You helped him get through opioid detoxification...

NOW YOU CAN HELP HIM PREVENT RELAPSE

VIVITROL® (naltrexone for extended-release injectable suspension) 380 mg/vial is indicated for the prevention of relapse to opioid dependence, following opioid detoxification. Treatment with VIVITROL should be part of a comprehensive management program that includes psychosocial support. Opioid-dependent patients, including those being treated for alcohol dependence, must be opioid-free at the time of initial VIVITROL administration.

The first and only once-monthly, nonaddictive, nonnarcotic medication approved to prevent relapse to opioid dependence, following opioid detoxification¹

WARNING: HEPATOTOXICITY¹

Naltrexone has the capacity to cause hepatocellular injury when given in excessive doses.

Naltrexone is contraindicated in acute hepatitis or liver failure, and its use in patients with active liver disease must be carefully considered in light of its hepatotoxic effects.

The margin of separation between the apparently safe dose of naltrexone and the dose causing hepatic injury appears to be only five-fold or less. VIVITROL does not appear to be a hepatotoxin at the recommended doses.

Patients should be warned of the risk of hepatic injury and advised to seek medical attention if they experience symptoms of acute hepatitis. Use of VIVITROL should be discontinued in the event of symptoms and/or signs of acute hepatitis.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

VIVITROL is contraindicated in:

- Patients with acute hepatitis or liver failure
- Patients receiving opioid analgesics
- Patients with current physiologic opioid dependence
- Patients in acute opioid withdrawal
- Any individual who has failed the naloxone challenge test or has a positive urine screen for opioids
- Patients who have previously exhibited hypersensitivity to naltrexone, polylactide-co-glycolide (PLG), carboxymethylcellulose, or any other components of the diluent

PLEASE SEE BRIEF SUMMARY OF FULL PRESCRIBING INFORMATION, INCLUDING BOXED WARNING, ON ADJACENT PAGES.

WARNINGS AND PRECAUTIONS

- Hepatotoxicity
- Injection site reactions
- Eosinophilic pneumonia
- Hypersensitivity
- Unintended precipitation of opioid withdrawal
- Opioid overdose at the end of a dosing interval, after missing a dose and following an attempt to overcome opioid blockade
- Depression and suicidality
- Intramuscular injections
- When reversal of VIVITROL blockade is required for pain management

ADVERSE REACTIONS

The adverse events seen most frequently in association with VIVITROL therapy for alcohol dependence (ie, those occurring in ≥5% and at least twice as frequently with VIVITROL than placebo) include nausea, vomiting, injection site reactions (including induration, pruritus, nodules and swelling), muscle cramps, dizziness or syncope, somnolence or sedation, anorexia, decreased appetite or other appetite disorders.

The adverse events seen most frequently in association with VIVITROL therapy in opioid-dependent patients (ie, those occurring in ≥2% and at least twice as frequently with VIVITROL than placebo) were hepatic enzyme abnormalities, injection site pain, nasopharyngitis, insomnia and toothache.

APA Public Psychiatry Fellowship

Formerly APA/Bristol Myers Squibb Fellowship
Formerly APA Mead Johnson Fellowship

The American Psychiatric Association Public Psychiatry Fellowship Program, founded in 1980, provides experiences that will contribute to the professional development of residents who will play future leadership roles within public sector psychiatry and heightens awareness of public psychiatry activities and career opportunities. Since the time it was founded, the fellowship has been awarded to 373 outstanding residents, many of whom are now leaders in the field.

This year marks the 30 year anniversary of the Fellowship. The current fellows are pleased to present their workshops and symposium on the topics of their choice. Former fellows were also invited to present a special symposium on the past and future of public psychiatry.

Sixth Annual Health Services Research Track

The APA is pleased to announce the sixth annual Health Services Research Track at IPS. The purpose of this track is to highlight the contributions of health services research to the delivery of effective psychiatric services and sound policy. Through selected lectures and workshops, the HSR track focuses on the importance of evidence-based knowledge as an essential framework for implementing service programs and policy. In addition, the track includes the Health Services Research breakfast, open to all meeting attendees, as the venue for presenting the Health Services Senior Scholar and Health Services Early Career Awards. Of particular interest to young investigators contemplating a career in Health Services Research, the breakfast provides an opportunity to hear from established, as well as beginning researchers in the field.

Conference on Public, Community,

MISSION STATEMENT

VISION, MISSION, VALUES, AND GOALS

of the

INSTITUTE ON PSYCHIATRIC SERVICES

VISION

The Institute on Psychiatric Services (IPS) of the American Psychiatric Association is a yearly educational meeting which focuses on the needs of the most vulnerable, disenfranchised, and difficult-to-serve patients.

MISSION

The mission of the IPS is to train and support psychiatrists to provide quality care and leadership through study of the array of clinical innovations and services necessary to meet the needs of individuals who suffer from serious mental illness, substance abuse, or other assaults to their mental health due to trauma or adverse social circumstances, in order to assure optimal care and hope of recovery.

VALUES AND GOALS

To fulfill this mission, the IPS holds an annual meeting each fall that focuses on clinical and service programs, especially those that provide a complex array of services and clinical innovations to meet the needs of the most difficult-to-serve patients. Such programs constitute the continuum of care, from state and general hospitals to community-based drop-in centers, and attempt to meet the needs of persons living in rural communities, as well as the urban poor. The focus on more difficult-to-serve patients requires attention to the social and community contexts in which these patients are treated and reside. Contextual issues must be addressed because they operate as significant variables in the course of the psychiatric illnesses of certain patient populations such as those with severe and persistent mental illness, members of minority groups and those suffering economic hardships, most children and adolescents, the elderly, patients living in rural communities or in communities of immigrants, and patients treated in settings for physically or intellectually disabled individuals

The IPS, therefore, fosters discussions of such issues as housing and vocational rehabilitation equally with innovative psychological treatments and pharmacotherapy. The clinical focus of the IPS is on innovations and adaptations of proven therapies as they are applied to the more difficult-to-serve populations. The IPS also serves as a forum for discussing systems of care, quality management, government policy, and social and economic factors as they have an impact on the most vulnerable patients.

The mission of the IPS is of particular significance to an important subset of APA members who are its prime constituents. This includes psychiatrists who identify themselves as in community practice, those involved in teaching community practice, those who serve in the public sector, such as staff working in state, community, and Veterans Affairs hospitals, community clinics, jails, or other community agencies, psychiatric administrators and those with a particular interest in the social issues that have an impact on patients. It is a goal of the IPS to provide a venue for relevant scientific programs that will retain such psychiatrists as valued members of the APA and attract colleagues who are not yet members. The IPS functions as a prime APA service to these important, devoted, and often isolated colleagues, many of whom are psychiatrists of color or international medical graduates. It is the goal of the IPS to reach out and encourage these psychiatrists to join the APA and attend this meeting. In turn, the APA will strive to ensure that the IPS serves as a professional home for these groups of colleagues.

Serving the populations that have been identified as the focus of the IPS involves collaboration with a wide variety of other professionals as well as with consumers, family members, and advocates. Therefore, an important part of the mission of the IPS is to encourage interdisciplinary and family member participation. Indeed, this mission has been an organizing principle of the IPS since its inception. Efforts will be made to further reach out to families, consumers, and allied professionals in the communities where meetings are held, and attention will be paid to ensuring their access to the IPS. The IPS is supportive of allied psychiatric organizations who share a similar vision and mission for which the IPS can serve as a scientific venue. It is part of the mission of the IPS to meet the needs of such allied groups for meeting times and space.

Format Descriptions

DISCUSSION GROUPS

This format provides attendees with an informal setting to share information, discuss concerns and develop possible solutions related to challenges faced in specific areas of mental health care.

IMMERSION COURSES

Immersion courses are designed so that the attendee will be able to master new material in depth. These immersion courses also offer practical learning experiences that actively involve attendees and include the opportunity for informal exchange with the faculty. Offered in four- or six-hour sessions, immersion courses either review basic concepts in a specialized subject area or offer advanced material on a circumscribed topic.

INNOVATIVE PROGRAMS

These formal presentations will feature presenters who will describe creative, effective and provocative programs that work in their facilities. Each presenter is allotted 20 minutes to present a description of his/her work, followed by 10 minutes of discussion. This format is grouped, by topic, with two other proposals and presented at a 90-minute session conducted by a chairperson selected by the Scientific Program Committee.

LECTURES

This format features a small number of distinguished speakers who will make formal presentations on scientific and cultural topics, which extend our understanding beyond the usual limits. Lecturers are invited by the Scientific Program Committee.

POSTERS

These informal presentations provide presenters the opportunity to post new results, research advances, new program features or model program information.

SYMPOSIA

These three-hour or 90-minute sessions are thematically linked and focus on a specific topic relevant to clinical psychiatry or systems of care. They are designed to provide a more formal, didactic approach to the topic and present it from several points of view to stimulate discussion.

WORKSHOPS

These sessions typically involve brief presentations from individual panel members, followed by the opportunity for lively and informative discussion. This format provides for substantial audience participation and should be highly interactive.

Disclosure Index

AMERICAN PSYCHIATRIC ASSOCIATION CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION POLICY ON FULL DISCLOSURE

The American Psychiatric Association requires disclosure, by presenters at CME activities, of any significant financial or other affiliation with commercial organization(s) that may have a direct or indirect interest in the subject matter of the scientific program. A “financial interest” may include, but is not limited to: being an employee, being a shareholder in the organization; being on retainer with the organization; or having research or honoraria paid by the organization. An “affiliation” may include holding a position on an advisory committee, speakers bureau or some other role or benefit to a supporting organization.

In compliance with the ACCME’s Standards for Commercial Support, the APA has a management of conflict (MCI) process for all CME activities. This process ensures that all potential conflicts of interest are identified, managed and resolved prior to the educational activity. The prospective audience must be informed of the presenter’s affiliation with every commercial supporter by an acknowledgement in the printed program and verbal or visual disclosure to participants at the session (disclosure by slide or overhead is required if audiovisual equipment is used for the presentation). This policy is intended to openly identify any potential conflict(s) so that members of the audience in an educational activity are able to form their own judgments about the presentation. The APA also requires verbal disclosure of discussion of unlabeled uses of a commercial product or investigational use of a product not yet approved for this purpose.

The presenters on the following pages have indicated that either they or an immediate family member has a significant interest or other affiliation with a commercial supporter of this meeting and/or with the manufacturer(s) of a commercial product(s) and/or provider of commercial services(s), and the company name is listed. The second group of presenters has indicated neither they nor an immediate family member has any significant relationship to disclose.

The American Psychiatric Association requires disclosure by all program planners and presenters at CME activities of any financial or other affiliation with commercial organization(s) that may have a direct or indirect interest in the subject matter of the educational activity. A “financial interest” may include, but is not limited to: being an employee and/or being a shareholder in the organization; being on retainer with the organization; or having research or honoraria paid by the organization. An “affiliation” may include holding a position on an advisory committee, speakers’ bureau or some other role or benefit to a supporting organization. In compliance with the ACCME’s Standards for Commercial Support, the APA has a management of conflict (MCI) process for all CME activities. This process ensures that all conflicts of interest are identified, managed and resolved prior to the educational activity. Additionally, the prospective audience must be informed of the presenters’ or program planners’ affiliations with every commercial interest by an acknowledgement in the printed program and verbal or visual disclosure to participants at the session (disclosure by slide or overhead is required if audiovisual equipment is used for the presentation). Disclosing to learners the relevant financial relationships that were present and resolved assists learners in assessing the potential for bias in the information that is presented. The APA also requires verbal disclosure of discussion of unlabeled uses of a commercial product or investigational use of a product not yet approved for this purpose. The presenters on the following two pages have indicated that either they or an immediate family member have a financial interest or other affiliation with a commercial entity producing, marketing, re-selling, or distributing health care goods or services consumed by or used on patients; the company name and affiliation is also listed. Providers of clinical service directly to patients are not considered to be commercial interests. The group of presenters below has indicated neither they nor an immediate family member has any significant relationship to disclose. All presenters and planners must complete a disclosure in order to participate in an APA CME activity.

The following people have indicated that they have nothing to disclose.

APA's Frank J. Menolascino Award

Diana J. Antonacci, M.D., is a graduate of Southern Illinois University School of Medicine. She did her psychiatry residency at Duke University and later did a child and adolescent fellowship at Brody School of Medicine at East Carolina University (ECU), where she is now an Associate Professor and the Psychiatry Residency Director. Throughout her medical career, Dr. Antonacci has provided leadership in the development of programs for patients with dual diagnoses of mental illness and intellectual disability and has worked on developing training for medical students and residents in this area. She was instrumental in establishing an inpatient unit at ECU devoted to providing psychiatric inpatient care for individuals with developmental disabilities. She has done extensive work in community mental health and is currently regional medical director for NC-START, which provides crisis response and consultation as well as on-going preventive crisis planning for individuals with intellectual disabilities.

Wilma Townsend, M.S.W.

Wilma Townsend, M.S.W., is presently a Public Health Analyst at the Center for Mental Health Services in the Consumer Affairs Office of SAMHSA and is working on the Recovery to Practice project, the 10x10 Wellness and the service definitions for recovery. Ms. Townsend was previously the President of WLT Consulting, a consulting firm that specialized in Mental Health Recovery, Consumer Involvement and Cultural Competence. She is a recognized national consumer leader in the recovery movement and has written two books in this area, Emerging Best Practices in Mental Health Recovery, Edition 1 and 2, and Consumers in the Mental Health Workforce: A Handbook for Community Providers. Ms. Townsend also has written numerous articles on the subject, as well the prologue and epilogue for the book Treatment Planning for Person-Centered Care, The Road to Mental Health and Addiction Recovery. Ms. Townsend has also been a member of SAMHSA workgroups that developed the National Standards on Cultural Competence and the National Paper on Mental Health Recovery and has consulted in most states and Canada. Additionally, she has been a leader on national issues of cultural competence, helping many organizations make changes so that disparities in access to care are minimized and the quality of care received by people of color is enhanced.

Impact of the Mental Health Services Act (Proposition 63) on California's Public Mental Health System

Lecturer: Sandra Naylor Goodwin, Ph.D., M.S.W.

Chair: Rishi Gautam, M.D.

Co-Chair: Helen Ryu, M.D.

Sandra Naylor Goodwin, Ph.D., M.S.W., is the founding President and CEO of CiMH, and has 30 years of professional experience in the behavioral health field. This experience includes administration, treatment, service methodologies, planning and policy development at the county and state levels. Dr. Goodwin is currently developing strategies for implementation of healthcare reform as it applies to behavioral health, which includes focus on the bi-directional integration of mental health, substance use and primary healthcare. Over the last several years CiMH has been responsible for policy development, training and technical assistance to support the Mental Health Services Act (Proposition 63), which California voters passed in November 2004. The MHSA focuses on transformation of mental health services, by concentrating on recovery, resiliency, cultural competency, and reduction of disparities. As principal consultant to the Assembly Health Committee of the California Legislature, Dr. Goodwin was influential in development of several pieces of fiscal and program reform legislation, including mental health realignment, Medi-Cal consolidation, the California Mental Health Master Plan, and California compliance with the ADA. Dr. Goodwin previously was a practicing clinician and director of mental health and alcohol and drug abuse for Placer County.

Neuroscience-Informed Computerized Cognitive Training Exercises for Cognitive Deficits of Schizophrenia

Lecturer: Sophia Vinogradov, M.D.

Chair: Richard Harding, M.D.

APA's Alexander Gralnick Award

Sophia Vinogradov, M.D. is the Interim Associate Chief of Staff for Mental Health Service, San Francisco Department of Veteran's Affairs Medical Center and Interim Vice Chair of Psychiatry, University of California, San Francisco. Dr. Vinogradov directs a translational clinical neuroscience laboratory that focuses on cognitive dysfunction in schizophrenia. She studies neuroscience-guided computerized cognitive training exercises for patients with schizophrenia that aim to drive enduring plastic changes in cortical processing. Dr. Vinogradov uses MEG and fMRI methods to probe the brain changes in both early sensory processing and higher-order cognitive operations in subjects who undergo this cognitive training. She is also examining changes in serum biomarkers (BDNF, D-serine) as a response to training. More recently, Dr. Vinogradov has begun to apply these methods to the study of adolescents who are prodromal for schizophrenia and young adults in early psychosis, with the goal of delaying or preventing the onset of a deteriorating psychiatric illness.

Co-Chair: Helen Ryu, M.D.

Lonnie R. Snowden, Ph.D., has devoted most of his 35-year career to studying mental health and mental health treatment disparities, emphasizing mental health policy and systems perspectives. Dr. Snowden is Professor in the School of Public Health's Health Policy and Management Program at the University of California, Berkeley and he is affiliated with Berkeley's Psychology Department and with Berkeley's Institute for Personality and Social Research. His work frequently appears in the scholarly literature, with more than 140 peer-reviewed research articles, book chapters, and other publications to his credit. He has contributed to Mental Health: A Report of the Surgeon General and was co-scientific editor of Mental Health: Culture, Race, and Ethnicity: A Supplement to: Mental Health: A Report of the Surgeon General. Dr. Snowden has served as principal investigator or co-investigator on numerous awards from the National Institute of Mental Health, including an NIMH P50 award supporting cross-campus, interdisciplinary study of organization and financing of care to persons with severe and persist mental illness. Research awards have also come from numerous foundations and the California state government. He has also participated on numerous review and advisory committees for the National Institute of Mental Health, the National Institute of Drug Abuse, and the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, as well as for numerous state and local bodies. Dr. Snowden's accomplishments have been acknowledged in his receipt of awards from the American Psychological Association, the Office of the Surgeon General, and the Society for Social Work and Research.

Co-Chair: Rishi Gautam, M.D.

Patrick Tracey, is a PEN (Poets/Playwrights, Essayists/Editors, Novelists) award-winning author whose family memoir, Stalking Irish Madness: Searching for the Roots of My Family's Schizophrenia, recounts generations of mental illness in his Boston-Irish ancestry. The searing family memoir (part travelogue, part exploration of the roots of his family's illness in famine Ireland) won the 2009 PEN New England/LL Winship Award for non-fiction and a 2009 KEN Book Award from the New York chapter of the National Alliance on Mental Illness for making an outstanding contribution to the understanding of mental illness. This is Mr. Tracey's third book. The others, Military Leaders of the U.S. Civil War and Political Reform Leaders of Eastern Europe and the Former Soviet Union, were published in 1993 and 1997, respectively. He has worked as a copy editor and stringer for The Washington Post and a contributing writer for the Washington City Paper, where he won a first place Feature Writing Award from the Association of Alternative Newsweeklies for his coverage of the crack cocaine epidemic in the nation's capital. Additionally, Mr. Tracey's journalism has appeared in the The Washington Times, Ms. magazine, Regards, and The Providence Journal, among others.

Turning the Recovery Model Downside Up and Outside In Lecturer: Courtenay M. Harding, Ph.D.

Chair: Tammy Lavy, M.D.

Co-Chair: Lada Alexeenko, M.D.

Courtenay M. Harding, Ph.D., is a professor in the department of psychiatry at Columbia University, and was trained at the University of Vermont and Yale University. She is now the director of the Center for Rehabilitation and Recovery at the Coalition of Behavioral Health Agencies in NYC. Among her research endeavors, Dr. Harding participated in two three-decade NIMH studies of schizophrenia and other serious illnesses and found that many once profoundly disabled persons could and did significantly improve and/or even fully recover. Her study in Vermont is now considered a “classic” in community psychiatry. These findings, similar to nine other long-term studies from across the world, helped to create the Institute for the Study of Human Resilience in order to investigate ways in which people reclaimed their lives including getting back to work. To date, she has received 48 federal, state, and foundation grants and contracts for schizophrenia research and studies of mental health services. She has been the recipient of over 42 awards and honors including the Alexander Galnick Research Investigator Award from the American Psychiatric Foundation for “exceptional contributions to the study of schizophrenia and other serious mental illness and for mentoring a new generation of researchers.” Dr. Harding has published nearly 100 papers about schizophrenia, rehabilitation and recovery and has presented findings from her studies and clinical work at over 500 state, national, and international meetings. She has worked with 30 states, Australia, New Zealand, 11 European, and 9 Asian countries to redesign their systems of care.

Co-Chair: Deepan Singh, M.D.

Danny J. Carlat, M.D., is Associate Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at Tufts University School of Medicine and President of Carlat Publishing, LLC. Since resigning from drug industry speaker's bureaus in 2002, he has advocated for a phasing out of all commercial support for medical education. He publishes two CME newsletters without commercial support: The Carlat Psychiatry Report and The Carlat Child Psychiatry Report. In addition, he serves as the Chair of the Continuing Medical Education Committee of the Massachusetts Psychiatric Society. Recently, he has become interested in reforming psychiatry by encouraging an integrative approach to practice. He has written about this issue in The New York Times Magazine, and in his book, Unhinged: The Trouble with Psychiatry, which was published in 2010.

64th Institute on Psychiatric Services

APA's Leading Educational Conference on Public, Community, and Clinical Psychiatry

OCTOBER 4–7, 2012

Sheraton New York Hotel and Towers

CALL FOR PAPERS DEADLINES:

*Innovative Programs, Symposia,
& Workshops: December 16, 2011*

Posters: May 10, 2012

American Psychiatric Association

The Best System in Psychiatry for Maintenance of Certification • Self-Assessment • Performance in Practice • Lifelong Learning

FOCUS is the best system to meet Maintenance of Certification requirements of the ABPN, self-assessment, and lifelong learning.

In one subscription, FOCUS provides a comprehensive review of current clinical practice based on the content outlined by the ABPN recertification exam. FOCUS also provides ABPN approved Self-Assessment and Performance in Practice Modules that meet requirements for MOC Part IV and an opportunity to earn an additional 20 CME credits.

Each issue offers: Clinical Reviews, Patient Management Exercise, Seminal Articles, and a CME quiz with 20 hours of CME per year for the journal (20 additional hours can be earned through completion of the ABPN approved Self-Assessment Exam). All current and back issues are accessible online with available CME credits for your subscription year.

The ABPN approved FOCUS Self-Assessment Exam is an annual 100-question, multiple-choice supplement that allows you to earn 20 CME credits and the opportunity to compare your knowledge to that of your peers either online or on paper. Each question is similar to those used in board-type exams.

New for 2011—Performance in Practice (PIP) Clinical Modules

Three PIP Modules, approved by ABPN for the clinical chart review component of MOC Part IV, are included in a 2011 subscription to FOCUS. Screening of Adults with Substance Use Disorder, Assessment and Treatment of Adults with Substance Use Disorder, and Assessment and Treatment of Adults at Risk for Suicide and Suicide Related Behaviors are easy to use, paper-based PIP Modules. Completion of three stages of a PIP Module provides 20 additional CME credits and qualifies as a completed MOC Part IV activity.

FOCUS updates you in core content areas:

- Volume VII (2009): Geriatric Psychiatry; HIV AIDS Psychiatry and Psychosomatic Medicine; PTSD and Disaster Psychiatry; Sleep, Eating, and Sexual Disorders
- Volume VIII (2010): Psychotherapy; Personality and Temperament; Genetics and Genomics; Psychopharmacology: Treatment Resistant Disorders
- Volume IX (2011): Addiction Psychiatry; Bipolar Disorder; Professionalism and Quality Measures in Psychiatry; Anxiety Disorders
- Volume X (2012): Womens Mental Health; Schizophrenia and other Psychotic Disorders; Child and Adolescent Psychiatry; Depression

The American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology has reviewed FOCUS: The Journal of Lifelong Learning in Psychiatry and the FOCUS Self-Assessment Examination and has approved this program as part of a comprehensive lifelong learning and self-assessment program, which is mandated by the ABMS as a necessary component of maintenance of certification.

The American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology has reviewed the FOCUS Performance in Practice Modules: Screening for Adults with Substance Use Disorder and Assessment and Treatment of Adults with Substance Use Disorder and has approved each of these modules for ABPN MOC Part IV (clinical module) requirements.

The FOCUS Self-Assessment Program is approved for up to 20 hours of continuing professional development per year under Section 3 of the Maintenance of Certification program of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.

The American Psychiatric Association (APA) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The American Psychiatric Association designates the Focus educational program for a maximum of 40 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

To Safeguard Your Practice and Reputation, You Need More Than Just a Policy...YOU NEED THE REAL PROGRAM.

Proactive Risk Management Resources and Strategies

"Our psychiatric-specific risk management services provide you with the knowledge and the tools needed to handle not only the routine risk management issues but also to prevent potentially risky clinical situations from escalating into claims or lawsuits."

- Donna Vanderpool, JD, MBA
Vice President, Risk Management

Proven Claims Expertise

"We have managed more than 18,000 malpractice claims, lawsuits, administrative actions and significant events involving psychiatrists. All claims at PRMS are handled internally unlike other insurance providers who might outsource claims management. We are there for you - whether it is just an adverse event or a lawsuit."

- Jean Bates, RN, BSN, MPPM
Senior Vice President, Claims

Responsible Rates and Secure Coverage

"Rates and coverage eligibility are based on more than 25 years of experience underwriting psychiatric medical malpractice insurance. Our approach to underwriting assures you a secure source of coverage...one that you can count on to be there for you when you need it the most - now or in the future."

- Jacqueline Palumbo
Senior Vice President, Underwriting

You need a medical professional liability insurance program that is more than just a policy. Anything else is risky business. Trust The Psychiatrists' Program.
