

136th ANNUAL MEETING PROGRAM
New York, New York • April 30-May 6, 1983
AMERICAN PSYCHIATRIC ASSOCIATION

American Psychiatric Association

April 30, 1983

Dear Colleagues and Guests:

On behalf of the Scientific Program Committee I should like to welcome you to the 136th Annual Meeting of the American Psychiatric Association. The number and quality of your submissions have made it a most rewarding year for us.

The Psychiatry Update program, which was introduced last year, will again present half-day and full-day in-depth discussions of five topics. A more comprehensive articulation of these presentations will be available in the second of a series of review volumes: Psychiatry Update: The American Psychiatric Association Annual Review, Volume II. And again there will be a Sunday symposium open to registrants and the public; the title is "Violence."

Because of faltering interest, the Panels have been dropped this year. One new format has been added: the APA Component Presentations. This format allows components to make presentations at the Annual Meeting without going through the usual grading procedure.

Shuttle buses will not be engaged this year because all parts of the program are within walking distance of one another except the courses, which will be presented at the New York Statler Hotel.

As in the past, we would like to hear your opinions about the program during the meeting; our office is located in Room 529 of the New York Hilton. Our ability to make improvements each year depends largely on the assistance you provide through the evaluation questionnaires and your personal comments and letters. You may wish to share your thoughts about the program at our APA Component Presentation, "A Dialogue with the Scientific Program Committee", which will be held on Wednesday, May 4th in the Embassy Suite of the Sheraton Centre from 10:00 a.m. until 11:45 a.m.

Sincerely yours,

LOCAL ARRANGEMENTS/SPOUSE HOSPITALITY CENTER

The Local Arrangements Committee invites you to visit the Hospitality Lounge located in the Princess Ballroom, 2nd Floor of the Sheraton Centre. Hosts and hostesses from the metropolitan New York psychiatric community will be available to assist you in planning leisure time activities, answer questions or provide a moment of relaxation. Coffee, a restaurant guide and other pertinent information will be available. Staffed from 9:00 A.M.—4:00 P.M. Sunday, May 1 through Thursday, May 5.

Tickets for leisure time activities will be available at the Red Carpet Associates' ticket sales booth located on the 2nd Floor Promenade of the New York Hilton. The sales booth will open Saturday, April 30, 10:30 A.M. All tours will depart from the 53rd Street side of the New York Hilton. Please be prompt.

PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS

Local psychiatric institutions will present scientific programs Friday afternoon, May 6. A complete description of these programs is contained in the leisure time brochure, available in the Hospitality Lounge. If you plan to attend one of these programs you must sign up in the Hospitality Lounge by 1:00 P.M., Wednesday, May 4. Transportation instructions will be provided at that time.

FIRST AID

The First Aid Center will be located in Room 502 of the New York Hilton, open during the following hours:

Saturday, April 30 through Thursday, May 5—
 8:00 A.M.—5:00 P.M.
 Friday, May 6—8:00 A.M.—12 Noon

24-hour emergency care will be provided at the St. Lukes-Roosevelt Hospital; the emergency entrance is located at 58th Street and 9th Avenue. During the day, the First Aid Center will have a hotline to the St. Lukes-Roosevelt Hospital Emergency Room to facilitate the delivery of care. During hours other than those above, the emergency room should be contacted directly. The Hospital's Emergency Room number is: 554-7031.

EXHIBITS

Scientific and Physician-Patient Education Services Exhibits will be located in the Exhibit Center, Sheraton Centre; Technical Exhibits will be on the 2nd Floor of the New York Hilton. Exhibits will be on display Monday, May 2 through Wednesday, May 4, 8:30 A.M.—4:00 P.M., and Thursday, May 5, 8:30 A.M.—2:00 P.M.

EXHIBITORS' HOSPITALITY LOUNGE

This lounge is located in the exhibit area, 2nd Floor, New York Hilton, and is for the use of all registrants. Coffee will be served during exhibit hours through the courtesy of McNeil Laboratories.

MESSAGE AND LOCATOR CENTER

This center is located on the 2nd Floor Promenade, New York Hilton and will be staffed during registration hours, where registrants may get in touch with colleagues. Self-service message racks will be available for pick-up, deposit, and exchange of messages at all times. Extremely urgent messages will receive the personal attention of APA staff members. All registrants are requested to check the Message and Locator Center periodically.

APA Bookshop

Again this year you can buy books published by the APA and the American Psychiatric Press, Inc. at the Annual Meeting! This year the APA Bookshop will feature the NEW 1983 APA Biographical Directory, the Desk Reference to the Diagnostic Criteria from DSM-III, Madness and Government, and Psychiatry Update: The American Psychiatric Association Annual Review, Volume II.

These new releases, and ALL of APA's other popular titles plus more than a dozen audio tape sets, video tapes, and PKSAP V, will be available for inspection and purchase. (Take the books home with you and save shipping charges!)

Now, for the first time, you can pay for your purchases with your Master Card or VISA. Be sure to visit the APA Bookshop and browse through these important books.

LOCATION: 3rd Floor Lobby, New York Hilton

HOURS: Sunday, 8:30 A.M. – 5:30 P.M.; Monday, 8:30 P.M. – 11:00 P.M.; Tuesday, 8:30 A.M. – 8:15 P.M.; Wednesday and Thursday 8:30 A.M. – 5:30 P.M.

TELEPHONE REPORTS AVAILABLE

Brief daily reports on symposia, scientific papers, lectures and other meeting activities will be available by telephone nationwide and in New York through two toll-free telephone services: Convention Phone Program, sponsored by Ciba Pharmaceuticals, and 800 News, sponsored by Wyeth Laboratories. Telephone numbers will be published in the APA Daily Bulletin.

PRESS ROOM AND APA DAILY BULLETIN

The Press Room is for the use of reporters and broadcasters covering the Annual Meeting. It is located in Room 507, New York Hilton and will be open from 9:00 A.M.–6:00 P.M. Friday, April 29 through Sunday, May 1; 8:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. Monday, May 2 through Thursday, May 5; and 8:00 A.M. to 12 Noon on Friday, May 6. All sessions of the Annual Meeting, with the exception of CME courses and the Business Session, are open to registered press. Problems should be reported to John Blamphin, Director of Public Affairs. During the Annual Meeting, the APA Daily Bulletin is published out of the Press Room.

JOURNALS OFFICE

The office of the American Journal of Psychiatry and Hospital and Community Psychiatry will be in Room 517 of the New York Hilton. The office will be open from 12 Noon to 3:00 P.M. on Sunday, May 1; 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. on Monday, May 2 through Thursday, May 5; and on Friday, May 6, 9:00 A.M. until 12 Noon. Staff of both journals will be available to discuss authors' questions.

The American Journal of Psychiatry does not hold first refusal rights for any papers presented at the Annual Meeting; however, authors may submit them for publication if they wish. The Journal will accept for review only papers that are in final form and conform to the requirements listed in "Information for Contributors" (in each issue and available on request).

Hospital and Community Psychiatry welcomes the submission of papers and other material from the Annual Meeting. H&CP is interested in clinical and administrative material of value to professional staff members in mental health facilities and agencies, the journal's primary audience. Papers may be submitted singly, or papers from symposia or paper sessions may be submitted as a group for consideration as a special section. Material must be in final form, ready for blind peer review. For more details, please consult the journal's "Information for Contributors," published in several issues each year and available on request, or see H&CP staff in the journal's office.

It is the policy of both journals to publish only original material that has not been published elsewhere in any form and that is not being considered for publication elsewhere.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDIT

The American Psychiatric Association is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians, and the official Annual Meeting program, with a few exceptions, meets the criteria for continuing medical education Category I credit. One hour of credit may be claimed for each hour of participation. As an organization accredited for continuing medical education, the American Psychiatric Association certifies that the continuing medical education activities designated as Category I meet the criteria for Category I of the Physician's Recognition Award of the American Medical Association and the CME requirements of the APA.

All program activities including courses, symposia, paper sessions, psychiatry update, lectures, films, videotape sessions, and issue workshops are designated either Category I or Category II. Sessions designated as Category II are marked with an asterisk (*) in the program book.

In addition to the other Annual Meeting sessions accredited for Category I, seventy-one CME courses will be offered during the Annual Meeting lasting from one-half day to two days. One hour of credit may be claimed for each hour of participation. Two one-day courses on Saturday (April 30), three two-day courses on Saturday and Sunday (April 30-May 1), and six one-day courses and ten symposia on Sunday (May 1) have been arranged prior to the Opening Session and will also provide Category I credit. Admission to all courses is by Annual Meeting badge and course ticket only.

One of the criteria for Category I approval is that a program explore one subject or closely related group of subjects in depth; to claim credit, registrants should attend a session or course in its entirety and use the Annual Meeting Syllabus in conjunction with the session and course materials.

The Annual Meeting Syllabus contains space for registrants to record the sessions attended at the meeting. While the APA does not require verification of attendance for the CME requirement, it does provide this service for registrants needing it for state licensing requirements.

TO PARTICIPATE IN THE 1984 ANNUAL MEETING

To present a scientific paper, request a symposium, course, issue workshop, video or film at the 1984 APA Annual Meeting in Los Angeles, May 5-11, 1984, obtain a Form for Proposed Contributions in the publications display of the Membership Resource Center or the Scientific Program Office. This form was mailed to the entire membership in April.

The form contains complete instructions. However, PLEASE NOTE NOW that all proposals for the 1984 Annual Meeting must be in the Office of the Chairperson of the Scientific Program Committee, APA Headquarters, 1400 K St., N.W., Washington, DC 20005 by August 15, 1983. Otherwise they cannot and will not be processed for the Committee's consideration. Please note a change from last year: the full text of a scientific paper does not have to accompany the abstract but must be received at APA headquarters by October 3, 1983.

TAPE RECORDING POLICY

Members and guests at the Annual Meeting and news reporters are welcome to carry small tape recorders to any program session they wish. Larger professional tape recorders, however, will not be admitted to any session other than those carried by personnel representing the professional taping firm authorized to tape sessions at the meeting. APA has arranged with the American Psychiatric Press, Inc. to tape selected continuing education courses and symposia. Cassette recordings of these will be made available to all interested persons for continuing education purposes at a later date. The badges of personnel representing this firm will clearly identify them.

SCIENTIFIC AND PHYSICIAN-PATIENT EDUCATIONAL SERVICES EXHIBITS

SCIENTIFIC EXHIBITS

TREATMENT OF MASKED DEPRESSION IN A GENERAL MEDICAL PRACTICE (Booth 35)

William W. K. Zung, M.D., Durham, NC

This study was conducted to evaluate the Zung Self-Rating Depression Scale as a screening instrument, effectiveness of alprazolam in treating depression, and the medical benefits derived from early identification and treatment.

CARDIOVASCULAR PROFILE OF BUPROPION: A NEW GENERATION ANTIDEPRESSANT (Booth 24)

Baron Shopsin, M.D., New York, NY

In contrast to tricyclic antidepressants, bupropion produced no adverse effects on cardiac conduction at therapeutic doses and following overdoses, no orthostatic hypotension in elderly patients and in patients with TCA-induced orthostasis and no gain in body weight. Bupropion appears to exhibit excellent cardiovascular tolerance in man.

A COMPARISON OF THE EFFICACY, SAFETY AND EFFECTS ON PSYCHOMOTOR PERFORMANCE OF QUAZEPAM AND FLURAZEPAM IN GERIATRIC PATIENTS WITH INSOMNIA (Booth 7)

L. Lizbeth Monroe, M.D., Kenilworth, NJ

Forty-eight geriatric patients with insomnia received quazepam 15mg, flurazepam 15mg, or placebo h.s. in a 15 night study. Both actives were effective hypnotics. No psychomotor decrements occurred with quazepam; some occurred with flurazepam. No morning hangover, amnesia or withdrawal symptoms occurred with either. Quazepam had no day-time drowsiness.

MANAGEMENT OF CHRONIC, REFRACTORY SCHIZOPHRENIC PATIENTS WITH HIGH-DOSE LOXAPINE (Booth 43)

Larry Ereshefsky, Pharm.D., San Antonio, TX

Chronic, refractory schizophrenia is amenable to treatment with high-dose antipsychotic agents in selected patients. Specific criteria aided patient selection for treatment with high doses of loxapine. Loxapine demonstrated effectiveness and a satisfactory benefit-to-risk ratio when given at dosages substantially higher than those generally used.

COMPARATIVE SPEED OF ACTION OF AMOXAPINE AND DOXEPIN IN THE TREATMENT OF DEPRESSED OUTPATIENTS (Booth 21)

Leon J. Hekimian, M.D., New York, NY

Outpatients with depressive illness were treated with amoxapine or doxepin for four weeks. Although patients in both groups improved during the study, significantly more amoxapine-treated patients achieved improvement within the first treatment week.

INTENSIVE TREATMENT OF DRUG-REFRACTORY CHRONIC SCHIZOPHRENICS: DOSES AND PLASMA CONCENTRATIONS (Booth 31)

Leo E. Hollister, M.D., Palo Alto, CA

A clinical study of eleven highly treatment-resistant schizophrenics. Patients were treated with a neuroleptic thiothixene, in dosages ranging up to 480 mg/day. All pertinent data will be shown.

TRAZODONE OVERDOSAGE: EXPERIENCE FROM POISON INFORMATION SERVICE AND VOLUNTARY REPORTS: A PRELIMINARY ANALYSIS (Booth 20)

Louis A. Faillace, M.D., Houston, TX

Based on the U.K. National Poison Information Service data and the voluntary reports received in the U.S., preliminary data suggests a pattern of minimal toxicity when trazodone is taken in overdose.

COMPUTERIZED AUTOMATED PSYCHOPHYSIOLOGICAL SCAN (CAPscan) IN PSYCHIATRIC RESEARCH: LEVEL I (ACscan) (Booth 3)

Charles F. Stroebel, Ph.D., M.D., Hartford, CT

The initial phase of a non-invasive scanning procedure for investigating the psychophysiological concomitants of psychiatric illness is presented. Emphasis is on the statistical detection and display of computerized EEG activity from psychiatric inpatients. The procedure is discussed in terms of potential applications for diagnostic and neuroactive drug-interaction research.

DIAGNOSIS AND TREATMENT WITH TRICYCLIC ANTIDEPRESSANTS (Booth 9)

Mark S. Gold, M.D., Summit, NJ

Recognition of depression as a psychobiologic disorder, and the use of certain laboratory tests in suspected major (primary) depression have led to increased accuracy of diagnosis. Major depression now can be readily identified by conformance to descriptive criteria, can be confirmed by results of neurophysiological testing and can be treated with a tricyclic antidepressant and psychotherapy.

A CONTROLLED COMPARISON BETWEEN TRICYCLIC AND TETRACYCLIC ANTIDEPRESSANTS IN THE TREATMENT OF PRIMARY UNIPOLAR DEPRESSION (Booth 14)

Paul Grof, M.D., Ph.D., Hamilton, Ont., Canada

A double-blind randomized comparison between doxepin and maprotiline yielded comparable results on overall safety and side effects but with doxepin achieving a significantly greater reduction in the total Hamilton Depression score than maprotiline.

A COMPARISON OF NOMIFENSINE MALEATE, IMIPRAMINE AND PLACEBO IN GERIATRIC PATIENTS EXHIBITING PRIMARY DEPRESSION (Booth 15)

Jay B. Cohn, M.D., Los Angeles, CA

A total of 57 depressed geriatric patients were studied to evaluate the therapeutic effectiveness of nomifensine maleate in treating depressed elderly patients. Both nomifensine maleate and imipramine were found to be superior to placebo treatment.

THERAPEUTIC USE OF INTEGRATIVE MEDIA SYSTEMS IN PSYCHIATRY (Booth 8)

Yoosuf A. Haveliwala, M.D., New York, NY

The non-threatening and known activity of television-watching by hospitalized psychiatric patients can be used as a stimulus and support for educational and social activities through the generation of appropriate and supported closed circuit broadcasts. This tool also provides a low cost method for information dissemination to staff.

PSYCHO-PORTRAIT (Booth 2)

Menachem Melinek, M.D., New York, NY

The Psycho-Portrait is a creative product produced as a form of self-supervision, reflecting the therapist's responses toward his patient. The therapist allows himself to draw and paint while free associating about a specific therapeutic relationship. The result is a creative product labeled Psycho-Portrait.

TREATMENT OF DEPRESSION WITH MAPROTILINE (Booth 12)

Christiaan D. van der Velde, M.D., Norwich, CT

Maprotiline was compared with imipramine in a double-blind trial of outpatients suffering from neurotic depression. Maprotiline and imipramine were equally effective and significantly better than placebo. However, maprotiline showed a more rapid onset of action and fewer anticholinergic effects than imipramine.

FLUPHENAZINE PHARMACOKINETICS: ASSAY AND CLINICAL IMPLICATIONS (Booth 41)

Larry Ereshefsky, Pharm.D., San Antonio, TX

Clinical utility of fluphenazine plasma levels is demonstrated by application to patients at the San Antonio State Hospital. The routine use of an HPTLC assay optimized the benefit: adverse effects ratio. Guidelines for the use of fluphenazine hydrochloride and decanoate are presented.

SITE SPECIFIC ACTION OF NEUROLEPTIC DRUGS IN THE BRAIN: AN EPIDEMIOLOGIC AND CLINICAL REVIEW (Booth 27)

Richard Borison, M.D., Augusta, GA

Tardive dyskinesia was significantly associated with the use of high-potency or high dosage neuroleptics and depot fluphenazine. Low-potency neuroleptics were negatively correlated with moderate tardive dyskinesia.

OPTIMIZING NEUROLEPTIC THERAPY: CLINICAL GUIDELINES AND THERAPEUTIC BLOOD LEVELS (Booth 16)

Irl Extein, M.D., Central Valley, NY

To obtain optimum results from neuroleptic agents requires careful individualized attention to dosage according to patient need and response. This exhibit will focus on both aggressive high-dose therapy early in management and low-dose maintenance therapy, with discussion of the role of blood level measurements as a guide.

BIOFEEDBACK IN THE TREATMENT OF HOT FLASH SYNDROME AND RAYNAUD'S DISEASE (Booth 29)

Elliot N. Wineburg, M.D., New York, NY

The use of biofeedback to change skin temperature is illustrated in two patients with physically opposite conditions: Hot Flash Syndrome and Raynaud's Disease. Each patient was able to learn to either warm or cool the skin, thereby achieving a relief of the temperature-related symptom.

PHYSICIAN-PATIENT EDUCATIONAL SERVICES EXHIBITS

SELF-HELP MENTAL HEALTH THROUGH WILL TRAINING (Booth 1)

Robert L. Farwell, Chicago, IL

This exhibit offers the demonstration of the Recovery Method of self-help aftercare for nervous and former mental patients at 1000 lay-run weekly group meetings open to the public. The method and group procedures were established by the late A.A. Low, M.D., in 1937.

DISABILITY BENEFITS AND DEPENDENCY: DILEMMA OF OUR TIMES (Booth 4)

Jose G. Puig, M.D., Baltimore, MD

This exhibit will acquaint psychiatrists and other physicians engaged in assessment of psychiatric impairment, in treatment of disabled patients and in rehabilitation, with the dilemma arising from the need for achieving maximal emotional support and acceptance, while preventing or reversing a trend towards crippling dependency.

WORLD FEDERATION FOR MENTAL HEALTH (Booth 5)

Roberta L. Beiser, Vancouver, B.C., Canada

The World Federation for Mental Health is an international, voluntary, multidisciplinary, non-governmental, non-profit organization for the promotion of mental health worldwide. It acts as a consultant to the United Nations and its specialized agencies, coordinates activities of its member associations and welcomes the support of concerned individuals.

THE INTERNATIONAL PSYCHIATRIC ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF ELECTROTHERAPY (Booth 23)

Gary C. Aden, M.D., San Diego, CA

This group is a non-profit organization of 350 eminent psychiatrists in the United States, Canada and Mexico which has now broadened its mission to include advancing the state of the art and making psychiatrists more aware of the advances in techniques and application of electrotherapy in recent years.

PSYCHIATRY SECTION OF THE CHRISTIAN MEDICAL SOCIETY (Booth 30)

David C. Kay, M.D., Houston, TX

Presupposing man as a creature of a personal God, the Psychiatry Section of the Christian Medical Society seeks to be a positive catalyst to therapists to be sensitive to man's religious or spiritual dimension.

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS (Booth 17)

Helen Turnquest, New York, NY

The A.A. exhibit consists of material and information describing the program of recovery from the illness of alcoholism.

TOURETTE'S SYNDROME (Booth 32)

Abbey Meyers, Bayside, NY

Tourette's Syndrome is a multiple tic disorder of the central nervous system. Frequently misdiagnosed or undiagnosed in the past, research is presently going on to obtain an earlier diagnosis and better treatment for those afflicted.

RESEARCH ON HOMOSEXUALITY: RECENT FINDINGS (Booth 39)

Stuart E. Nichols, Jr., M.D., New York, NY

Recent scientific data of clinical importance is highlighted in order to foster a balanced understanding of homosexuality and more appropriate services to gay people and their families.

REGIONAL IMPAIRED HEALTH PROFESSIONALS PROGRAM (Booth 38)

George D. Talbott, M.D., Smyrna, GA

This program envelops impaired physicians, dentists, nurses and pharmacists. The program is holistic in nature and is designed to identify, motivate, treat, and aid in re-entry of the chemically dependent health professional.

DEVELOPING AN EMPLOYMENT STRATEGY FOR THE MANIC-DEPRESSIVE PATIENT (Booth 40)

Mary MacClellan, B.A., Hoquiam, WA

Recovering manic-depressive patients are sometimes able to return to full or part-time employment utilizing a combination of the following factors: retraining through government or private agencies; tax credit incentives for employers; job search activities provided by the Manic-Depressive Association.

PHYSICIANS FOR CHOICE (Booth 6)

Kenneth Edelin, M.D., Boston, MA

Physicians for Choice, a project of Planned Parenthood of America, is a nationwide, bipartisan organization composed of physicians who believe in preserving the right of American women to decide when or whether to bear a child.

DATA RESOURCES OF THE NATIONAL CENTER FOR HEALTH STATISTICS (Booth 36)

Sandra S. Smith, Hyattsville, MD

The National Center for Health Statistics is the primary Federal source of health statistics. The exhibit illustrates the range of vital and health statistics collected and disseminated by NCHS and provides information and assistance in obtaining data on health, health services, health expenditures, and health behavior and attitudes.

Sunday, May 1, 1983, 7:00 pm to 10:00 pm • Imperial Ballroom B, Sheraton Centre

The boundary between psychiatric and medical illness is becoming less distinct, especially in the link between psychiatric disorders and heart disease. This symposium will focus on some recent developments that affect patient management. Dr. Rosenman will review the relationship between type A personality and coronary heart disease. Dr. Schwartz will update the intriguing connection between sudden cardiac death, the autonomic nervous system and psychological and physical stress. Drs. Klein and Liebowitz will present the unfolding story of panic disorders, anxiety and mitral valve prolapse. Drs. Glassman and Pitts will discuss the clinical consequences of using cardiovascular drugs in psychiatric conditions, and of psychiatric drugs in patients with cardiovascular disease.

FILMS I: CITY LIFE

Chp.: Allan Tasman, M.D., West Hartford, CT

To celebrate New York City and the 100th anniversary of the opening of the Brooklyn Bridge, this program will feature a recent prize-winning film on the building of the bridge and historical films of life in the metropolis from the archives of the Museum of Modern Art. Discussants will be a writer on city life and a curator from the Film Department of the Museum of Modern Art.

F1. BROOKLYN BRIDGE (58 minutes)
Director: Ken Burns
Distributor: Transit Media
P.O. Box 315
Franklin Lakes, NJ 07417

This film stirringly depicts, through the use of archival material and contemporary interviews, the building of the Brooklyn Bridge and its transformation from a spectacular and heroic engineering feat to a symbol of American culture of strength, vitality, ingenuity and promise.

F2. FILMED IN NEW YORK CITY, 1896-1912 (57 minutes)

Distributor: The Museum of Modern Art
Department of Film
11 West 53rd Street
New York, NY 10019

This program celebrates early filmmaking in New York City. The early filmmakers drew upon diverse cultural, entertainment and news sources: vaudeville routines, cartoons, newspaper articles, and magic lantern shows. They used close-ups, moving cameras, point-of-view shots, and increasingly sophisticated editing techniques. Documentaries, comedies, and dramas evolved with a filmmaking style distinct from later periods. We are fortunate that many original negatives survive in the collection of the Museum of Modern Art so that these films could be preserved, superior quality prints made, and selected titles circulated to educational institutions. The present selection ranges from New York street scenes in 1896, to D.W. Griffith's classic 1912 drama of the slums, The Musketeers of Pig Alley, starring Lillian Gish, and was originally compiled to be shown at the 1982 American Film Festival.

Discussants: Walter Karp (I), Jon Gartenberg (I), New York, NY

VI. HYSTERICAL PSEUDOSEIZURES

Presenter: David Spiegel, M.D., Stanford, CA

The use of hypnosis in the differential diagnosis and treatment of hysterical pseudo-seizures is demonstrated in this videotape. The occurrence of these hysterical seizures is shown to be a component of a post-traumatic stress disorder, and a psychotherapeutic method using a split-screen technique in the self-hypnotic state is utilized. The diagnostic methods and treatment interventions are demonstrated with an early session in the psychotherapy of a 32 year old woman who had a history of seizures beginning approximately a year after she was abducted and then forced to work as a prostitute under threat of reprisal to her family.

3:15 P.M.-4:00 P.M.

V2. SPELLS, FITS AND ATTACKS

Presenters: Lewis M. Cohen, M.D. (I), Terrence L. Riley, M.D. (I), Boston, MA

This videotape introduces the use of EEG-Video Telemetry in the study of classic neuropsychiatric disorders for the evaluation of hysterical seizures, falling attacks, and functional paralysis. This advanced technology permits the superimposition of patients' brainwaves on the video-monitor. Greater clarity can be achieved by psychiatrists in their understanding of the differentiation of hysterical and dissociative disorders from other related neuropsychiatric conditions. Three examples of pseudoseizures are seen including one which occurs in a patient who concomitantly has temporal lobe epilepsy. A patient with cataplexy, a component of the narcoleptic syndrome, is compared with two other patients who have sleep and falling attacks. A sodium amyltal interview is seen involving a patient who has functional paralysis of a leg.

4:00 P.M.-5:00 P.M.

V3A. ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE: A PERSONAL STUDY

V3B. UNDERSTANDING FREUD'S CHILDREN

Presenters: Ken P. Rosenberg, M.D. (I), David W. Preven, M.D., Bronx, NY

These two videotapes represent a documentary-type approach to training materials. Both have been successfully used in the education of medical students. The first gives a brief introduction to the pathology and incidence of Alzheimer's disease and then by a personal interview format, introduces Isaac and his wife, Helen, who has been afflicted for three years. The couple's heroic struggle and involvement in self-help groups is depicted.

The second part presents a series of interviews with young psychiatric residents, and explores their choice of profession and personal problems associated with that decision. On the video program, issues such as the role of personal psychotherapy experience, the response of friends and family to the choice of profession, and the resident's personal expectations and hopes are explored.

LECTURE 3

THE WILLIAM C. MENNINGER MEMORIAL CONVOCAION LECTURE*

LEGAL ANALYSIS: PATHWAY TO THE UNCONSCIONABLE?

Joel I. Klein, J.D.

Joel Klein, J.D. has participated in numerous major federal court cases involving the rights of civilly committed psychiatric patients. In addition, he has been active in anti-trust challenges to various medical and hospital practices. A founding partner in the Washington, D.C. law firm of Onek, Klein & Farr, he is general counsel to the American Psychiatric Association. Mr. Klein is also counsel to the National Association of Private Psychiatric Hospitals and the American Family Therapy Association. He was graduated from Harvard Law School and served as a law clerk to Chief Judge David Bazelon of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia and to U.S. Supreme Court Justice Lewis Powell. Mr. Klein has worked as a staff attorney at the Mental Health Law Project and, since 1976, has been in the private practice of law.

FILMS II: HEROIC MEASURES

Chp.: John B. Sikorski, M.D., San Francisco, CA

F3. HEROIC MEASURES (43 minutes)

Producer/Director: William E. Cohen
350 Parnassus Avenue,
#905
San Francisco, CA 94117

This sensitive, technically masterful medical documentary film examines the questions, "Should heroic measures be used to save a ravaged life? Who should make the decision: physician, family or patient?" The patient who is the focus of this film lost three limbs and most of his face in burns suffered as a result of an accident. You may ask yourself if you would have used heroic measures to save him or would have listened to him if he said: "Let me die."

The film was made by the same team which produced the Academy Award winner, Here's Looking at You, Kid, shown at the APA San Francisco Annual Meeting.

VIDEOTAPE SESSIONS

8:00 A.M.-9:45 A.M.
Trianon Ballroom, 3rd Floor, New York Hilton

Chp.: Judith H. Forgotson, M.D., Potomac MD

8:00 A.M.-8:45 A.M.

V4. TEACHING GERIATRIC SEXUALITY

Presenter: Domeena C. Renshaw, M.D., Maywood, IL

The meaning of sex, closeness, and touching are explored with reflections on the expectations, disappointments and satisfactions of marriage. The capacity to assimilate new sexual knowledge at a late age and change learned lifelong sex attitudes and behaviors after 60 is explored. Two couples are shown talking about their search for help with sex problems. Couple 1, in their early sixties, discuss the reality of intrusion into the bedroom of differing concerns about children, their own parents, finances, etc. Couple 2, in their late seventies, are newly married and talk about coping with death, divorce, loneliness, and the intrusion of old memories ("ghosts" of previous partners) into the bedroom.

8:45 A.M.-9:45 A.M.

V5. CONFIDENTIALITY OF HEALTH RECORDS

Presenters: Herman P. Schuchman, M.A. (I), Chicago,
Leila M. Foster, Ph.D. (I), Evanston, IL

A dramatized therapist's interview with a couple raises ethical and legal issues about handling parent information. A subsequent series of vignettes dramatizes the variety of demands made upon therapists and clinical personnel to reveal information from the official records. A model for record management is presented and an accompanying syllabus has been found useful in stimulating staff discussions of ethical and legal issues concerning confidentiality.

VIDEO PRODUCTION CLINIC A*

10:00 A.M.-11:45 A.M.
Trianon Ballroom, 3rd Floor, New York Hilton

Director: Edward A. Mason, M.D., Boston, MA

This new format provides an opportunity for clinicians and psychiatric educators to meet with professional experts in the area of video production, technology, and training, to discuss ideas for new videotapes, or to consult on videotapes in production.

Dr. Mason is well-known for his expertise in the development of video training materials, and the team of consultants includes outstanding producers and video technologists who will personally talk to participants and will look at video work-in-progress. The goal is both to promote the development of video teaching materials of high technical and educational quality, and to encourage members to produce and submit new programs for the 1984 Video Sessions at the Annual Meeting in Los Angeles. Participants are invited to bring 3/4" U-matic sets of any work-in-progress. Although pre-registration was encouraged, walk-in attendance by any Annual Meeting registrant is welcomed.

Consultants: Kent Kjellgren (I), Producer, Turner Engineering, Inc., Mountain Lakes, NJ; Dan Sheehy (I), Producer, Reflections Unlimited, New York, NY; Fred Simon (I), Fred Simon Productions, Newtonville, MA; John Turner (I), President, Turner Engineering, Inc., Mountain Lakes, NJ

PSYCHIATRY AND THE TRIAL OF JOHN HINCKLEY

Alan A. Stone, M.D.

Imperial Ballroom A, 2nd Floor, Sheraton Centre

Chp.: Robert J. Campbell, M.D., New York, NY
Co-Chp.: Mildred Mitchell-Bateman, M.D., Huntington, WV

Throughout his career, Alan A. Stone, M.D. has been sought by governmental, professional and academic organizations for his expertise in psychiatry and the law. After graduating from Yale Medical School in 1955 and completing his psychiatric residency at McLean Hospital, Dr. Stone taught psychiatry at the Harvard Medical School and studied law at Harvard Law School. In 1982, Dr. Stone was named the Touroff-Glueck Professor of Law and Psychiatry in the Faculty of Law and the Faculty of Medicine at Harvard. In the same year, he became an instructor at the Boston Psychoanalytic Society and Institute. Dr. Stone also is a consultant in psychiatry to Massachusetts General Hospital and to McLean Hospital. He was President of the American Psychiatric Association, 1979-80, and this year concludes a three-year tenure as a member of the Association's Board of Trustees. He is chairperson of the APA Council on Governmental Policy and Law. In addition to APA, Dr. Stone has made important contributions to the American Bar Association as a member of its Task Force on Criminal Justice Standards. He also served on the Massachusetts Governor's Commission for the Revision of the Criminal Code and was chairperson of the State's Task Force on the Regulation of Psychosurgery. Dr. Stone has written numerous books, most recently Malpractice and the Mental Health Professions, to be published soon. He was instrumental in the development of APA's position statement on the insanity defense.

Lewis Thomas, M.D.

Imperial Ballroom A, 2nd Floor, Sheraton Centre

Chp.: W. Walter Menninger, M.D., Topeka, KS
Co-Chp.: Alan S. Pollack, M.D., Belmont, MA

Throughout his professional career, Lewis Thomas, M.D. has advocated strong basic research as the crucial ingredient of future progress against disease. His dedication to such research has brought him many awards, citations and commendations. Dr. Thomas has served on numerous governmental commissions and became Dean of the Yale University School of Medicine in 1972. Now Chancellor of the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center and a member of the National Advisory Council on Aging at the National Institutes of Health; Dr. Thomas is a prolific writer. He is the recipient of 16 honorary degrees for his work in medicine and has also received many special awards for his contributions to science, education, journalism, and the arts. Among these awards are the 1981 American Book Award for The Medusa and the Snail, and a 1982 Award for Excellence in Science Communication from the Scientists' Institute for Public Information. He is a member of the Harvard University Board of Overseers and a member of the boards of trustees of 21 other organizations. Dr. Thomas was graduated from Harvard Medical School in 1937. He completed his residency in neurology at the Neurological Institute of New York.

Georgian Ballroom Suite A, 3rd Floor, Sheraton Centre

I PROVIDERS AND MENTAL HEALTH CARE COSTS*

Chp.: Allan Beigel, M.D., Tucson, AZ
Co-Chp.: Jay Cutler, L.L.D. (I), Washington, DC
Participants: Steven S. Sharfstein, M.D., Sam Muszynski, M.S.W. (I), Washington, DC; Richard Frank, Ph.D. (I), Pittsburgh, PA; Thomas McGuire, Ph.D. (I), Boston, MA

This Forum will examine issues related to the cost of mental health care and the role of providers. Models for considering what factors, other than providers, influence mental health care costs will be presented. These include examination of issues regarding 'where' services are provided, 'what' services are provided, 'to whom' they are provided, and 'how much' service should be provided. The interaction of each of these variables with providers will be explored in the presentation and discussion. Based upon this model, several strategies will be suggested which could lead to a positive impact by psychiatrists on mental health care costs.

12 Noon-1:45 P.M.

2 CRITICAL ISSUES IN PSYCHIATRY RESIDENCY TRAINING*

Georgian Ballroom Suite B, 3rd Floor, Sheraton Centre

Chp.: Robert E. Hales, M.D., Bethesda, MD
Co-Chp.: Jeffrey M. Jonas, M.D., Belmont, MA

Participants: Donald G. Langsley, M.D., Evanston, IL; Jonathan F. Borus, M.D., Boston, MA; Joel Yager, M.D., Los Angeles, CA; Veva H. Zimmerman, M.D., New York, NY; Ernest A. Kendrick, M.D., Stafford, TX; Wendy J. Bernstein, M.D., New York, NY; Glen Elliott, M.D., Belmont, MA

A number of issues of particular interest to psychiatry residents will be discussed: educational, personal, transition, and career issues. The Forum will feature a resident presenter from each of the APA's residency fellowship programs and the APA Committee of Residents. Brief responses will be provided by senior faculty members; active audience participation will be an integral part of the Forum.

FILMS III: NOON FEATURE

F4. HESTER STREET (90 minutes) 1975

Director: Joan Micklin Silver
Distributor: Cinema 5
1500 Broadway
New York, NY 10036

The 1983 APA noon film program features movies made in and about New York--and what better way to open than with Hester Street. This affecting film is one of the best "small" productions of the Seventies, and in its modest way offers a trenchant study of the central Manhattan experience--the integration of the immigrant into American society.

The last great wave of Jewish emigration occurred at the century's turn, when the Jews of Eastern Europe fled poverty and persecution for the seductive promises of the "golden land." Their predecessors had often journeyed deep into the American heartland, to become almost thoroughly "Americanized." But Eastern European Jewry would reinvent foreign folkways wholesale within the crowded ghettos that quickly sprang up in the great Eastern coastal cities.

Hester Street, in its description of one couple's conflicts with assimilation, illuminates common problems of the day. Steven Keats is admirable as the ambitious, shallow husband, but Carol Kane steals the film as the "greenhorn" child bride who transforms herself into the lovely, iron-willed survivor of her husband's faithlessness. Silver has recreated the life of sweatshop, cafe, and pushcart filled streets with compelling authenticity.

V6. VIETNAM WAR MEMORIAL*

Producer: CBS News, New York, NY

This short documentary produced by CBS News and shown on the CBS Sunday Morning program poignantly captured the mood of the country as Veterans Day 1982 approached, and the memorial for those lost in Vietnam was dedicated in Washington, while at the same time a smaller but deeply significant memorial was unveiled in Vermont.

12:15 P.M.-1:15 P.M.

V7. FRANK: A VIETNAM VETERAN*

Producers: Fred Simon (I), Fred Simon Productions, Newtonville, MA; Vince Canzoneri, (I), WGBH, Boston, MA

This gripping and controversial documentary was nationally televised. It is an intensely emotional account of one veteran's Vietnam war experience and his subsequent struggle with chronic post-traumatic stress syndrome.

Jonas Salk, M.D.

Imperial Ballroom A, 2nd Floor, Sheraton Centre

Chp.: George Tarjan, M.D., Los Angeles, CA

Co-Chp.: Benjamin Liptzin, M.D., Belmont, MA

The bacteriological and epidemiological research conducted by Jonas Salk, M.D. has produced one of American medicine's greatest triumphs over infectious disease, the development in 1955 of the first vaccine for poliomyelitis. During that year, Dr. Salk received the Congressional Gold Medal, the Presidential Citation, the Pennsylvania Medal for Meritorious Service and numerous international awards. Throughout his career, which began when he earned his medical degree from New York University College of Medicine in 1939, Dr. Salk has been dedicated to research and teaching. He has been a member of the Expert Advisory Panel on Virus Diseases of the World Health Organization since 1951 and has received several honorary degrees from U.S. and international universities. In 1975, he became the founding director of the Salk Institute for Biological Research. He received the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 1977. The author of more than 100 scientific articles, Dr. Salk also has written three books, most recently, World Population and Human Values: A New Reality, with co-author Jonathan Salk.

FILMS IV: WOMEN'S ISSUES

Chp.: Roy G. Fitzgerald, M.D., Swarthmore, PA

This group of films is intended to portray, in a variety of documentary and fictional settings, the oppression and hopefully the empowerment of women in relation to their own bodies, and to men.

F5. THE BENT TREE (4 minutes)

Director: Sally Heckel
Distributor: Texture Films
1600 Broadway
New York, NY 10019

This is a beautiful, earthy animation of a Yiddish folk song, with English translation, about some of the vicissitudes of a mother/child relationship. It is a poetic introduction to a young and versatile New York filmmaker.

F6. A JURY OF HER PEERS (30 minutes)

Director: Sally Heckel
Distributor: Texture Films
1600 Broadway
New York, NY 10019

This film is an intense, gripping and searing presentation of an apparent homicide in a tragic and oppressive domestic situation as seen on the one side by the sheriff and his male companion, and on the other side by the sheriff's wife and her female companion. The film is based on a story by the rediscovered midwestern feminist writer, Susan Glaspel.

F7. WARRIORS' WOMEN (27 minutes)

Director: Dorothy Tod
Distributor: Dorothy Tod Films
P.O. Box 315
Franklin Lakes, NY 07417

This is a powerful and painfully candid film in which five wives of men who are Vietnam veterans bare the grim reality of living with and caring about men who are haunted by the nightmares they lived in the service of their country. "A simple but powerful documentary...a noble elegy to the women who found themselves targets of a nightmare"...Boston Herald American.

F8. SOLDIER GIRLS (87 minutes)

Directors: Nick Broomfield and Joan Churchill
Distributor: Churchill Films
662 North Robertson Boulevard
Los Angeles, CA 90069

This is a riveting account of the experience of a group of young women newly inducted into the Army and followed through basic training. The film shows the painful adjustment to military life that some of these young women are able to make and some are not.

Discussants: Sally Heckel (I), Rachel Brownstein, Ph.D. (I), New York, NY; Susan Shively, M.D., Philadelphia, PA

V8. AND FATHER MAKES THREE: PATERNAL ATTITUDES AND ADAPTATION

Presenters: Clarice J. Kestenbaum, M.D., Ilana Kochen, M.D. (I), Pat Sullivan (I), New York, NY

Six young fathers are interviewed about various attitudes toward their newborn children and the changes fatherhood made in their lives. They discuss changes in self concept, relationships with wives and parents, envy of their wives' maternal role, recollections of sibling rivalry, and fantasies and expectations about their developing relationships with their children.

2:55 P.M.-4:00 P.M.

V9. FAMILY CONSULTATION ASSESSMENT AND INTERVENTION

Presenters: Ian E. Alger, M.D., New York; NY, H. James Lurie, M.D., Seattle, WA

This videotape demonstrates a family consultation with a therapist and a multi-problem family where the adolescent step-son is the identified patient. The family group includes the mother, her third husband, the adolescent boy, and two younger children. This is a family which has suffered many separations and losses and the consultation illustrates methods of making entry with such a family, assessing the deprivation involved, and making interventions, with the direction of the treatment being finally returned to the primary therapist.

4:00 P.M.-5:00 P.M.

V10. SEXUAL ABUSE: A MULTIMODALITY APPROACH TO TREATMENT

Presenters: William T. Terry, M.D., Samuel M. Basta, M.A. (I), Susan Orr, M.A. (I), Reno, NV

The sexual abuse of children is an immense and complex problem, with estimates of sexually-abused children running into the millions. Treatment for such traumatized families is critical and this videotape will address some of the dynamics operating in families of sexually abused children. The videotape will show an initial interview with the mother and daughter, and in addition to illustrating the usefulness of art therapy in the treatment, will highlight the use of anatomically correct dolls in establishing the circumstances of the sexual abuse, and in facilitating the family in its working through of the traumatic experience.

SOCIETY FACES A LIFE CRISIS*

Isaac Asimov

Imperial Ballroom A, 2nd Floor, Sheraton Centre

Chp.: Lester Grinspoon, M.D., Boston, MA
Co-Chp.: Virginia A. Sadock, M.D., New York, NY

Isaac Asimov, author of almost 300 books, is one of America's most prolific and best known writers in science fiction, mathematics, literature, and the sciences. In addition to his well-known Foundation series, Asimov has written about subjects as diverse as the Earth's elements and minerals, literature, and history. Born in Russia, he moved to the United States at the age of three and became a naturalized citizen when he was eight. Asimov earned his bachelor of science degree from Columbia University, where he studied chemistry; he received his doctoral degree in biochemistry from Columbia. In addition to his ongoing dedication to writing, Asimov now is professor of biochemistry at Boston University School of Medicine. He has received the James T. Grady Award from the American Chemical Society and the AAAS-Westinghouse Science Writing Award. Characterizing himself as "avid to learn and avid to teach," Asimov considers himself "fortunate to be born with a restless and efficient brain...As you see, none of this is to my credit. I am the beneficiary of a lucky break in the genetic sweepstakes."

F9. KNIFE IN THE HEAD (108 minutes), 1980

Director: Reinhard Hauff

Distributor: New Yorker Films
16 West 61st Street
New York, NY 10023

Knife in the Head is an absolutely unique combination of meticulous medical documentary and existential thriller. Bertold Hoffman, an apolitical, schizoid geneticist has recently been left by his wife for her leftist lover. She now works at an urban youth center, thought by the authorities to front for terrorist activity. While visiting his wife there, Hoffman is caught up in a police raid and shot through the head by a rookie cop. He awakens in an intensive care unit, amnesic, aphasic, and partially hemiplegic. A bitter controversy swirls around him. Radicals call him a victim of police brutality, the police claim he pulled a knife before he was shot, right wing factions brand him a dangerous crypto-revolutionary. During a tortuous recovery Hoffman literally reforges his identity. His vision of the "new" Germany deepens and darkens, as he examines the cherished suppositions of the engaged left and right with disconcertingly fresh eyes. His attempts to reconstruct the truth of his wounding culminates in an eerie and catastrophic confrontation with his attacker. Vincent Canby of the New York Times applauded Bruno Ganz's portrayal of Hoffman for evincing "the sort of film presence that finds power even in utter passivity..." Seamlessly directed, acted, and photographed, Knife in the Head has not received much exposure since opening to impressive American reviews, yet it is as compelling as any work of Herzog, Fassbinder and Wenders.

FILMS VI: MEMBERS' FILMS: THE HANDICAPPED

Chp.: Roy G. Fitzgerald, M.D., Swarthmore, PA

F10. DYSTONIA (30 minutes)

Distributor: Behavioral Sciences Media Laboratory
Neuropsychiatric Institute
University of California
Los Angeles, CA 90024

This well-done and unrelenting film portrays in ample clinical material and expert commentary by Dr. Marston, the seemingly incomprehensible array of symptoms of Dystonia Musculorum Deformans, a rare, tragic and incapacitating neurologic disease. The range of symptomatology is often bizarre and the course unpredictable. This film offers an in-depth view of several sufferers and their families showing how they cope with a frightening and socially stigmatizing disease and maintain hope amidst almost total uncertainty with regard to prognosis and treatment.

Discussants: Daniel E. Hubert, M.D., Barnett Addis, Ph.D. (I), Los Angeles, CA

FI1. TO CLIMB A MOUNTAIN (55 minutes)

Director: Rick Ridgeway
Distributor: Orion Pictures Corp.
 1875 Century Park East
 Los Angeles, CA 90067

This is an inspiring documentary which has been nominated for an Academy Award. It is about the training and climb to the top of Mount Rainier on July 4, 1981 of a group of eleven handicapped climbers including the blind, the deaf, an epileptic, and a leg amputee. This film, which was featured on HBO Cable TV nationally this past summer, intimately portrays the particular problems each of the handicapped had to overcome, the hazards of the climb, and their final triumphs.

Dr. Fitzgerald, an APA member who made the climb, too, has invited others who participated in this focal event for the United States in the International Year of the Disabled to join him in discussing the film.

8:00 A.M.-8:45 A.M.

VII. THERE'S A NUCLEAR WAR GOING ON INSIDE ME

Presenters: Eric Chivian, M.D. (I), Roberta Snow (I),
 Cambridge, MA

This videotape is an overview of a classroom project sponsored by the International Physicians for the Prevention of Nuclear War, and Facing History and Ourselves National Foundation, Inc. Classroom discussions with children and adult leaders exploring the reactions and thoughts the students have concerning nuclear war and/or nuclear weapons are presented. The leaders are non-directive, the discussions are open-ended, and include selections of students' comments in the third, fifth, seventh, and ninth grade classroom settings.

8:45 A.M.-9:45 A.M.

V12. GROUP TREATMENT WITH HIGH RISK ADOLESCENTS

Presenters: Edward A. Mason, M.D., Hugh M. Leichtman, Ph.D. (I), Boston, MA

The multi-problem child and family are difficult to treat because of mistrust, wavering motivation, isolation, and deficient functioning. Wediko Children's Services uses treatment groups as the primary mode of clinical intervention. This videotape illustrates the strategies and principles of such group treatment demonstrating the management of social skill deficits and the containment of the individual's fear of trusting, a phenomenon which frequently disrupts treatment efforts.

VIDEO PRODUCTION CLINIC B*

10:00 A.M.-11:45 A.M.
Trionon Ballroom, 3rd Floor, New York Hilton

Director: H. James Lurie, M.D., Seattle, WA

This new format provides an opportunity for clinicians and psychiatric educators to meet with professional experts in the area of video production, technology, and training, to discuss ideas for new videotapes, or to consult on videotapes in production.

Dr. Lurie is well-known for his expertise in the development of video training materials, and the team of consultants includes outstanding producers and video technologists who will personally talk to participants and look at video work-in-progress. The goal is both to promote the development of video teaching materials of high technical and educational quality, and to encourage members to produce and submit new programs for the 1984 Video Sessions at the Annual Meeting in Los Angeles. Participants are invited to bring 3/4" U-matic sets of work-in-progress. Although pre-registration was encouraged, walk-in attendance by any Annual Meeting registrant is welcomed.

Consultants: Pat Corbitt (I), Pat Corbitt Associates, Old Bridge, NJ; Glen Faber (I), Media Specialist, Marymount Manhattan College, New York, NY; Joyce Kobayashi, M.D., Denver, CO; Richard Moos (I), Producer/Technical Director, Instructional TV Facility, Bell Laboratories, Holmdel, NJ

COURSES 41-43

Course descriptions are available in the course brochure included with your registration packet.

COURSE 41

8:00 A.M.-12 Noon
Gold Ballroom, Gold Ballroom Floor, Third Mezzanine Level, New York Statler

THE LIAISON PSYCHIATRIST AND WOMEN'S HEALTH CARE

Dir.: Miriam B. Rosenthal, M.D., Cleveland, OH

Faculty: Raphael Good, M.D., Galveston, TX; Elisabeth Small, M.D., Reno, NV; Dennis Smith, M.D., Cleveland, OH; David Youngs, M.D., Portland, ME

Educational Objective: To teach the principles and practical aspects of psychological intervention by health care professionals in the medical care of women especially during the reproductive years. To stress how psychiatrists can teach these skills to their non-psychiatric colleagues in varying disciplines, while at the same time improving their own knowledge about these medical and developmental conditions. The ultimate goal is to provide women, and thus their families, with better overall medical care because of the preventive mental health aspects included. Fee $45.

COURSE 42

8:00 A.M.-12 Noon
Pennsylvania Room, Grand Ballroom Floor, Second Mezzanine Level, New York Statler

HOW TO START A PSYCHIATRIC PRACTICE

Dir.: Linda Logsdon, M.D., Southfield, MI

Educational Objective: 1) To examine the decision to enter private practice and the ramifications of that decision; 2) to inform about the actual issues to be considered when starting an office practice; 3) to help the physician integrate the identity of a physician and a business person; and 4) to provide an opportunity for the exchange of ideas and experiences of those in attendance. Fee $45.

Co-Chp.: Robert S. Garber, M.D., Belle Mead, NJ

In an era when litigation in medical care abounds, Thomas G. Gutheil, M.D., and Paul S. Appelbaum, M.D., have contributed much to the psychiatric and legal communities' understanding of each other. Dr. Gutheil is director of the Psychiatry and Law Program at the Massachusetts Mental Health Center. A 1967 graduate of Harvard Medical School, he completed his psychiatric residency at the Massachusetts Mental Health Center. Dr. Gutheil is associate professor of psychiatry at the Harvard Medical School, a visiting lecturer at Harvard Law School, and president of the Law and Psychiatry Resource Center.

Dr. Appelbaum is co-director of the Law and Psychiatry Program at Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic, the University of Pittsburgh. He was graduated from Harvard Medical School in 1976 and completed his psychiatric residency at the Massachusetts Mental Health Center. At the same time, he was a special student at Harvard Law School. In 1980, Dr. Appelbaum began teaching in the Law and Psychiatry Program at Western Psychiatric Institute, becoming co-director in 1983. In addition, he is assistant professor of law at the University of Pittsburgh School of Law. He is active in several commissions, including the American Bar Association's Commission on the Mentally Disabled, and the President's Commission for the Study of Ethical Problems in Medicine and Biomedical and Behavioral Research.

John E. Boswell, professor of history at Yale University, has been hailed as one of America's leading non-fiction writers for his book, Christianity, Social Tolerance and Homosexuality. The volume received the American Book Award in History and the Melcher Award in 1981, was selected by the New York Times Book Review as one of the 11 best books of 1980, and is one of five non-fiction nominees for the National Book Critics Circle Award. Boswell earned his doctoral degree in history at Harvard University in 1975 while on the faculty. The same year, he moved to the history faculty at Yale University. An expert on the views of various religions concerning family life and sexuality, he currently is working on numerous publications, including The Abandonment of Children in Europe from Rome to the Renaissance; Judaism, Christianity and Islam in Medieval Europe; and The Phenomenology of Homosexuality in Ancient and Medieval Europe. Boswell has received numerous academic awards, including the Graduate Prize Fellowship from Harvard, a Fulbright Fellowship to Spain (which he declined), several scholastic honors, and the William Clyde DeVane Medal for Teaching and Scholarship in 1982.

3 INTERNATIONAL ASPECTS OF THE ABUSE OF PSYCHIATRY AND PSYCHIATRISTS: I*

Chp.: Harold M. Visotsky, M.D., Chicago, IL
Co-Chp.: Frederick C. Redlich, M.D., Los Angeles, CA
Participants: Paul Chodoff, M.D., Washington, DC; Harvey Fireside, M.D. (I), Ithaca, NY

The Forum will discuss the abuses of psychiatry in various countries, particularly the Soviet Union, and will debate a strategy for the APA response at the VII World Congress of Psychiatry to be held in July, 1983 in Vienna, Austria. The APA Board of Trustees passed a resolution in June, 1982, stating that if there is not adequate response from the All Union Society of Psychiatry and Neurology of the USSR to inquiries by the World Psychiatric Association by April 1, 1983, that the All Union Society should be suspended from membership in the World Psychiatric Association until such time as these abuses cease to exist. In June, 1983, the APA Board of Trustees will again discuss these issues, and based on information received, will instruct APA's delegate to the WPA General Assembly as to what stance to take and as to how the APA wishes to vote on these issues. The APA Committee on International Abuse and Misuse of Psychiatry and Psychiatrists welcomes all participants in the Forum to voice their opinions and thereby have some input into this decision-making process.

+ At the time of publication, word was received that the USSR had withdrawn from the World Psychiatric Association. It is however, the view of the Scientific Program Committee that the issues to be addressed by this Forum are of such importance that the Forum will still be held.

F12. THE HEIRESS (120 minutes) 1949

Director: William Wyler
Distributor: Twyman Films
329 Salem Avenue
P.O. Box 605
Dayton, OH 45401

Great privilege and poverty have frequently rubbed elbows in Manhattan. At the very same time the immigrants of Hester Street were struggling for survival, many of the wealthy protagonists of Henry James and Edith Wharton were playing out their scenarios a few miles uptown.

The Heiress is a classic Hollywood version of Henry James' Washington Square, set in the elegant Greenwich Village brownstone of the widowed Dr. Sloper, an eminent New York physician who lives with his only daughter Catherine, a quiet young woman of limited prospects. Sloper is not unhappy with her spinsterhood; he minimizes her and exploits her presence for his own comfort. His comfortable modus vivendi is threatened when Catherine is swept off her feet by Morris Townsend, a handsome distant relative. Sloper's merciless exposure of Townsend's fortune hunting leads ultimately to a lonely and ominous maturity, in which Catherine renounces all male domination.

The Heiress came to the screen from Broadway. It features Sir Ralph Richardson repeating his stage triumph as the disdainful Dr. Sloper, Olivia De Havilland in one of her most complex performances as Catherine, and Montgomery Clift as a Victorian lounge lizard. According to Charles Higham (Hollywood in the Forties), "the setting and situation brought out Wyler's best qualities: a scrupulous regard for vagaries of mood, for inflections in dialogue, and for character relationships, as well as an unerring instinct for placing the camera in precisely the right position to catch his characters' most subtle and yet revealing reactions..." The film won five Academy Awards, including Best Actress.

VI3. MOONSTONES

Presenters: Donald C. Fidler, M.D., Jeffrey J. Andresen, M.D., Stanley G. Alexander (I), Chapel Hill, NC; Barry J. Fenton, M.D., Dallas, TX

This feature-length color videotape, co-sponsored by the Association of Academic Psychiatry, depicts a first-year male psychiatry resident's work with a thirteen year old boy who was referred for evaluation by the court after raping a twelve year old girl at knife point. The resident and boy work together for three months in individual psychotherapy, family therapy, and play therapy. In struggles with himself, the staff, and the boy, the resident learns about identification, transference, countertransference, parallel dynamics, and the importance of setting realistic treatment goals. The resident learns from books, journals, lectures, peers and supervisors, but his greatest learning comes from his patient whom he grows to love, while at the same time he realizes the limitations that such a love alone can have as a force in changing the boy. The resident comes to win valuable insights into what he can do to help people, and as the relationship between doctor and patient comes to a close, we find it difficult to discern who has learned more from whom.

Viola W. Bernard, M.D. has kept a vibrant interest in mental health, psychoanalysis, social issues and education throughout the 46 years since she earned her medical degree from Cornell University Medical College. Now a clinical professor of psychiatry emeritus at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, Dr. Bernard teaches at the Columbia Center for Psychoanalytic Training and Research. She is active in the Group for the Advancement of Psychiatry, the American Psychoanalytic Association, and the American Psychiatric Association. She served as APA Vice-President in 1971. Dr. Bernard has received several awards—most recently a Certificate of Appreciation from APA for her contributions to education and training of psychiatrists, presented in 1982. She currently is co-editing and writing chapters for an upcoming book about the relationships between psychiatry, psychoanalysis and social reality. Dr. Bernard completed her residencies at Grasslands Hospital, New York State Psychiatric Institute and Hospital, and the Bureau of Child Guidance with the New York Board of Education.

SUMMARY: A continuing problem of the clinical operation of community mental health centers is the recruitment and retention of psychiatrists to carry out the medical/psychiatric responsibilities for centers' operations. This presentation will explore the problems and issues that influence the attraction of psychiatrists to community mental health centers and their decisions to continue to practice in CMHCs by choice rather than for lack of more satisfying opportunities. Exploration of the issues will focus on four major aspects: a) organization of a CMHC; b) competition as an influence on the delivery of services; c) training; and d) scope of work, role relationships, salaries and fringe benefits. Audience participation will be encouraged.

FILMS VIII: WORK, COMPETITION, AND SUCCESS

Chp.: Allan Tasman, M.D., West Hartford, CT

The films in this group explore the role of competitive strivings and wish for success in choice of work. The films explore different aspects of these issues and should stimulate the audience to examine the effects of these factors in choice of work and job satisfaction.

F13. THE GOLD PIT (23 minutes)

Director: Pauline Spiegel

Distributor: Mirror Films
 335 Greenwich Street, #7B
 New York, NY 10013

This gripping film follows two traders into the organized chaos of the New York futures trading market in gold. Through observation of the men at work and at home, the film highlights the competitive stress the traders face in the pit. The effects on their personal lives are also shown.

F14. AFTER THE AXE (56 minutes)

Director: Sturla Gunnarsson

Distributor: National Film Board of Canada
16th Floor
1251 Avenue of the Americas
New York, NY 10020

After a successful career as vice-president of a major packaged goods firm, the central figure of this film is terminated with little advance notice or ceremony. The film focuses on attempts of a relocation counselor to help him recover from the shock and develop strategies for survival and future success in the world of business. The film raises interesting questions regarding the nature of success and the way the response of others influences job satisfaction.

F15. AN ACQUIRED TASTE (25 minutes)

Director: Ralph Arlyck

Distributor: Ralph Arlyck Films
P.O. Box 315
Franklin Lakes, NJ 07417

We see a filmmaker's personal journey through his own school and working life. As he tries to discover why one strives to be "No. 1," the feelings stimulated in this pursuit are portrayed. This is a film about the way we experience the notion of success - the obsession of "making it" that is an essential part of our motivation for work. It raises interesting questions about the appropriate weight this drive may be given.

Discussant: Pauline Spiegel (I), New York, NY

VI4. CRITICAL TRANSITIONS FOR THE PATIENT AND HIS FAMILY: A CLINICAL PERSPECTIVE

Presenters: Anita Menfi, R.N. (I), Norman J. Ackerman, M.D., Ian E. Alger, M.D., Susan Flinn, Ph.D. (I), Lawrence Grolnick, M.D., JoAnn M. Rivera, Ph.D. (I), Christine Scotten, M.S.W. (I), Patricia Kennedy, Ph.D. (I), Bronx, NY

Having a family member who is coping with symptoms related to schizophrenia is often an upsetting and confusing time for the entire family. Psychiatric crisis and hospitalization often create tensions that can interfere with the functioning of every part of family life. Consequently, clinicians in mental health settings are frequently faced with families who seem disinterested, overdemanding, defensive or intrusive. This tape demonstrates the value of utilizing the patient's family network in resolving treatment issues, and clarifies how the practitioner can assess and integrate positive factors of family support during various phases of treatment. Videotaped clinical demonstrations are drawn from consultations with several families.

3:15 P.M.-4:00 P.M.

VI5. DEINSTITUTIONALIZATION: WHO CARES AND HOW MUCH?

Presenters: Marion Zucker Goldstein, M.D., Evelyn Bromet, Ph.D. (I), Jerry E. Smith, Ph.D. (I), Pittsburgh, PA

Although it is well accepted that satisfactory deinstitutionalization depends on the availability of appropriate resources in the community, implementation of continuing appropriate care for the chronically mentally ill continues to encounter much resistance, and attitudes within the mental health system as well as the impact of social policies continue to affect these patients and their continuing struggle to maintain life in the community. Using a case study approach, personal interviews will focus on the patient's perception of available community supports and their social adaptation, mental status, life style and satisfaction in the available milieu.

4:00 P.M.-5:00 P.M.

VI6. VIDEOTHERAPY FOR EMOTIONAL RE-EDUCATION

Presenters: Donna R. Eyde, Ph.D. (I), Catherine G. Desalvo, M.S. (I), Omaha, NE

Videotherapy has demonstrated utility as a persuasive change agent for socially impaired youngsters. The "media is the message" as patients act as their own role models, viewing and re-viewing the self in a social milieu and assessing information about what behavior means in a social context. The cases illustrate video strategies for impulse control monitoring, social linguistics, and social problems-solving. Video techniques include instant replay, stop action, simultaneous self-observation, edited positive replay, and role-taking simulation.

F16. THE ATOMIC CAFE (88 minutes)

Directors: Kevin Rafferty, Pierce Rafferty and Jayne Loader

Distributors: New Yorker Films
16 West 61st Street
New York, NY 10023

The Atomic Cafe is a very funny and very serious feature film about the history and culture of the Atomic Age. It is edited entirely from propaganda films to recreate the atmosphere of fear, conformity, and official insanity which characterized the late 40s and the 50s. It is a compilation film of government, military and educational materials produced during that period to sell the atomic bomb to the American public.

The discussant will be Andre Gregory, star of that successful and unusual film, My Dinner with Andre (published in book form by Grove Press).

COMPUTERS AND VIDEO: THE LEARNING INTERFACE- Sponsored by the APA Committee on Self-Study Materials*

Chp.: Ian E. Alger, M.D., New York, NY

Introduction: Implications for Psychiatric Education
Carolyn B. Robinowitz, M.D., Washington, DC

Advanced computer technology, satellite broadcasting, the growth of cable networking, and the emergence of interactive learning with high-speed video recorders, laser discs and home computers, have spawned not only the popular video games, but also sophisticated electronic learning programs and educational advances which have direct impact on the professional life and professional growth of psychiatrists and all educators.

The APA Committee on Self-Study Materials hopes that this evening's program will be exciting and entertaining as it dramatically displays and explains the newest advances in video and computer technology. The striking educational possibilities give promise of providing new approaches in learning and new perspectives in the dissemination of information using the most current state-of-the-art video and computer technology.

TELETEXT: ON-LINE INFORMATION SYSTEMS*

Presenter: Peter A. Gross (I), President, Development and Information Services Division, TIME Incorporated, Video Group, New York, NY

Some interesting educational possibilities are beginning to emerge from on-line computer video services such as Time's teletext project. The video screen does not seem to provide an effective reading medium for lengthy text, but as it becomes more interactive with the rapid convergence of computer, communications and video technologies, our capacity to teach non-verbal skills and concepts may increase dramatically (with significant implications for traditional standards of literacy). Additionally, on-line services may permit the economic creation and, particularly with the use of personal printing devices, distribution of more individualized information and learning programs than do other media. Selected videotaped segments will illustrate examples of this innovative application.

ADVANCED TECHNOLOGIES: THE BRIDGE BETWEEN*

Presenter: Joseph Laferrera (I), Executive Director, Management Information and Administration Systems Division, BELL LABORATORIES, Short Hills, NJ

Acquiring and maintaining professional skills now means mastering ever-increasing amounts of information. Computer-based systems have made much of this information potentially available but not necessarily accessible. Advanced information management technologies offer unprecedented potential for bridging the gap between systems that house information and professionals who need access to information. Several of these technologies will be discussed and specific examples of their applications in training and information transferral will be described, assisted by the use of edited videotapes of the interactive systems at Disney's EPCOT, including laser disc systems and the touch-sensitive screen applications. Emphasis will be focused on the uses of the technology rather than the technology itself.

COMPUTER SIMULATION AND ANIMATION*

Presenter: Pat Corbitt (I), President, PAT CORBITT ASSOCIATES, Old Bridge, NJ

Demonstrating work with the DUBNER DBG-II Emmy Award-winning animation computer, this presentation will describe the integration of computer simulation and animations, as well as electronic graphics in training programming. Using the computer's ability to complement and focus human interactions, learning understanding will be emphasized and demonstrated by a number of videotaped examples. The current state-of-the-art and directions one can predict for the future of highly interactive learning applications will be included.

FILMS X: MEMBERS' FILMS: ALLERGIES AND SEX

Chp.: John B. Sikorski, M.D., San Francisco, CA

F17. ECOLOGICAL MENTAL ILLNESS DUE TO BEETS (30 minutes)

Filmmaker: Theron G. Randolph, M.D., Chicago, IL

This is the first known instance of a photographed food related acute psychotic episode of this degree of severity. Following a single blind intubation of beets and beet sugar, the patient is seen experiencing an acute psychotic episode. Lesser physical-mental sequences are associated with the test ingestion of coffee, chocolate, wheat and potato.

Discussant: Theron G. Randolph, M.D., Chicago, IL

F18. WOMEN AND SEXUALITY: A CENTURY OF CHANGE (35 minutes)

Filmmakers: Arthur Zitrin, M.D., New York, NY

Distributor: Altana Films
 340 E. 34th Street
 New York, NY 10016

This film examines 19th century attitudes toward the sexuality of women and compares them with views held today. The filmmakers use a blend of stills and other pictorials from many archival sources including the Institute for Sex Research, the Library of Congress, and the Victoria and Albert and British Museums.

Discussant: Arthur Zitrin, M.D., New York, NY

V17. MANAGEMENT AND TREATMENT OF THE VIOLENT PATIENT

Presenters: William R. Dubin, M.D., Philadelphia, PA; H. James Lurie, M.D., Seattle, WA

This specially enacted videotape vividly demonstrates, through five case vignettes of simulated violence and potentially violent patients, the most common dilemmas in the assessment and management of violent and threatening behavior. Included are the acutely psychotic, and the paranoid patient, the sociopathic patient demanding hospitalization, a patient threatening homicide, and a patient with a weapon. The tape is enhanced with overvoice commentary and graphic materials, including summaries. Conclusions and examples from an accompanying study guide will be used to demonstrate how the basic principles can be taught effectively to personnel in mental health settings.

9:00 A.M.-9:45 A.M.

V18. THE USE OF VIDEOTAPE DOCU-DRAMA AS A TEACHING TOOL

Presenters: Stephen C. Schoonover, M.D., Ellen L. Bassuk, M.D., Boston, MA

This videotape has as its major focus various approaches toward patient management, illustrated in the prehospital care of a psychotic man in which psychological management and physical restraint are emphasized. Part I shows how emergency medical technicians provide care for a floridly psychotic man who has barricaded himself in the garage of his home and who is threatening his parents with a baseball bat. Part II demonstrates an unsuccessful family intervention, resulting in the patient's losing control and requiring physical restraint.

VIDEO PRODUCTION CLINIC C*

10:00 A.M.-11:45 A.M.

Trionon Ballroom, 3rd Floor, New York Hilton

Director: Milton M. Berger, M.D., New York, NY

This new format provides an opportunity for clinicians and psychiatric educators to meet with professional experts in the area of video production, technology, and training to discuss ideas for new videotapes or to consult on videotapes in production.

Dr. Berger is well-known for his expertise in the development of video training materials, and the team of consultants includes outstanding producers and video technologists who will personally talk to participants and look at video work-in-progress. The goal is both to promote the development of video teaching materials of high technical and educational quality, and to encourage members to produce and submit new programs for the 1984 Videotape Sessions at the Annual Meeting in Los Angeles. Participants are invited to bring 3/4" U-matic cassettes of work-in-progress. Although pre-registration was encouraged, walk-in attendance by any Annual Meeting registrant is welcomed.

Consultants: Edward J. Dunne, Ph.D. (I), Director, Professional Studies, Kingsboro Psychiatric Center, Brooklyn, NY; Donald Fidler, M.D., Chapel Hill, NC; Robert Heller (I), Former Director, Audio/Visual Services, throughout his professional career, he is probably best known for his outspoken concern about the psychological impact of nuclear war. Dr. Frank earned his bachelor of science, doctor of philosophy and medical degrees at Harvard University. He received his psychiatric training at the Henry Phipps Psychiatric Clinic at The Johns Hopkins Hospital. A professor of psychiatry at The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine until 1974, Dr. Frank also headed research projects studying psychotherapy and psychiatric outpatients. In 1974, he was named professor of psychiatry emeritus at the University. Dr. Frank has served on advisory committees with the National Institute of Mental Health and its Task Force on Homosexuality, the Psychiatry and Neurology Service at the Veterans Administration Central Office, and the U.S. Office of Technology Assessment. The author or co-author of more than 200 articles, Dr. Frank has written six books, including two that focus on mental health during the nuclear era. He is a frequent lecturer on nuclear issues. In addition to his work in the United States, Dr. Frank has taught psychiatry in Scotland, Australia and New Zealand.

American Lung Association, New York, NY; Pat Hitchens (I), Writer/Producer, Washington, DC

5 DEINSTITUTIONALIZATION: VIEWS FROM THE BRIDGE*

Chp.: Milton Greenblatt, M.D., Los Angeles, CA

Sidney Malitz, M.D., New York, NY; Mark J. Mills, J.D.,
M.D., Boston, MA

The deinstitutionalization movement as a possible solution to the emotional ills of society was given great impetus in the 1960s. At that time, our nation's system of care and treatment of the mentally ill was in a sorry state—most hospitals were custodial, funding for care and treatment was grossly inadequate, public attitudes negative, community involvement minimal, research and training support seriously lagging. To what extent have these conditions been alleviated, and at what cost to families, communities, taxpayers, and the patients themselves? What has this great movement meant to the individual psychiatrist, to the profession, and to our relationships with other caregivers and providers? How shall we plan from this point on? These weighty questions will be discussed by a select panel of experts who will view the situations from multiple perspectives.

F19. SWEET SMELL OF SUCCESS (96 minutes) 1957

Director: Alexander Mackendrick
Distributor: United Artists - 16
729 Seventh Avenue
New York, NY 10019

Sweet Smell of Success was the last and best in a series of acrid deconstructions of the media superstar produced in 1957. (The Great Man and Face in the Crowd were the first two.) J. J. Hunsecker, a Winchell-like syndicated columnist, has flourished in a steamy milieu of innuendo and backstabbing for many years. A national television show now extends his clout from the purlieus of Broadway to the highest chambers of government. Hunsecker's only relationship relatively uncontaminated by his wolfish Weltanschauung is with his younger sister. When she falls in love with a gentle jazz guitarist, the columnist sets out to destroy him with the help of Sidney Falco, "a hungry press agent fully up to all the tricks of his slimy trade." Burt Lancaster and Tony Curtis, cast against type, are superb as the scheming Hunsecker and his seedy Sancho Panza. The chiaroscuro of James Wong Howe's photography etches vividly a nocturnal jungle haunted by a pack of marginal, perverse and glamorous Manhattanites, perennially on the make and take. Critics thought Sweet Smell of Success well wrought, but found its denizens hard to believe in (or stomach). Survivors of the narcissistic 70s should encounter no such difficulty. Only rarely shown, and usually at arcane hours, Sweet Smell of Success remains one of the most notable, final rehearsals of the film noir tradition.

THE COURSE OF PSYCHIATRIC DISORDER: A MODEL FOR UNDERSTANDING AND TREATMENT

John S. Strauss, M.D.

Royal Ballroom B, 2nd Floor, Sheraton Centre

Chp.: Gerald H. Flamm, M.D., Woodbridge, CT
Co-Chp.: Walter H. Wellborn, Jr., M.D., Tarpon Springs, FL

John S. Strauss, M.D. has made significant contributions to psychiatric research and its clinical applications. After graduating from Yale University Medical School in 1959, Dr. Strauss completed his medical residency at Boston City College and psychiatric residencies at McLean Hospital, and Boston's Beth Israel Hospital. He joined the National Institute of Mental Health, first as clinical associate and later as a researcher and chief of psychiatric assessment for adults. Among the clinical instruments he developed alone or in collaboration with others are the Case Record Rating Scale, the Psychiatric History Interview Schedule and the Follow-up Psychiatric History and Social Description Interview Schedule. In 1972, he joined the Department of Psychiatry at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry as Director of Clinical Psychiatry Research Programs, associate professor and, later, full professor. From Rochester, Dr. Strauss moved to Yale University School of Medicine in 1977, where he is now a professor of psychiatry. From 1977 to 1979, he was also director of the Yale Psychiatric Institute. Dr. Strauss is one of three U.S. representatives to the World Health Organization Program on International Collaboration for Psychiatric Diagnosis. He has written or co-written more than 100 articles, and is associate editor of Schizophrenia Bulletin.

Herbert Pardes, M.D.

West Ballroom, 3rd Floor, New York Hilton

Chp.: Shervert H. Frazier, M.D., Belmont, MA
Co-Chp.: Harold M. Visotsky, M.D., Chicago, IL

Herbert Pardes, M.D., director of the National Institute of Mental Health, has been an advocate of quality psychiatric care backed by quality research throughout his career. He is dedicated to advancing the public's and the medical community's awareness and understanding of psychiatric illnesses, to ensuring that psychiatric benefits keep pace with other medical coverage and to reducing the stigma attached to mental illness. Dr. Pardes earned his medical degree from the State University of New York, Brooklyn. He completed his psychiatric residency at Kings County Hospital in 1962. After serving with the U.S. Marine Corps, Dr. Pardes returned to Kings County Hospital and was director of its psychiatric services from 1974 to 1975. At the same time, he was assistant professor of psychiatry at Downstate Medical Center, Brooklyn. In 1975, he moved to Denver, where he was named chairman of the University of Colorado Medical School's Department of Psychiatry and directed services at the Colorado Psychiatric Hospital. Dr. Pardes was appointed director of NIMH and assistant Surgeon General in the U.S. Public Health Service in 1978. In addition to being an active APA member, Dr. Pardes has worked in numerous committees and organizations. He is co-author of Understanding Human Behavior in Health and Illness.

Director: Stefan Moore

Distributor: Humanistic Medicine Program
Mt. Sinai Medical Center
1 Gustave Levy Place
New York, NY 10029

This prize-winning documentary follows two medical interns and a junior medical clerk and focuses on their interactions with five patients: a demanding woman with chronic intestinal disease, a pregnant woman with leukemia, a somatizing patient, a chronically ill elderly man, and a man with newly diagnosed cancer. They talk to the camera about their emotional responses and meet in discussion groups with medical and psychiatric teaching staff. The film stimulates thought and discussion about the role of the intern and the stress traditionally experienced, as well as the optimal support and training techniques.

V21. VIDEO TECHNIQUE IN TREATING BORDERLINE PERSONALITY

Presenter: Robert R. Rynearson, M.D., Temple, TX

This videotape illustrates the technique of profile self-confrontation and uses an actual clinical experience with a patient diagnosed as having a borderline personality disorder. The tape includes segments of the patient's profile confrontation sessions, edited by her to display emotionally induced changes in her face. Included are the patient's comments on the changes which she perceived and her reactions to the treatment, as well as a demonstration of the dynamic changes in her profiles as emotions are experienced.

V22. EXPERIMENTAL USES OF LITHIUM IN MENTAL RETARDATION

Presenter: Michel R. Louvain, M.D., Maywood, IL

This videotape presents two clinical examples of mentally retarded patients who were treated with lithium. The innovative use of this medication in mentally retarded patients with uncontrolled behavior is of considerable interest and is given a novel interpretation using an analytic model. The first patient demonstrated is a 16 year old white female who originally presented unmanageable aggressive behavior with hitting, biting, and shrieking. Lithium therapy created a dramatic improvement in the patient's behavior. The second patient, a 30 year old black male, also presented some symptoms of severe mental retardation and lithium therapy was followed by marked change in his behavior and relationships. Included in the tape is an interview of both individuals with their mothers which should prove interesting to all clinicians.

3:30 P.M.-5:00 P.M.

V23. BATESON'S DOUBLE-BIND THEORY OF SCHIZOPHRENIA REVISITED

Presenter: Michel R. Louvain, M.D., Maywood, IL

This videotape shows several interviews with the patient who presents a schizoaffective disorder. The first interview includes the mother. Its aim is to demonstrate the special but obvious ambiguity (double-bind) in which the mother traps the patient. The presenter speculates that Bateson's theory of the double-bind has fallen into oblivion, possibly because it entails a pejorative judgment toward mothers. The presentation argues that although the double-bind theory has been currently somewhat discredited, it is still a useful hypothesis for the comprehension of schizophrenia.

Gloria Steinem

Imperial Ballroom A, 2nd Floor, Sheraton Centre

Chp.: Jean Shinoda Bolen, M.D., San Francisco, CA
Co-Chp.: Lester Grinspoon, M.D., Boston, MA

Gloria Steinem has been one of America's most widely read non-fiction writers since 1962, when her first articles appeared. She was among the founders of New York Magazine, for which she wrote a political column until 1971. A year later, she helped found Ms. Magazine, where she is now editor and author of the "Feminist Notes" column. She has written for numerous magazines and newspapers, and is a much sought after lecturer. A political and feminist activist, Ms. Steinem helped to found the National Women's Political Caucus and the Coalition of Labor Union Women. She serves on the board of the Women's Action Alliance and was a member of the International Women's Year Commission that organized the Houston Women's Conference in 1977. Among her awards are the Penney-Missouri Journalism Award, the Front Page and Clarion Awards, the first Simmons College Doctor of Human Justice Degree, and the American Civil Liberties Union of Southern California Bill of Rights Award.

F21. OVER THE EDGE (95.minutes) 1979

Director: Jonathan Kaplan

Distributor: Films, Inc.
733 Green Bay Road
Wilmette, IL 60091

Over the Edge masquerades as just another "teens-on-the-loose" exploitation film, but actually offers up an extraordinarily subversive vision of the American dream's dark side. It is a horror movie: the monster is architectural, one of those jury-rigged suburban communities that sprung up in a frenzy of real estate exploitation during the 60s and early 70s. Conceived in greed and executed in haste, New Granada was touted as a peaceful haven for angst ridden middle class city families. But developers forgot that a quarter of the community's population would be age 15 or under. Now, a few years after its creation, paradise is mutating into nightmare. Adolescents have no facilities but school and a Quonset hut recreation center. There is nowhere to go, nothing to do, little motivation beyond music, drugs, booze, premature sex and escalating delinquent activity. In sum, the children have become the menace their parents hoped to escape.

Over the Edge gives no pat solutions and is wryly objective about its antagonists on both sides of the generation gap. Rarely have young teenagers appeared so believable and likable in cinema, which renders their descent into yahoohism even scarier. The charismatic Matt Dillon (My Bodyguard, Tex) makes an early appearance as Ritche, the handsome lover whose death at the hands of a local cop precipitates the film's frightening conclusion.

Over the Edge was quickly taken out of circulation in 1979 because of fears that it would tip audiences over the edge (violence after showings of The Warriors had recently occurred). Recognition of its merit led to reissue recently with critical success, but little box office interest.

F22. CHILLYSMITH FARM (55 minutes)

Directors: Mark and Dan Jury
Distributor: Filmmakers Library
 133 East 58th Street
 New York, NY 10022

This moving and inspiring film was a Blue Ribbon winner at the 1982 American Film Festival. Chillysmith Farm was home to Gramp whose last years were memorably documented in the book Gramp. Now we meet the whole family, four generations who live together and care for one another through birth, aging and death. When Dee and Mark expect their third child, they question why birth should be more private than death. Thus Kristen is born surrounded by his parents, aunts, uncles, brother and sister.

F23. ROCK-A-BYE BABY (28 minutes)

Producer: Lothar Wolff
Distributor: Time-Life Video
 100 Eisenhower Drive
 Paramus, NJ 07652

Rock-a-Bye Baby explores aspects of the influence of early experience on development. The work of Spitz, Bowlby, Harlow, Heath and Fraiberg are presented, and topics such as aggression, early stress reaction, stereotypic behavior, various aspects of mothering, and attempts at amelioration of developmental deficits are discussed. The emphasis of the approach depicted is on touch and movement.

Dr. Prescott, who participated in the making of the film, delivered lecture #12 at the Annual Meeting and will act as discussant for this program.

Discussant: James W. Prescott, Ph.D. (I), Bethesda, MD

V24. SELF-HYPNOSIS IN THE TREATMENT OF MIGRAINE HEADACHES

Presenter: Moshe S. Torem, M.D., Dayton, OH

This videotape demonstrates a single session therapy of a patient with migraine headaches. It includes the medical and psychiatric interview, the Hypnotic Induction Profile (HIP), and the use of hypnosis and the teaching of self-hypnosis and restructuring to help the patient control the migraine headaches.

9:10 A.M.-9:45 A.M.

V25. RURAL MENTAL HEALTH: MORE THAN A CHANGE IN SCENERY

Presenter: Robert I. Fink, M.D., Seattle, WA

This video production presents interviews with four rural mental health personnel who explore their own experiences in relocating their practices from an urban setting to a rural Washington island. The issues of confidentiality, professional isolation, resource scarcity, differing value systems, and special treatment approaches are addressed openly and candidly. Discussion following the tape will focus on how the issues presented in the tape generalize to other rural settings. The implications of this material in helping to identify those psychiatrists who will or will not make successful urban to rural transfers will be explored.

BIOLOGICAL FOUNDATIONS OF CEREBRAL DOMINANCE: IMPLICATIONS FOR PSYCHIATRY

Norman Geschwind, M.D.

Royal Ballroom B, 2nd Floor, Sheraton Centre

Chp.: Miles F. Shore, M.D., Boston, MA
Co-Chp.: Harvey Bluestone, M.D., Bronx, NY

Norman Geschwind, M.D. is a world leader in the study of brain localization and the neurological bases of behavior. He was graduated from Harvard College in 1947 and from Harvard Medical School in 1951. In 1969, he was named the James Jackson Putnam Professor of Neurology at Harvard Medical School, and in 1975 became the Director of Neurology at Beth Israel Hospital. In 1978, Dr. Geschwind was appointed professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Schools of Health Sciences and Technology and Psychology. He continues in these three positions today. Dr. Geschwind serves on the editorial boards of six professional journals, including the Archives of Neurology and Integrative Psychiatry. He is a member of numerous professional associations and has been named to honorary membership in the French Society of Neurology, the Brazilian Academy of Neurology, and the Royal Society of Medicine of Belgium.

APA'S ADMINISTRATIVE PSYCHIATRY AWARD LECTURE

PSYCHIATRY'S COMMITMENT TO PUBLIC SERVICE AND TO IMPROVING PATIENT CARE

Walter E. Barton, M.D.

West Ballroom, 3rd Floor, New York Hilton

Chp.: Stuart L. Keill, M.D., Buffalo, NY
Co-Chp.: Gloria Faretra, M.D., Bellerose, NY

A respected leader in many sectors of organized psychiatry, Walter E. Barton, M.D. has made significant contributions to legal and ethical ramifications of mental health care services and to psychiatry's public service roles. He has published more than 160 professional articles and eight books that focus on mental health administration and law and mental health. His latest book, Ethics and Law in Mental Health Administration, is to be published this year. Dr. Barton is professor emeritus at Dartmouth Medical School. Prior to moving to the Dartmouth staff in 1974, he served in numerous public capacities. He was superintendent of Boston State Hospital and of the Worcester State Hospital. Dr. Barton was President of the American Psychiatric Association, 1962-1963, and a year later, the Association named him Medical Director, a position he held with distinction until 1974. Dr. Barton has also served as the President and Director of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, the Group for the Advancement of Psychiatry, and the American College of Mental Health Administrators. He was graduated from the University of Illinois, where he earned his bachelor of science and medical degrees.

WE'RE BRINGING OUR BOOKS TO YOU!

The American Psychiatric Press, Inc., the publishing affiliate of the American Psychiatric Association, is bringing the APA Bookshop to the New York Annual Meeting!

From Sunday, May 1 through Thursday, May 5, you can visit the APA Bookshop in the 3rd Floor Lobby of the New York Hilton. Plan a visit to the Hilton to see the complete collection of books and tapes made available to the profession by the American Psychiatric Association and American Psychiatric Press, Inc. (You may visit the Bookshop regardless of whether or not you are attending the APA Annual Meeting.)

Look for these new Spring releases:
Madness and Government: Who Cares for the Mentally Ill? - Henry A. Foley, Ph.D. and Steven S. Sharfstein, M.D.

The Affective Disorders - Edited by John M. Davis, M.D. and James W. Maas, M.D.

Terrorism: Interdisciplinary Perspectives - Edited by Burr Eichelman, M.D., Ph.D., David A. Soskis, M.D., and William H. Reid, M.D., M.P.H.

Lithium Encyclopedia For Clinical Practice - James W. Jefferson, M.D., John H. Greist, M.D. and Deborah L. Ackerman, M.S.

Biomedical Aspects of Depression and Its Treatment - Ross J. Baldessarini, M.D.

The Uses of Psychiatry in Smaller General Hospitals - R. M. Glasscote, M.A., Jon E. Gudeman, M.D., Allan Beigel, M.D.

Desk Reference to the Diagnostic Criteria from DSM-III

Don't miss this opportunity to examine all the current publications from American Psychiatric Press, Inc. — take your books with you and save postage, too!

FREE WORKSHOP on Private Practice Issues

1983 APA MEMBERSHIP RESOURCE CENTER

Help make your trip to New York City pay off this year! If you are a private practice psychiatrist, a spouse involved in the business, or have an interest in surviving in the business practice, you can't afford to miss these workshop opportunities.

A series of informal presentations by experts in the field will address subjects ranging from malpractice insurance and tax planning to computers in psychiatry. A quick glance at the schedule below should allow you to plan your Annual Meeting activities so that you, or a member of your family, can benefit from these workshops at no cost.

Each session will last one hour and will include time for questions and answers.
