men. Anthem contains performances and poetry by Essex Hemphill, Reginald Jackson, Willie Ninja, and Blackberri.

Discussant: Kenneth B. Ashley, M.D.

Chp.: Pete C. Palasota, M.D.

V26 Cameraman

(28 minutes)

Producer/

Distributor: Mike Fisher 125 Dorset Street

Springfield, MA 01108

Cameraman is a documentary about being a television news cameraman. Using news footage, producer Mike Fisher tells us his thoughts and feelings about being a cameraman. He talks about fires, auto accidents, public funerals, soldiers leaving for war, and the war being fought on the streets of urban America. Mr. Fisher also shares humorous and entertaining clips. A collection of what he calls "once in a lifetime shots....the laughable and bizarre."

V27 Last Images of War

(75 minutes)

Scott Andrews and Stephen Olsson Producers:

Distributor: Telesis Productions

Industrial Center Building, Suite 250

Sausalito, CA 94965

Last Images of War is the story of three men and a woman who felt an intense commitment to expose the horrors of the Afghan war and provide the world with the dramatic images it craved, until they were ultimately consumed by the conflict they were covering. Against the landscape of Afghanistan, these four personal stories tell a larger and more universal story about the tragedy of war.

F10 Beauty and the Beast

(84 minutes) 1992

Directors:

Gary Trousdale and Kirk Wise Distributor: Swank Motion Pictures, Inc.

Att: Customer Service 201 South Jefferson Avenue

St. Louis, MO 63166

Walt Disney's Beauty and the Beast, the studio's 30th animated feature, is a magnificent retelling of the most beautiful love story ever told. Based on the classic fairy tale, Beauty and the Beast is a landmark achievement. The painstaking attention to detail that has become a Disney hallmark in conjunction with stunning background colors and dynamic musical numbers create an unforgettable motion picture experience for the young and the young-atheart. Beauty and the Beast is one more outstanding addition to those films we call "The Disney Classics."

The Healing Spirit

Chp.: Richard J. Thurrell, M.D. Co-Chp.: Clark A. Aist, Ph.D.

The healing spirit, a germinal mood or atmosphere that restores well-being, can be studied by methods appropriate to its own mode of existence, including contemplation, reflective study and patient care. Paul R. Helschman, M.D., will explore how knowledge of elemental themes revealed by analysis of religious texts and behavior can aid the psychotherapist's work. He asserts that these religious elements animate human existence and catalyze life-giving energy, but also contain sources of violence, primitive fantasy and destruction. Therefore, therapists who work with the healing spirit require self-insight, learning, and commitment to empirical observation and openmindedness. Dr. Fleischman will auggest that paychiatry is a beleaguered profession and that its recovery must include the appreciation and utilization of the spiritual elements underlying pathology and vitality. Author of The Healing Spirit, Dr. Fleischman has lectured extensively about the interface between psychiatry and religion. He has delineated ten religious psychological elements that recur in human lives, scriptural literature and psychotherapy. Currently in private practice in Amherst, Massachusetts, Dr. Fleischman formerly was Medical Director of the Enfield (Connecticut) Mental Health Center. As Assistant Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at Yale University in the 1980s, he started a seminar on psychiatry and religion that he taught until 1987. Earlier, as a student, he was a Public Health Research Fellow on the Navajo Reservation and a Manealoff Travel Fellow in India, where he studied Avurveda, the traditional medicine of Sanskritic culture, based on Hinduism. Dr. Eleischman received his medical degree from Albert Einstein College of Medicine in the Bronx, New York, and completed psychiatric training at Yale ljniversity.

THIS SESSION WILL BE AUDIOTAPED.

Making Sense of the National Health Care Debate

Chp.: Herbert S. Sacks, M.D. Co-Chp.: Mark Olfson, M.D.

The United States spends more than any other nation on health care—some $800 billion in 1992. Yet, more than 30 million Americans lack any health insurance, and many others have significant gaps in coverage. Theodore R. Marmor, Ph.D., will point out that the Reagan and Bush administrations were unwilling to propose serious reforms and ignored the fact that a perfectly competitive medical care market is undesirable since it rations care by ability to pay. According to Dr. Marmor, a straightforward version of national health braurance is othically and financially desirable as well as politically and administratively feasible. He will outline a three-step process for genuine reform. Dr. Marmor is Professor of Public Policy and Management at the Yale School of Organization and Management, and Professor of Political Science, at Yale University A specialist in the politics and economics of the modern welfare state, Dr. Marmor's special concentration has been the comparative study of medical care and health policy in North America. He has figured prominently in the contemporary public debate about American medical care financing. A board member of the National Academy of Social Insurance, a Fellow of the Canadian Institute for Advanced Research, and a member of the advisory board of the Center for National Policy, Dr. Marmor has been a consultant to government apencies and has testified frequently about medical care issues before US Congressional committees. He has written several books, including America's Misunderstood Welfare State and Social Security: Beyond the Rhetoric of Crisis; a wide range of scholarly papers; and frequently contributes to major newspapers, inchicking the Wall Street Journal, Washington Post, and The New York Times, Dr. Marmor was a Graduate Research Fellow at Wadham College, Oxford, and received his dectorate in politics and history from Harvard University.

Suffrage, Sex and Suffering: Women, Society and Psychiatry: A View from the Trenches

Chp.: Susan J. Flester, M.D. Co-Chp.: Paula G. Panzer, M.D.

The rights of women have greatly advanced in the last century. An unprecedented number of women candidates ran in the last U.S. election, although only 6 percent of those elected to office were women in most Western and Northern countries, only better educated women have benefited from those positive changes. Many women still struggle with daily family and home responsibilities, the lack of effective birth control and general secondary status. In most developing countries, women still carry the major burden of hard labor and child care. AIDS is taking an increasing female toll, and proud marrilineal societies have disappeared. Within the field of medicine, research into women's health issues is not well funded and often not even considered. Much psychiatric theory and research is based on findings for males, despite the predominance of female patients. Women complain of misdiagnosis, mistreatment and even abuse by psychiatrists, in her presentation, judith H. Gold, M.D., will discuss the consequences of women's lower social, political and economic status which practitioners encounter in the symptomatology of their patients and in the daily lives they describe. Dr. Gold has a private practice in psychiatry in Halifax, Nova Scotia, She is the 1992. 93 President of the American College of Psychiatrists, the first Canadian and the second woman to head that organization, and Past President (1981-82) of the Canadian Psychiatric Association, the only woman to have held that position. Dr. Gold is a member of the Executive Council of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada. She has served on many committees of the APA and is currently Editor of the Clinical Practice Series for the American Psychiatric Press, From 1978-87 she was an Associate Professor at Dalhousle University in Halifax, where she continued an earlier international study of factors affecting the mental health of university students. Dr. Gold has written many articles and book chapters and has edited several books, including Divorce as a Developmental Process, Recently she co-edited Beyond Transference: When the Therapist's Real Life Intrudes and a book on the menstrual cycle and mental illness. Dr. Gold received her medical degree from Dalhousie University

F11 Brother's Keeper (105 minutes) 1992

Directors: Joe Berlinger and Bruce Sinofsky

Distributor: Joe Berlinger

Creative Thinking International c/o American Playhouse 1776 Broadway, 9th Floor New York, NY 10019

Delbert, Bill, Lyman and Roscoe Ward are illiterate bachelor brothers who have never ventured beyond their 99 acre dairy farm in central New York State. Known by their neighbors as "The Ward Boys," they've shared a tworoom shack with no running water or indoor toilet for as long as anyone can remember. Their quiet life was shattered on June 6, 1990, when Bill was found dead in the bed he shared with Delbert. By day's end, Delbert had confessed to suffocating an ailing Bill as an act of mercy, but the local community believed Delbert was being framed. Delbert's subsequent retraction, the village's fervent belief in his innocence and the national media attention visited upon a sleepy rural community make Brother's Keeper a real-life murder mystery that examines larger social issues such as euthanasia, the plight of the aging, rural poverty and the fairness of the American justice system. The film provides a fascinating portrait of the Ward brothers' eccentric and time-warped existence as it clashes with the modern criminal justice system; from pre-trial courtroom drama to lively village fundraisers: from the initial media feeding frenzy to the explosive trial

Although the Pinochet dictatorship has come to an end, it has left a legacy of bereaved mothers, sisters and wives. These surviving women come together to give concrete expression to their sorrow and to demand answers from the new government. They sew murals out of scraps of fabrics, called "arpilleras," that record Chile's bloody history. As we meet the women and hear their tragic stories, we marvel at their strength.

V29 A Day in the Warsaw Ghetto: A Birthday Trip to Hell

(30 minutes)

Producer:

Jack Kuper

Distributor: Filmakers Library

124 East 40th Street New York, NY 10016

No collection of films on the holocaust can be considered complete without this haunting visual record of the infamous Warsaw Ghetto. One will never know why Wehrmacht Sergeant Heinz Joest decided to celebrate his 43rd birthday in 1941 by illegally photographing inside the ghetto. Or why he kept the pictures hidden for some forty years until he knew he was dying. But this German soldier's images of the misery, and also the spirit of its doomed inhabitants form the core of this portrayal. The filmmaker, himself a holocaust survivor has combined Joest's pictures with a multi-voiced dramatic narration taken from hidden ghetto diaries.

V30 Cambodian Donut Dreams

(27 minutes)

Producer:

Charles Davis

Distributor: First Run/Icarus Films, Inc.

153 Waverly Place, 6th Floor

New York, NY 10014

This video focuses on three Cambodians who, ten years after escaping the killing fields, find themselves in Los Angeles doughnut shops, eighty percent of which are owned or operated by Cambodians, according to the filmmaker. They are trying to remake their lives in this particularly American line of work. While the horrors they witnessed during the Pol Pot regime are recounted, the video is actually about the daily struggles of running their businesses and the challenges of integrating into American society.

V31 Tourette's Disorder: A Life History (31 minutes)

Producer/

Distributor: Lawrence S. Gross, M.D.

University of Southern California

Department of Psychiatry 1934 Hospital Place Los Angeles, CA 90033

Tourette's Disorder is characterized by the presence of both motor and vocal tics at some point during the illness, beginning before the age of 21. In this tape, a patient with Tourette's describes her 50-year history. During the initial interview, performed in August 1984, she discusses her fluctuating symptoms, associated obsessive compulsive behaviors, and their resulting interpersonal impairments. She also talks about prolonged misdiagnosis and inadequate treatments. A brief follow-up interview done in November 1991 focuses on her beneficial response to the pharmacologic agent pimozide.

New Developments in Antipsychotic Drug Treatment

Chp.: Henry A. Nasrallah, M.D. Co-Chp.: Peter J. Weiden, M.D.

Compelling evidence exists that extrapytamidal symptoms compromise response to neuroleptic medications. Lower neuroleptic dosages and lower plasma levels in acute and maintenance treatment result in fewer disabling side effects, but also in decreased antipsychotic effect. Theodore Van Putten, M.D., will discuss advances in developing antipsychotic drugs that induce fewer extrapyramidal symptoms. Although clozapine is a definite advance, its high cost, sedative and other side effects, and the need for patients to undergo frequent blood tests to monitor for clozapine induced agranulocytosis present considerable disadvantages. Remoxipride and risperidone, antipsychotic drugs currently under development, reportedly have few extrapyramidal symptoms. Risperidone, a combined dopamine (D<sub>3</sub>) and serotonin (5-HT<sub>3</sub>) blocker that has many of clozapine's advantages and does not require special monitoring, is closest to commercial release. Dr. Van Putten is a Staff Psychiatrist at the Veterans Affairs Medical Center, Brentwood Division, in Los Angeles, and Adjunct Professor of Psychiatry at UCLA School of Medicine. One of the first re-searchers to call. attention to the importance of extrapyramidal symptoms, particularly akathisia and akinesia, Dr. Van Putten is the author of more than 100 articles and several book chapters on such topics as subjective responses to antipsychotic drugs and evaluation of neuroleptic drug safety and effectiveness. A member of the Editorial Board of Schizophrenia Bulletin, he is a consulting psychlatrist at Atascadero (California) State Hospital and Camarillo (California) State Hospital, and is Director of Medical Education at Woodview-Calabasas Hospital in Calabasas, California. He is listed in the 1991 edition of Best Doctors in America.

A graduate of Cornell University Medical School in New York City, Dr. Van Putten completed his resi-dency in psychiatry and a fellowship in medical sciences research at Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn, New York

AIDS: SPECIAL PSYCHOSOCIAL ISSUES

Chp.: Eric G. Bing, M.D.

V32 Non, Je Ne Regrette Rein (No Regret)
(38 minutes)

Producer: Marlon Riggs Distributor: Frameline

P.O. Box 14792

San Francisco, CA 94114

Through music, poetry, and at times, chilling selfdisclosure, five HIV-positive, Black gay men present their individual experience, illuminating the difficult journey Black men throughout America make in coping with the personal and social devastation of the epidemic. Each man tells a story of self-transformation. These are stories in which a once shameful, unmentionable "affliction" is forged into a tool of personal and communal empowerment. During the video, the men talk about how they told their families about their HIV status. They also discuss the rejection they have felt by HIV-negative men, and the lack of acknowledgement of AIDS in African-American communities. Speakers include the poet Assoto Saint and Reggie Williams, the executive director of the National Task Force on AIDS Prevention. This video was directed by Marlon Riggs, the controversial Emmy Award-Winning videomaker who is also well known for his videos Ethnic Notions and Tongues Untied.

Ambrose Video Publishing

1290 Avenue of the Americas, Suite 2245

New York, NY 10104

Behind the provocative headlines and behind the explosive debate between pro-choice and pro-life groups, ordinary women's lives are being changed forever by abortion. Filmed primarily in and around the Women's Health Services Clinic in Pittsburgh, Abortion: Desperate Choices tells the stories of several women who have arrived, sometimes alone and sometimes with their families, to undergo the brief, emotionally devastating abortion procedure. Also featured are members of the two groups most divided on the issue: a fervent pro-life group keeping constant vigil outside the clinic and a pro-choice group that stages emotional rallies to show support for Roe vs. Wade. The documentary also includes first-person accounts of older women who recall the stigma of abortion prior to 1973, including the danger and fear accompanying the illegal, though widespread, practice of "back-alley" abortions.

Defamation of Personality Under Four Decades of Communist Rule

Chp.: Jerrold M. Post, M.D. Co-Chp.: Eugene B. Feigelson, M.D.

For decades people in the free world had limited information about life under Communist rule, relying on books like Arthur Koestler's Parkness at Noon and George Orwell's 1984, Peter Hunck, M.D., a practicing psychiatrist in Slovakia, will delineate a more accurate picture of the effect of Communist society on personality. His research is based on Leopold Szondi's postulate that man is ixim intolerant and acquires the principles of tolerance and coexistence through socialization. He will discuss the effect on personality of maring in a society that explicitly forced intolerance, imbued an artificially black and white vision of the world, and distorted understanding of the principles of fair play and competition. Dr. Huncik is Director of the Maral Sandor Foundation, which is locused on support of democratic change. He has conducted research in social psychiatry in the areas of suicidology, ethnic conflicts, minority discrimination, nationalism, and chauvinism-topics considered shameful and taboo by the Communist government. Before the fall of that regime he had several samizdat publications and since then has published The Great Winking (1991) and Polit-AIDS (1992) among other works. In November 1989 he was a founder of the Independent Hungarian Initiative, one of the organizations involved in the Velvet Revolution in Czechoslovakia. He was the founder and first Editor-in-Chief of the independent newspaper NAP. From 1989 to 1992 he was assistant to Czechoslovakian President Vaciav Havel on minority problems, Dr. Hunčík received his medical degree from Comenius University in Bratislava.

Regina Morantz-Sanchez, Ph.D.

Gender, Empathy and the New Science: Medicine and Professionalization in Late 19th Century America

Chp.: Martha J. Kirkpatrick, M.D. Co-Chp.: Paul F. Slawson, M.D.

Regina Morantz Sanchez, Ph.D., will examine the common notion that women are more empathic than men in the historical context of physicians' development of empathic expertise. Dr. Morantz-Sanchez will focus on the careers of two 19th century female physicians, Elizabeth Blackwell, a founder of the women's medical movement in the United States and in England, spent much of her life disseminating her ideas about the role of the woman physician in society. Mary Dixon-Jones was the only woman to gain entree into the elite, international group of physicians pioneering in the specialty of gynecological surgery. Dr. Morantz-Sanchez will argue that Blackwell, in defending women's role in medicine, borrowed and reframed traditional conceptions of the good practitioner. In doing so, she "gendered" the concept of empathic expertise, identifying it with women. Dixon-Jones, attached to an almost exclusively male professional community, exhibited little awareness of changing notions of gender and professionalism. As a woman seeking equal treat-ment in such a world, she faltered, in part because she demonstrated little sensitivity to professional tensions among her colleagues. Dr. Morantz-Sanchez is among the first generation of social historians who, since 1970, have focused their attention on the history of women and gender relations in America. She has helped pioneer a new approach to the history of medicine, encouraging the study of medicine less as a prooftext of scientific progress than as an artifact of culture. Dr. Morantz-Sanchez is a Professor in the Department of History at the University of California at Los Angeles, in addition to numerous articles, she is the author of two broks: In Her Own Words: Oral Histories of Women Physicians (1982) and Sympathy and Science: Women Physicians in American Medicine (1985). She received the History of Science Book Prize in 1987 for the latter. She has received research support from various institutions and agencies, including the National Endowment for the Humanities and the National Library of Medicine The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists recently awarded her fellowship support for her current work, an historical study of the emergence of gynecological surgery. Dr. Morantz-Sanchez attended Barnard College and received her Ph.D. in American history from Columbia University. THIS SESSION WILL BE AUDIOTAPED.

MEDIA PROGRAM

FILM SESSION 11 2:00 p.m.-5:00 p.m. Imperial Ballroom A, Ballroom Level, Hilton GROWING UP: THE FIRST 35 YEARS

Chp.: Irving Schneider, M.D.

F13 35 Up

(127 minutes) 1991

Director: Michael Apted

Distributor: Goldwyn Company

10203 Santa Monica Boulevard

Los Angeles, CA 90067

"Give me a child until he is seven and I will show you the man." 35 Up is the latest in a series of remarkable documentaries which began 28 years ago when Granada's World in Action team interviewed a group of seven-yearold children for a program called Seven Up. As children they talked confidently and uninhibitedly about their lives, their thoughts and their ambitions. They won the hearts of their audience, and set in motion a unique series of programs. Hollywood film director, Michael Apted was a researcher on the original program. He returned to Granada to direct three subsequent programs which looked at the same group, who came from widely differing backgrounds, at the ages of 14 (Seven Plus Seven), 21 (Twenty One), and 28 (28 Up). Now age 35, this minutelydocumented group of people comes once again under the camera's scrutiny as Michael Apted continues his searching investigation of the child becoming an adult. 35 Up reports on the people whom we see first at seven in Seven Up and who, by now, many of us feel we know: Tony, who wanted to be a jockey, now a cockney cabbie; Nick, the boy from the Dales; Lynn, who wanted to work in Woolworths; Suzy, who wanted a nanny to look after her children; Peter, who wanted to be an astronaut; and Neil, who didn't want to go to the university because he didn't want to be a teacher. 35 Up does, however, still report on those who do not appear in the program, and also offers some surprises.

2:00 p.m.-3:30 p.m.

Plaza Room A, Lobby Level, Hilton GANGS AND CRIME IN BIG CITIES

Chp.: Capt. David Benedek, M.D.

V35 Heart Broken in Half

(57 minutes)

Producers: Taggart Siegel and Dwight Conquergood

Distributor: Filmakers Library 124 East 40th Street

New York, NY 10016

This video is based on the field of research of Dwight Conquergood, an ethnographer who also co-produced and co-directed the video. Gangs are society's ultimate devil figure. They symbolize transgression and embody the deepest fears of middle-class citizens. These filmmakers capture the complexity of street gangs in urban America and reveal their underground culture. Images of street bravado are counterpointed with scenes inside laundromats where gang members are folding clothes and playing with babies.

V36 Police Chiefs

(58 minutes)

Producers: Alan Raymond and Susan Raymond

Distributor: Video Verite

927 Madison Avenue New York, NY 10021

Police Chiefs looks at the reality of trying to maintain law and order in American society. The battle between order and chaos is explored through the eyes of the police chiefs of three major U.S. cities: Darryl Gates, former police chief of Los Angeles; Lee Brown of New York City; and Anthony Bouza of Minneapolis. This cinema verite documentary shows how these men serve as sociologists, psychologists, lawyers, judges, ethicists and, in some cases, military-style commanders. Their varied styles and philosophies towards law enforcement reveal the multifaceted and often insurmountable problems they face.

V38 The Expatriates: Hong Kong Through American Eyes

(40 minutes)

Producer: Fred Frank

Distributor: Alan Gersenfield

733 Ozone Avenue

Santa Monica, CA 90405

A look at the astonishingly topsy-turvy world of the 18,000 Americans (from billionaires to strippers to kung-fu stars to housewives) who call Hong Kong their home.

Discussant: David R. Pating, M.D.

V39 Yidishe Gauchos

(28 minutes)

Director:

Mark Freeman

Distributor: Filmakers Library

124 East 40th Street

New York, NY 10016

This lively documentary tells the little known story of Jews escaping from Eastern Europe to the pampas of Argentina. At the end of the 19th century, millions of Jews fled from persecution and Russian programs. In Argentina, with the help of the Jewish Colonization Association, thousands became ranchers and farmers. This meeting of Jew and Argentine cowboy created the Jewish gaucho. This is a story of immigration and survival in a new world. Oral histories and rare archival footage recapture the romance and hardship of a disappearing way of life.

AMERICAN HEALTH POLICY IN THE 21ST CENTURY: IMPACT ON PSYCHIATRIC CARE

Chp.: Joseph T. English, M.D. Moderator: Joseph A. Califano, Jr., J.D. Participants: Uwe E. Reinhardt, Ph.D., Arnold S. Relman, M.D., Robert L. Trachtenberg, James S. Todd, M.D., Mary Jane England, M.D., Lewis L. Judd, M.D., Herbert Pardes, M.D., Richard C. Surles, Ph.D.

American medicine is at the brink of its largest revolutionary change in the last 50 years. The impact of these changes on psychiatry will be enormous. President Joseph T. English, M.D., has chosen his Annual Meeting theme, "Patient Care for the 21st Century: Asserting Professional Values Within Economic Constraints," to emphasize the importance of this crucial area, and this Presidential Symposium delineates that theme. The session will feature major health policy experts who will describe their vision of these changes. They will, of course, talk about national health care reform in its social, political, and economic context. Other leaders in medicine as a whole, including psychiatrists, will comment on these projections. Psychiatric leaders, including President English, will formulate the potential impact of these larger changes in health policy on future trends in the treatment of psychiatric patients. In addition to the formal presentations, this session will feature a lively dialogue among presenters and those in attendance. Dr. English will comment on his ideas for strategic planning for psychiatry, and how it intersects with the broader context of health care in the 21st century.

V40 Backlash: Race and the American Dream (58 minutes)

Producer/

Distributor: Bess Carrick

5129 Camp Street New Orleans, LA 70115

Backlash is a one-hour documentary which investigates the rise of racism in American politics. This program goes inside the Duke Campaign in Louisiana. Through candid interviews, the filmmaker suggests that fear and anger drew some supporters to Duke's platform. The videotape features scholars and archival footage that places Duke's movement in the historical context of racial politics in America.

V41 In the Land of Jim Crow

(27 minutes)

Distributor: Coronet/MTI Film and Video

108 Wilmot Road Deerfield, IL 60015

In this program, viewers learn about racial segregation and its impact on society and African-Americans. It serves as a catalyst for discussions about both skin color "as an artificial barrier" and the ultimate necessity for the civil rights movement. Viewers will learn about laws that perpetuated segregation and discrimination, distinguish between overt oppression and subtle discrimination, and recognize the strategies and coping skills used by African-Americans during the "Jim Crow" era. The experiences of living with segregation in both the North and the South are documented through first-hand accounts from prominent Americans.

Kensington House Richmond Way

London, England W14 0AX

Armistead Maupin's series of novels, Tales of the City, featuring an endearing cast of characters from San Francisco, has been a cult hit for years. The gay writer who tells the stories of a group of housemates from Russian Hill is now the subject of an Arena, made by British director Kate Meynell. Subtitled, Is a Man I Dreamt Up (an anagram of his name), this entertaining profile presents Kit Hollerbach reading extracts of his work, interviews with Maupin and his partner Terry, footage of San Francisco which pertains to his work, and some of the people on whom he based his characters.

V45 Masters of Illusion

(28 minutes)

Producers: Rick Harper, Robert W. Anderson

and M. Geer

Distributor: Home Vision

5547 North Ravenswood Avenue

Chicago, IL 60640

Masters of Illusion is about vision and illusion. The tape focuses on the discovery of perspective, and the development of visual tools that create the magic of illusion. The extraordinary special effects we enjoy in films today are based on principles established more than 500 years ago by Renaissance masters such as Brunelleschi, Michelangelo, Leonardo da Vinci, Botticelli, and Raphael. Masters of Illusion examines artistic and scientific discoveries of the Renaissance, provides new insight into a remarkable visual revolution, and uses modern technology to look at the old masters in amazing new ways.

Museum of Modern Art

New York, NY 10019

D.W. Griffith's silent masterpiece of 1919, set in London's Limehouse district, tells the story of a street waif (Lillian Gish) who finds temporary shelter from her sadistic father in the chaste love of an idealistic young Chinese immigrant (Richard Barthelmess). More than D.W. Griffith's brokenhearted farewell to the flower of femininity (as personified by Gish), this is a lament for the death of any kind of gentleness in a changing, sordid world. As portrayed by the affecting actor Richard Barthelmess, the young Asian is nearly as feminine as Gish herself, and so brutalized by the Western environment that it drives him to violence. It is a drama made up of intimate observations, rigorously linked through rhythmic editing into an elegantly structured narrative. D.W. Griffith, who transformed film from an amusement to an art form in the earliest days of cinema, is one of cinema's greatest directors. The film will be accompanied by Robert Vaughn playing the original score on piano.

The Molecular Structure and Development of the Synapse

Chp.: Roland D. Ciaranello, M.D. Co-Chp.: Ann P. Sellew, M.D.

Zach W. Hall, Ph.D., will discuss one focus of his research: the mechanisms of synaptogenesis at the neuromuscular junction. Most cells in the nervous system communicate at synapses, where chemical messengers carry signals from one cell to another. At the synapse signal transmission is unidirectional, with one cell specialized for secretion of the messenger and the other for its detection. Nerve terminals release synaptic messengers from a pre-formed complex between the synaptic vesicle and the surface membrane in an exocytotic process regulated by calcium. The signal is received in the postsynaptic membrane by proteins, which bind and detect the messengers. Although receptors recognize diverse messengers at different synapses, they constitute only two large families: a family of ligand-gated ion channels that mediate rapid gynaptic responses, and a family of receptors linked to intracellular second messenger systems that mediate slower responses. Dr. Hall will discuss the formation, over a prolonged period during development, of the complex synaptic structures responsible for synaptic transmission. Since 1976, Dr. Hall has been Professor of Physiology in the Department of Physiology at the University of California, San Francisco, he is currently the Jack and Delores Lange Professor and Chair of the Department and also heads the Biomedical Sciences Graduate Program. In addition to synaptogenesis, Dr. Hall has researched the structure and mechanism of the picotinic acetylcholine receptor and the role of nuclear domains in muscle cells. He has published more than 100 articles and book chapters and is author and editor of An Introduction to Molecular Neurobiology, published last year. Dr. Hall was one of three founding editors of the journal Neuron, which he continues to edit; he also sits on the Editorial Boards of the American journal of Physiology: Cell Physiology and Physiological Reviews. In recent years, he has held Honorary Lectureships at Durtmouth Medical School, the University of Permsylvania, Columbia University, and the Woods Hole Marine Biological Laboratory in Massachusetts. Dr. Hall received his doctoral degree in biochemistry from Harvard University. Prontiers of Science Lecture Series THIS SESSION WILL BE AUDIOTAPED.

APA'S SIMON BOLIVAR LECTURE

Transference Issues in Cross-Cultural Therapy

Chp.: Fernando J. Milanes, M.D. Co-Chp.: Eduardo R. Val, M.D.

Ethnicity remains a significant social force in contemporary American society, and appreciation of this cultural diversity is essential to clinical practice. In his presentation, A. Anthony Arce, M.D., will discuss psychiatrists' persisting inattention to race and culture despite the growing literature on cross-cultural psychiatry and the required inclusion of cross-cultural material in psychiatric training programs. Dr. Arce will describe how mainstream American cultural values influence current treatment orientations and how the values of patients from other cultures are often disregarded, perpetuating cross-cultural myths and stereotypes. He will underscore four elements key to the efficacy of all psychotherapy, including cross-cultural therapy: the patient and the therapist must share a common view of the world; the therapist must project a warm and caring image, there must be a reasonable chance of meeting the patient's expectation of being helped; and the technique used must be congruent with the patient's background and expectations. Dr. Arce will describe transference and countertransference manifestations that arise in the course of cross-cultural therapy, and their influence on treatment efficacy. Dr. Arce is Professor and Vice-Chairman of the Department of Psychiatry at the Medical College of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia and Chairman of the Department of Psychiatry of the North Philadelphia Health System. He is also Clinical Professor in the Department of Mental Health Sciences at Hahnemann University School of Medicine. Dr. Arce is currently President-Elect of the American Association of Psychiatric Administrators, and a Life Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association. He has lectured and written extensively on cross-cultural issues in clinical practice, especially concerning the treatment of Hispanic patients and services for the homeless mentally III. Dr. Arce received his medical degree from Temple University School of Medicine in Philadelphia and completed his residency at the Payne Whitney Psychiatric Clinic in New York City. THIS SESSION WILL BE AUDIOTAPED.

F15 Rhapsody in August (98 minutes) 1991

Director: Akira Kurosawa Distributor: New Yorker Films

16 West 61st Street New York, NY 10023

This 1991 film by Akira Kurosawa, one of Japan's greatest directors, depicts the remembrance, by an elderly Japanese woman, of the atomic bombing of Nagasaki. Through her memories, an ethos of compassion and forgiveness about the bombing emerges; this allows for reconciliation between herself and the next two generations, and between the Japanese and an American distant relative (played by Richard Gere). The film exemplifies a distinct contemplative quietude, reminiscent of the work of Ozu and Tarkovsky. Kurosawa's greatness lies in his merging of Japanese aesthetic values based in Buddhism and Western existential thought.

PERSONAL APPROACHES TO LIFE-THREATENING ILLNESS

What does one do when a terminally-ill loved one asks for help in committing suicide? This is one of the issues this thought provoking video addresses through the story of three people who had to make difficult choices. Defining Life shows us the personal struggle of Bertram Harper regarding his terminally ill wife, Ginger. For abetting her suicide, Mr. Harper was charged with murder and prosecuted in a landmark trial in Detroit, Michigan in May 1991. After an emotional trial in which he testified, "It was the only thing that I could do to carry out her trust in me," the court found him innocent. In Defining Life we also meet Luane who was left helpless and in a vegetative state after a car accident in 1954. Her family never considered "letting her die." Sixteen years later she recovered enough to permit the removal of her feeding tubes and to sit in a wheel chair. The program opens and closes with John, an AIDS victim, who speaks persuasively of his wish for an "easy" death.

V47 Erin's Life (54 minutes)

Producers: Kerry Smith Marash and Michael Kirk

Distributor: KCNC TV 1044 Lincoln

Denver, CO 80203

For one year after a car accident that nearly killed Erin Peterson, the filmmaker spent thousands of hours following her extraordinary fight to recover. This documentary shows the long-term effects of one traumatic accident on the victim and her family. It is striking in its realistic portrayal of coma and brain injury.

Based on research studies and interviews with clinicians practicing in Africa, this tape discusses stress and serious disabling mental illness in several cultures. The tape questions whether or not descriptive categories in DSM-III-R or ICD-9 are applicable to patients living in the Western hemisphere. The importance of organic factors in mental disturbance is also discussed, and the criteria for psychosis is demonstrated by interviews. The necessity of appreciating the world view of the African culture is emphasized through quotes and more interviews. The combined use of traditional and Western medicine is discussed in interviews with practicing clinicians. A closing point is the necessity for the clinician to be aware of key cultural conventions in diagnostic formulations and approaches to treatment. The interviews and accompanying shots were done in Lesotho, Zambia, South Africa and Botswana.

V49 Hanging Iron, After the Quake of '89

(28 minutes)

Producer:

Steve Zeltzer

Distributor: Labor Video Project

P.O. Box 5584

San Francisco, CA 94101

This documentary recounts the 1989 San Francisco earthquake and the role of labor unions in saving lives and rebuilding the San Francisco Bay Bridge. It seeks to explain how workers collectively played a critical role in helping to rebuild the Bay Area after the quake.

V50 A Dose of Reality

(16 minutes)

Producer:

Kaiser Permanente

Distributor:

Kristen Gonnerman, Librarian

Kaiser Permanente 825 Colorado Boulevard Los Angeles, CA 90041

A Dose of Reality is a physician earthquake preparedness video. This program motivates doctors to prepare at work and at home for earthquakes. In the presentation, general physician responsibilities during an earthquake are outlined, and physicians are encouraged to think about how their work fits into the overall disaster plan at their facility and what practicing austere medicine really means. Physicians from pediatrics, internal medicine, general surgery, emergency medicine and cardiology will present their views. The Loma Prieta earthquake, Tuesday, October 17, 1989, is the basis of the exercise.

(28 minutes)

Producer:

Fawn Yacker

Distributor: Filmakers Library 124 East 40th Street

New York, NY 10016

Can You See Me Flying? is a portrait of a latecomer to a dancing career, Terry Sendgraff. At the age of 41 she introduced an original dance form of trapeze flying which she calls "Maturity," a combination of dance, voice and improvisation. You see her in various guises of performer, choreographer and teacher. Even after her mastectomy at age 54 she danced nude, flaunting her changed body in an attempt to demystify breast cancer.

Troubled Paradise F17

(58 minutes) 1991

Director: Steven Okazaki Distributor:

Cross Current Media 346 Ninth Street, 2nd Floor San Francisco, CA 94103

Troubled Paradise is both a celebration of the richness of Hawaiian culture and a compelling look at the social and political problems facing its indigenous population. Set on the Big Island of Hawaii, the film offers four stories about native Hawaiians fighting for the survival of their culture. It also features performances by the islands' finest musicians and dancers and breathtaking footage of recent volcanic eruptions. It reveals a Hawaii that mainland films and television never depict, and most tourists never see.

Discussant: Naleen N. Andrade, M.D.

F18 Forbidden City (56 minutes) 1989

Director:

Arthur Dong

Distributor:

Cross Current Media

346 Ninth Street, 2nd Floor San Francisco, CA 94103

Like the Cotton Club of Harlem, which featured America's finest Black entertainers, San Francisco's Forbidden City was the nation's premier, all-chinese nightclub that gained an international reputation in the thirties and forties with its unique showcase of Chinese-American performers: the "Chinese Fred Astaire" and the "Chinese Sophie Tucker," in all-American productions. The glamour and social significance of this forgotten chapter of entertainment history is captured for the first time in this award-winning documentary. Combining interviews with archival film and photographs, this film shows a generation of Asian-American pioneers who fought cultural barriers and racism to pursue their love for American song and dance.

V52 Dear Lisa: A Letter to My Sister (45 minutes)

Producer: Distributor:

J. Clements New Day Films

121 West 27th Street, Suite 902

New York, NY 10001

Using interviews with 13 women and girls, Dear Lisa takes a comprehensive and multicultural look at women's hopes and dreams, and the realities of being female in the 1990s. The filmmaker looks at her own childhood, weaving family home movie footage, animated drawings and a letter to her sister into the video.

V53 Rule of Thumb

(22 minutes)

Producer:

Jill Petzall

Distributor:

Women Make Movies

224 Lafayette Street, Suite 207

New York, NY 10012

This sensitive video explores domestic violence through the perspectives of women who have lived with abusive relationships. Five women from different backgrounds discuss their ordeals and concrete steps they have taken to eradicate fear and violence from their daily lives. Supplemented by testimonies, this empowering tape offers clear, concise instructions on obtaining an order of protection and other support services. (The phrase "rule of thumb" actually derives from the custom permitting a man to beat his wife with a stick, as long as it was smaller than the width of his thumb).

V54 Women: Coming Out of the Shadows (27 minutes)

Producer:

Distributor:

Elyse A. Williams Fanlight Productions

47 Halifax Street

Boston, MA 02130

An estimated six million women in the United States are alcoholics. Social stigma and intense shame inhibit many alcoholic women and their families from admitting that they have a problem. This video is a series of edited comments by several women who have abused substances, primarily alcohol. The women interviewed are of all ages, ranging from mid 20s to early 60s. In this program they describe their denial of alcoholism, and experts discuss how substance abuse differs among women.

V55 Two Sisters

(10 minutes)

Producers: Distributor: Robert Forget and Yves Leduc National Film Board of Canada

1251 Avenue of the Americas

16th Floor

New York, NY 10020

In this beautifully animated tape, Caroline Leaf offers a lyrical tale about two sisters isolated on an island. Viola writes novels in a darkened room and Marie takes care of her with a mixture of tenderness and cruelty. When a stranger arrives who admires Viola's writing, he interrupts the sisters' relationship.

V56 What of Tomorrow?

(28 minutes)

Producers:
Distributor:

Davidson/Edwards Suncoast Media, Inc.

2938 West Bay Drive, Suite B Belleaire Bluffs, FL 34640

This documentary shows two young women with cerebral palsy who are determined to live full and independent lives despite their dependence on support systems. Both have nurturing families, but when they venture into the outside world, they meet with obstacles that are difficult to overcome. This program is designed as a motivational tape for the disabled, as well as an educational tape for health care professionals to examine their own sensitivity to people with special needs.

AMERICAN PSYCHIATRIC

American Psychiatric Press REVIEW OF PSYCHIATRY Volume 12

Edited by John M. Oldham, MD, Michelle B. Riba, MD, and Allan Tasman, MD

n this 12th volume in the Review of Psychiatry series, editors John M. Oldham, MD, Michelle B. Riba, MD, and Allan Tasman, MD, continue a decade-long commitment to making this series a vital reference for the practicing clinician. More than 50 contributors share their expertise in the areas of homosexuality, posttraumatic stress disorder, brain imaging, combined treatments, and the neuropsychiatry of memory.

Following the successful format of past volumes, each section includes a foreword and afterword by the section editor(s) that summarize key points, and each chapter features an extensive bibliography. A top seller at the APA annual meeting and all year long.
